SCHOOL BOARD

On behalf of the Board of Education and myself may I take this opportunity of expressing our appreciation to the parents, students and friends of Education for the co-operation shown in supporting our school program.

We proudly present to you the completed Renovation Program of the New Boston Public Schools. We firmly believe this functionally planned program stands among the best in regards to educational facilities and opportunities for the youth of New Boston.

Mr. Raymond E. Hall
Superintendent of New Boston Schools

James N. Warren
Principal

The Glenwood High School operates on the fundamental precept that the student should be thought of as an individual and that he should be considered in respect to his home life, academic ability, religious affiliations, athletic ability, recreational standards and his ultimate goal in life.

Only through an individual analysis would we be able to carry on a guidance and youth program that is worthy of the friendliness and warmth that should be instilled in the student's everyday living.

Each boy and girl who is graduated from our school should be better prepared to meet those standards which are required in the realm of our fast changing world of today.

CLASS WILL

We, the Senior Class of 1954, of the city of New Boston, county of Scioto, and state of Ohio, being of sound mind and memory (who can prove otherwise) do hereby publish, and declare this to be our last will and testament, hereby revoking any wills heretofore made by us.

I, Ronald Armstrong, leave my ability to raise coon dogs to Rose Marie Meenach. Remember Rosie, don't forget the "Pard" and the "Gravy."

I, Nadine Aldridge, leave my ability to put icing on cakes to John Mott. That's ice the cake, not eat it, John!

I, Faye Bear, leave my all-boys, one girl, job at the Ohio to some lucky Junior girl. Start that pop-corn machine then step back and let her go!

I, Donald Burton, leave my ability to play basketball and football to Doug Pierce.

I, Marvin Davis, leave my ability to contradict Mr. Caudill in Senior Science Class to Dean Aeh.

I, Arley Dutiel, leave my ability to become engaged before I get out of school, to Tom Spears and Ronald Plummer.

I, Judy (Dyer) Kegley leave my ability to be married before graduating to Laura Fultz.

I, Richard Elkins, leave my ability to become a "jungle bunny" to Harold Lawhun.

I, Jack Fremont, leave my ability to imitate "George" to Elmo Phillip Sebastian.

I, Carolyn Giles, leave my service men to Barbara Goodman. Write to them ONCE-in-a-while, Barb!

I, Phyllis Gulley, leave "Stanley" to some Junior girl who has a highly developed imagination. Remember girls, "Don't tell the gang secrets." (By the way, folks, "Stanley" is strictly imaginary.)

I, Ronald Hale, will just leave! That is, if I pass English.

I, Janice Hall, leave my dark rimmed glasses to Eugene Smith. This will help you make better grades in your senior year, Gene!

I, Carlos Haney, leave my "date-book" to Gary Bowling. You'll find that the out-of-town girls are more faithful, Gary!

I, Dretia Holsinger, leave my ability to stick with Home Economics to any Junior who wants to start all over again.

I, Roy Imes, leave my nickname, "The Toe," to Roger Gregory and Sid Boydston.

I, Barbara Jenkins, leave my "Light and Bright" to Fredia Blevins. Take it easy or your hair will come out by the roots, Fredia.

I, Larry Jennings, leave my beautiful Ipana smile to Milton Bloomfield. Remember Milton brush your teeth three times a day.

I, Mary Alice Jennings, leave my perfect control over my orbicular muscles (lip muscles) to Bill Manuel. Careful Bill, they sometimes lead to a bruising of the gludius maximus.

I, Billie Johnson, leave my red hair to Regina Arthurs and Sharon Wagner. Use nothing but "ox-blood," girls!

I, Alvin Johnson, leave my love and enjoyment of Shakespeare to Sharon Patton. It takes courage to possess this desire and still be in the midst of the Glenwood Gang.

I, Callie Jones, leave my ability to get a "Trojan" boy to Sally Brown. Remember the old motto, Sally, "Keep em' guessing."

I, Lena Rae LeCompte, leave my quiet disposition to Helen Horner also my ability to "handle" Miss Wheeler to Faye Griffin.

I, Jack LeMaster, leave my good looks and charming personality to Roger Hamilton. Well anyway, that's what the girls tell me!

I, Marvin LeMaster, leave my ability to "love em' all" to any Junior boy who thinks he can fill the job. Maybe Jack Allard will qualify for the job if he really tries hard enough!

I, Dale Lyles, leave my ability to have a voice that carries in senior science class to Frank Shuff.

I, Janet Magee, leave my dancing ability to Glenda Adams.

I, Donald Maple, leave my grease monkey position at Magee's to Jim Smith.

I, Verna Martin, leave my ability to keep the boys guessing to Shiley Kirk.

I, Emma Mills, leave my observance of the facetious and ludicrous situation of school life to Ronald Mershon. This takes endurance plus around Glenwood, but its alot of fun.

I, Roy Mills, leave my ability to chew gum and not get caught to Darlene Lands. (ha!) Darlene will have to contribute each day to the Korean Fund to keep up his good record.

I, Patricia Monk, leave my position as editor of the "Year Book" to Mona Jackson. This experience will help some day when you own your own "Newspaper." And to Joann Kallam I leave my Engagement Ring and my best wishes.

I, Glenda Parrish, leave "Ronnie", as he probably won't graduate anyway. Warning: Keep a check on your credits, Juniors or next year you'll have to do some hustling.

I, Paul Penix, leave Deanna in care of Pat Schwable. Take good care of her for me, Pat, that is until you leave!

I, Earlene Pennington, leave my ability to hold down a job and still make good grades to any Junior who wishes to tackle the job. Want to try it Gary Brady?

I, Donald Plummer, leave my ability to "hot rod" my Chevrolet around town. We can't leave this to any particular person as there is no one else quite so daring.

I, Phyllis Porter, just leave and hope to find a more interesting life! After four years of Home Economics, "How can you expect her to feel?!"

I, Jackie Semones, leave my enormous stature to the diminutive Ronald Patrick. Remember Ron, you must exercise daily.

I, Bill Seth, leave my curly hair to Lewis Sizemore.

I, Bill Sexton, leave my acting ability to Donald Aeh. This takes much study and most of all, perseverance!

I, Jerry Smith, leave my curly hair to James Thornsberry. Remember, Jim a permanent every six months and baby oil daily.

I, Patricia Smith, leave to Dorothy Hayes, all my traveling experiences! Dot, you must change schools twice in your senior year to keep up with my record.

I, Dean Staten, have to leave to my great sorrow! You boys won't be so anxious to get out of school once you become "draft bait"!

I, Mary Staten, leave my ability to always have my homework to any Junior who is foolish enough to try it.

I, Jerry Stephenson, leave my mathematical ability and scientific mind to Rosemary White. The "Brain" needs exercise so give it a little outside activity also.

I, Joleen Ticatch, leave my driving ability and my nickname "hot-rod" to Judy Bickett.

I, Coleen Tomlin, leave "Sylvester" (that's Stanley's brother) to Janet Warnock. You must have a real imagination, Janet.

I, Roberta Tomlin, leave my slender figure to Shelby Purdy. Remember, ten push-ups every morning, Shelby!

I, Pat Turner, leave my frustrated love affairs to Madelyn Walker. Madelyn, a box of aspirins go with this.

I, James Warren, leave my ability to be the son of our principal to any Junior who thinks he can accomplish this, especially at such a late date.

I, Jon Wickline, leave all that's nailed down and too hot to handle.

I, Dolores Wintersole, leave my four years of Latin to anyone who wants it. Please don't step on the ruffle of your stole as it is quite embarrassing.

I, Joan Wright, leave my chore of writing love letters to some Junior girl who thinks she can stand the nerve racking task.

I, Robert Yarnell, leave my quiet disposition to Ronald Yinger. He could stand a little of it.

I, Elotia Wilson leave my nickname "Sam" to any girl unlucky enough to get it!

CLASS PROPHECY-1954

In the year 1974, we, Pat Turner and Jackie Semones, private secretaries to Jim Warren, Jr., the manager of the Goodyear Atomic Plant, returned to New Boston to see how our former classmates were getting along.

Since it was our old hangout, we decided to stop at Joe's. Here we saw Mr. American Restaurant, Marvin LeMaster, still dancing. He quit fancy-stepping long enough to give us some information while we ordered our lunch.

First he told us that most of the Glenwood Teaching Staff had been replaced. As we suspected long years ago, Don "Duck" Burton was now head basketball coach; Janice Hall had become Senior Science teacher; Roy Imes had bettered himself slightly--he was now with the Cleveland Browns, after serving at Glenwood for a few years; Lena Rae LeCompte, still as athletic as ever, was teacher of Physical Education; Mary Alice Jennings had at long last taken over the Glee Club; Pat Smith was a Band Instructor; Dale Lyles was teaching Industrial Arts; and, of all things, Joleen Ticatch was Drivers Education teacher.

We sipped our Pepsi's while he continued. As for business management, that Salesmanship Class sure started a chain reaction. Ron Hale, after finally learning the meaning of responsibility, was managing Albers. Paul Penix, another marketeer, had taken over Krogers. Faye Bear and Phyllis Porter were jointly managing the Ohio Theatre.

The following news really surprised us! We did learn something from filling out those Income Tax forms in Mr. Rickey's class. Some people received such a big refund that they purchased their own business. Tom Mills and Bill Seth now had a chain of Gas Stations which sold Merford gas; of course, this was a combination of Mercury and Ford. Dody Wintersole had now moved across the street and taken over the Dog Kennels as veterinarian; Phyllis Gulley had moved to a better position. She owned the Telephone Company; Nadine Aldridge had bought the former Bluebird Bakery. After giving them practically all her money while in high school, Carolyn Giles finally bought the skating rink. Along with her household duties, Pat Monk was the owner of a huge magazine company; Judy Dyer, and her husband, had bought her boss out and now owned the New Boston Drugs; Coleen Tomlin, after winning several Amateur Contests, decided to become a dance instructor; and by having such a swell English accent, Jack Fremont had become the owner of a London Television Network.

Marvin had a heavy date and had to leave, so we summoned Glenda Parrish, hostess of this famous restaurant, to give us more information. She told us the following boys were now serving Uncle Sam--Richard Elkins and Jerry Stephenson in the Marines; Robert Yarnell in the Air Force.

Arley Dutiel had taken over Bill's job as truant officer. This was logical--The Names The Same, and truants still hid from a Dutiel. Dean Staten's ambition according to the Silhouette Poll had been fulfilled--he had his twenty children. After a long wait, Joann Wright had finally married Graley. Dretia Holsinger was a famous Square Dance Caller. Billie Johnson was a great artist for Look magazine, and Sonny Davis was Sportswriter for the New Boston Daily Bugle. Glenda had to return to her job so we left.

We started to the theatre. On our way there we met Don Maple, who now had a thriving business. He had taken over Asa Soward's position as Funeral Director. He told us that Jon Wickline was setting the world on fire as a noted scientist. We always knew dynamite came in little packages. Elotia Wilson also was in the news, she was a great oil tycoon in Texas. Another headliner was Don Plummer, he had just won the Indianapolis Speedway Races. Alvin Johnson was a top executive in an Insurance Company; and, of course, we weren't surprised to hear that Jerry Smith was still using his old motto, "No girl had caught me yet!"

We left Don and when we arrived at the theatre, we went backstage to see Janet Magee who makes 3-D movies, co-starring with Jack "Rudolph Valentino" LeMaster. She told us that Larry Jennings' good looks had led him into show business, also. Verna Martin had improved her position quite a bit since the classplay. She now owned a "Charm School." Graduates of that school were Emma Mills and Callie Jones who now modeled on the Big Payoff T.V. Show. Janet also told us that her top makeup lady was Barbara Jenkins who still trusted in her "Light and Bright." Carlos Haney was now tops on the Popularity Poll of singers. Earlene Pennington and Bill Sexton, after their high school romance, had taken over one of the country's leading hospitals, she is supervisor, he as head surgeon.

After the show we left the theatre and who should we see but Ron Armstrong in his hunting attire. He now led coon hunting expeditions through the Kentucky Hills, and was in great demand.

We picked up the latest edition of the New Boston Daily Bugle and started back to the A-plant. We glanced at the news and saw that Mary Staten and Roberta Tomlin were having a double wedding ceremony.

Thus ending our visit to our old hometown, we started back hoping to return soon.

HISTORY OF THE CLASS OF '54

At the opening of the school year 1950, ninety-nine lively freshmen began roaming through the halls of Glenwood. We were already looking forward to our graduation of 1954.

Our advisers were Miss Peake, Mr. Rickey, and Mr. Lodwick. Herbert Skeens was elected President; Harold Fraley, Vice-President; Pat Turner, Secretary and Treasurer; and Emma Mills, Reporter. Coleen Tomlin was our Homecoming attendant.

After our summer vacation we returned in the fall to begin our Sophomore studies. The following officers were elected to lead our class of eighty-one; Marvin LeMaster, president; Donald Burton, vice-president; Emma Mills, secretary and treasurer. Our faculty advisers were Mr. Curry and Mr. Duncan.

The Sophomore secretarial Class was in charge of our school paper, "Silhouette". Our homecoming attendant was Barbara Jenkins.

Mr. Curry and Mrs. Campbell were the advisers for seventy anxious juniors. Coleen Tomlin represented our class as homecoming attendant. Class officers were: Carlos Haney, president; James Warren, Jr., vice-president; Jon Wickline, secretary and treasurer; and Patty Turner, reporter.

We were so proud and happy September 19 as our class rings arrived. This was only one of the three high spots of our Junior year.

Mrs. Campbell directed our class play "Halfway to Heaven", which proved to be a success. The cast consisted of Paul Penix, Emma Mills, Pat Turner, Bill Sexton, Sally Lewis, Richard Elkins, Carlos Haney, Judy Dyer, Earlene Pennington, Joleen Ticatch, Barbara Jenkins, Larry Jennings, Phyllis Gulley, Callie Jones, James Warren, and Alvin Johnson, Pat Monk was student director.

The junior-senior banquet was held at the Elks Country Club. Our theme for the banquet was "Garden of Friendship."

At last, 1954, finds us fifty-six proud seniors. Miss Wheeler and Mr. Caudill are our class advisers. Our class are: Emma Mills, president; Donald Burton, vice-president; Coleen Tomlin, secretary and treasurer; and Judy Dyer, reporter.

"Charm School" our senior class play was given March 25-26. It was directed by Miss Wheeler and Nadine Aldridge assisting as student director.

We had our graduation pictures made at Martings. Our name cards and announcements were ordered and received with eagerness.

Don Burton, football captain crowned Emma Mills, Homecoming Queen. Coleen Tomlin was senior attendant. The Tri-Hi-Y sponsored a dance after the game at the C.I.O. Hall.

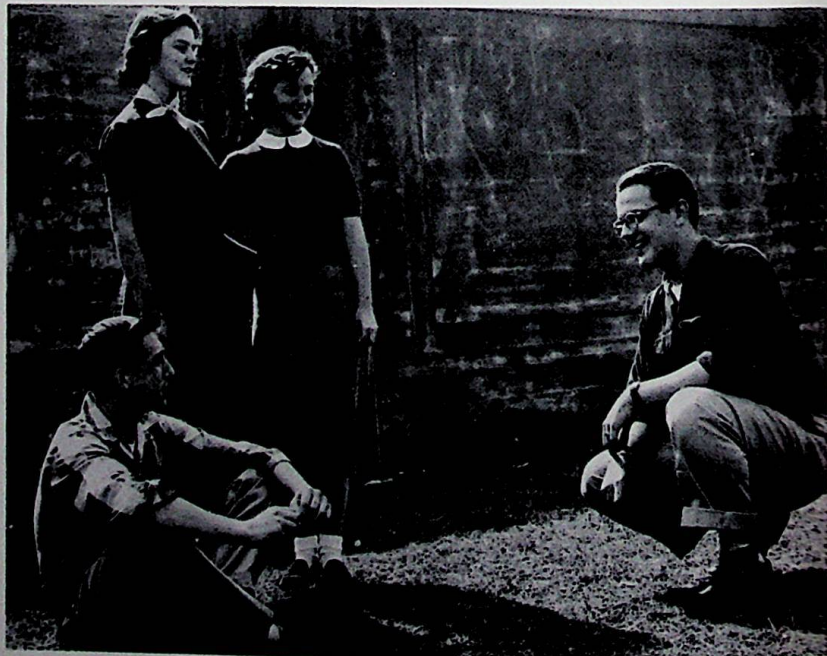

We are now anxiously awaiting the junior-senior banquet. As we are nearing our baccalaureate and commencement exercises, we are beginning to recall with nostalgia, our happy days spent at Glenwood by the hill.

HISTORICAL SKETCH OF NEW BOSTON

Information compiled by Mr. Rickey and Senior History Class

In giving anything on the story of New Boston and its development, it is necessary to go back to events that happened before New Boston was settled.

The first settler in what is now New Boston was Samuel Marshall, who came here from Manchester in February, 1796. He built a log cabin in the field somewhere near the lower end of the steel plant. He was not only the first settler in New Boston, but was the first settler in Scioto County. He said that when he built his cabin here in 1796, there were no other people, "Neither White nor Redskin" in the present limits of Scioto County.

New Boston was platted February 17, 1791 by James Skelton, A. T. Holcomb, and M. Stanton. There were 191 lots in this first plat from 37 acres of the John Rhodes farm. The Yorktown addition was added by a plat filed by M. T. Stewart on October 23, 1900. There were other additions to both New Boston and Stewartsville.

New Boston was named after Boston, Massachusetts. Some capitalists from Boston put a lumber mill here in 1887. The logs were floated down the river from Eastern Kentucky and West Virginia forests. The mill was on the river bank about where West Avenue now is located, and the office was over on Gallia Street near West Avenue. This company was called the Little Kanawa Lumber Company. They had a good business supplying lumber to the local lumber yards and they also shipped lumber by both rail and boat. In 1898 both the lumber yard and the mill were destroyed by fire. They did not rebuild, but New Boston did not suffer from this experience as the Breece Manufacturing Company moved from Portsmouth to New Boston in 1900.

The Detroit Steel Company which is New Boston's main industry is the outgrowth of the Burgess Steel and Iron Works. This was started in New Boston in November 1898 by Levi D. York and others. This industry also came to New Boston due to a fire destroying their plant on Front Street in Portsmouth, June 7, 1898.

The first Scioto County Fair Grounds were where the steel plant is now.

When the mill was built, the fair grounds were moved farther east, up to where the Coke Ovens are now. Then later to the present location at Lucasville.

New Boston was incorporated as a Village in 1906. William Kent (died Jan., 1954) was its first Mayor. Art Rutter who was killed while on duty, was the first village Marshall. The first Mayor's salary was $50 per year plus fees, and the Marshall received $50 per month. New Boston became a city in 1930. This came about by having a population of over 5,000. It was about to be reduced to Village status in 1950, but a recount gave us the necessary population to retain city government.

The first school in New Boston was under the Clay Township Board of Education. It was held in a rented building in 1893. A new building was put up on Stanton Avenue in 1896 and first used in the fall of that year. It was used till 1903 when a four room building was erected on the present Stanton Avenue site. Later the Oak Street and Glenwood buildings were provided and the Stanton Avenue building was enlarged. The High School for New Boston was started by a teacher in one room at Stanton Avenue in 1909.

The first Superintendent of Schools was S. D. Eckhart, and the first High School Principal was Dan E. Ross.

Any New Boston pupils taking more than the Eighth Grade up to this time went to Portsmouth High School and the tuition was $10. per month.

The first graduating class was the Class of 1919.

In 1894 there were fewer than ten houses scattered throughout the farm-lands which now form New Boston. The population did not exceed fifty.

The oldest house in New Boston is located at 3763 Gallia Street. It was built in 1816 as the farm house on the John Rhodes farm, when first built, it stood opposite Ohio Avenue, 3781 Gallia Street. It was moved from this site to its present location by Lewis Elhoff who put up the brick house at 3781 Gallia for his own home. The oldest business property in New Boston is the Conley Building at West and Gallia. Built in 1900.

One of the early business men in New Boston was Lewis Elhoff. He had a Livery Stable on the site now occupied by the Streitenberger Radio and Television Repair shop. In addition to the Livery business he sold farm wagons, express wagons and buggies. He also had the honor of being the first New Boston resident to own an automobile.

The first Drug Store in New Boston was started in 1904, by Jack Fisher. It was located at the corner of Center and Gallia Streets. He was here only a few years and closed his store.

Then in 1909 Carl Emmert started a drug store across the street from the present Kelso building. He was here for two years and closed his store here and located in Columbus.

Earnest Coburn was the first druggist to continue in the business here. He opened his store known as Coburn's Drug Store on April 1, 1912, and continued in business in the present Kelso building for six years. Then due to other financial interests which demanded his time, he sold to John and James Kelso, both of whom were registered pharmacists, and the drug store has continued to the present as Kelso's Drug Store.

Dr. Carl Emmert mentioned above was the first dentist in New Boston. He was followed by Dr. C. E. Beatty.

Then Dr. Lett came to New Boston, and we have had Drs. Beatty and Lett to take of our dental needs to the present time.

For fear some of you do not know this we remind you that there was a cement plant at the head of Glenwood Avenue. This was the York Portland Cement Company. The B & O Railroad ran a switch from their line up to the plant to furnish them with raw materials and to ship the finished product.

This B & O branch line ran over the ground on which our Glenwood High School now stands.

A Chapel car was run on the line on the east side of Gallia Street. (See Picture.)

When the Little Kanawa Lumber Company was here, they had a general store on West Avenue, around 1890. The first privately owned grocery store was owned by Ed Brady, around 1894. It stood where the Acme Hardware is today. Ed Brady soon sold out to M. T. Stewart.

The first Self-Serve Market in New Boston was the Piggly Wiggly Store. It was on Gallia Street in the building where the American Restaurant is now.

The first Post Office in New Boston was on the South West corner of Gallia and Ohio Avenue. M. T. Stewart was the first postmaster. The Post Office was in what is now Dr. Lett's home, and later from there it was moved to Park Avenue. It remained there until it moved to the present location.

Before the days of Milbrook Park there was a small park on the hillside opposite West Avenue. It was called Grandview Park.

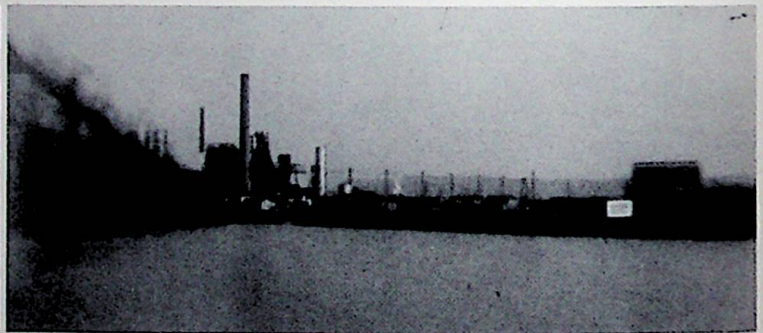

The history of the early churches dates back to the beginning of New Boston. The first church in New Boston was started by the Presbyterians from First and Second Church in Portsmouth. It was located at Ohio and Rhodes and first used in 1899. It was under the care of the Second Presbyterian Church of Portsmouth for some time and then abandoned. The second Church to start in New Boston was the present Ohio Avenue Christian. Nate T. Rickey furnished the building and Mrs. Nancy Elhoff and Mr. Rickey both being members of the Christian Church in Portsmouth, interested the Portsmouth Church in helping to get a Church started here. This was the beginning of the Ohio Avenue Christian Church. The date was 1901.

New Boston withstood two severe floods of 67 ft. 10 3/4 in. in 1913, (highest March 31) and the other in 1937, the high mark of which was 74 ft. 3 in. on January 28 of that year. (See Pictures). These floods provided the urge for better flood protection and along with Portsmouth, New Boston now has a flood wall able to keep out 77 ft. of water.

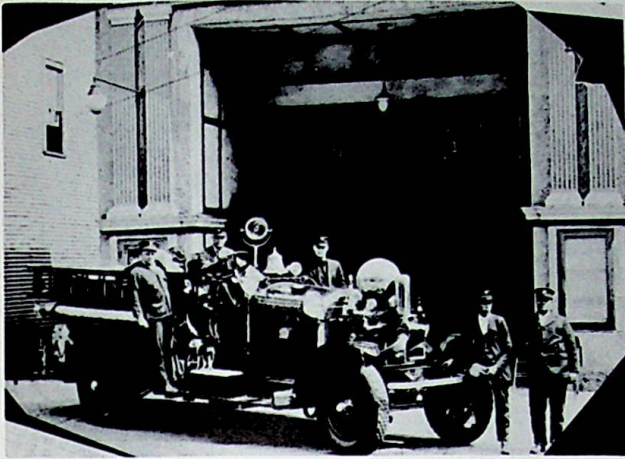

Nearly all the streets and alleys of New Boston are paved. This paving movement started in 1914. The same year New Boston by special agreement with Portsmouth got pure water.

We have tried to find the oldest resident of New Boston, and to the best of our knowledge, Mrs. Cleresey Mauck of 805 Harrisonville Avenue qualifies for the honor. (See Picture) She was 97 years old on January 30th of this year. She was a resident of New Boston at the time of its incorporation into a village in 1906, and has lived here continuously ever since that time.

Not being a prophet, the future of New Boston will not even be suggested here, but let us hope that as much progress can be made in the next 50 years as has been done in the last half a century.

TIME OUT FOR FOOD AT THE BANQUET

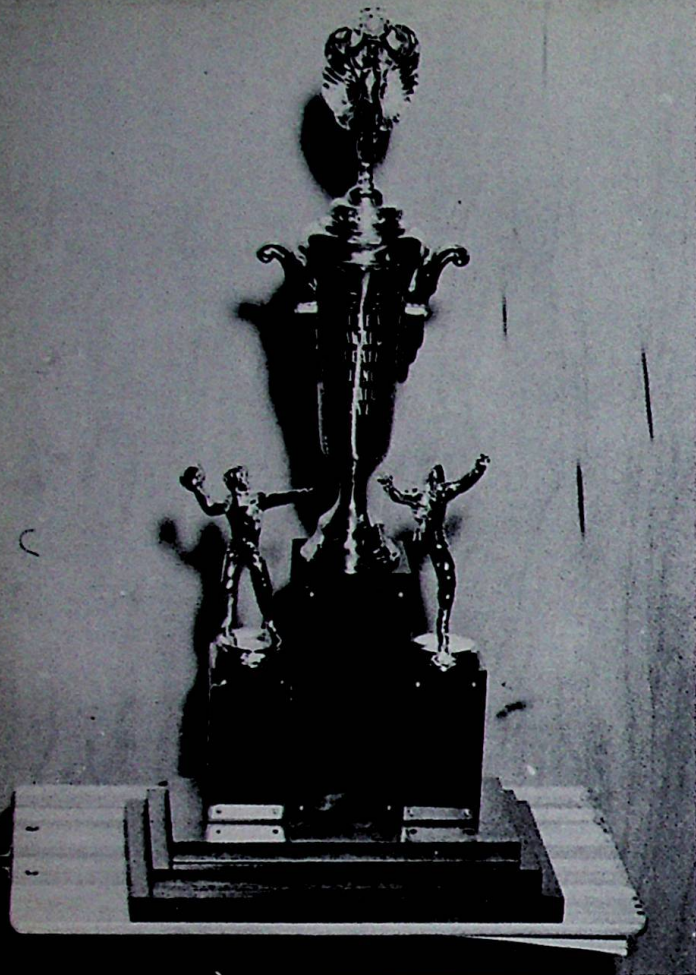

SMILE EVERYBODY

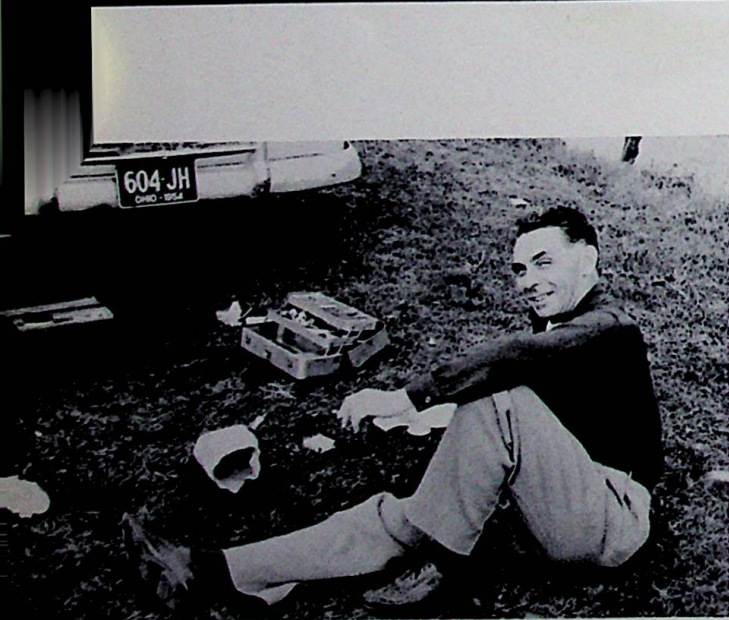

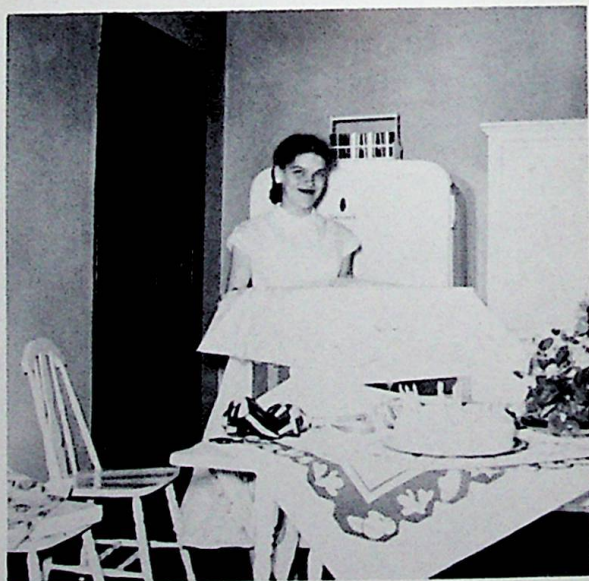

This is the WPAY Football award for the most valuable player of the year. This year James N. Warren, Jr. received it. In 1952 James Sheridan was awarded this same trophy. Here's hoping it will be won next year by a Glenwood student, so that it may be placed in our trophy case permanently.
