LAKOTA

1960-'61

Home, Church, Community . . . These three, plus education, lay the foundation for every high school student. Progress is made first in the home and church as families learn to get along with each other by sharing the same interests and beliefs. A broader step follows when young citizens participate in community affairs as they work for the advancement of their town and state.

This inspiring story of "education for living" is proudly presented in the 1961 LAKOTA (Indian word meaning "friends").

Students examine a bulletin board which has been prepared for Career Day.

Everywhere today there is a growing demand for high performance. For the worker to do more in fewer hours . . . for the student to learn more to become eligible for college . . . for educators to continue their studies for masters degrees and doctorates. Achievements accomplished through this demand have made new horizons in living with a new concept of standards and leisure. To meet and gracefully accept these new standards, a student in Northwest High School becomes keenly aware that he is being groomed for this important

"art of living." Broader subjects, keener minds to teach them, and a revolutionary concept of co-curricular activities including community living, is preparing each student to take his place and contribute without doubt or bewilderment. This community and this high school are combining efforts to make sure that future citizens of this and surrounding communities will work and play well together and that, from all walks, people will excel and enjoy the "art of living."

The Jordan family volunteered to trim the school Christmas tree. Terry and Leonard aren't the only members of the family good at teamwork.

Our faculty discuss school problems at a teacher's meeting.

Patti Phipps leads the Government class in a discussion of our rights under the Constitution.

Julia Copas, our cherry pie champ, turns out one of her specialties.

Art students are concentrating on the preparation of a scale-model village.

Mr. Schuyler and students investigate a weather balloon found near the school.

Typing is valuable to students in finding after-school jobs.

The Boosters' Club takes an active interest in the school as they meet monthly.

This is a story of people . . . SENIORS, the honored group of 1961 and the FACULTY who taught them so well. CLASSROOM WORK and ACADEMIC EVENTS are the environment in which these people grew. FOOTBALL, BASKETBALL, and BASEBALL are a part of that growth . . . the crowds, the queens, the losses and the victories. To replace the graduates are bulging CLASSES of Freshmen, Sophomores, and Juniors. These are Northwest's students . . . working together in an atmosphere of education, sports, and modern living.

A COORDINATED CURRICULUM

To those who have read over and over again the ills of the educational world, we'd like to direct attention to a different type of story.

There are no ailments affecting this community or this school. Northwest is doing a tremendous job of teaching us to live together in this modern world. Education is living and education we get, but far more. We are learning how to win and lose . . . how to love and respect.

We are learning that doing is almost as important as learning. We are teaching ourselves to enjoy now what we can enjoy later. We are working hard today because tomorrow the work is no easier.

We are proud of Northwest's academic program, through a coordinated curriculum that teaches us how to live.

English students compare notes for writing a Shakespearean sonnet.

Majorettes don their warpaint in preparation for a war dance to raise school spirit.

A TEAM

- Community
- School
- Faculty

Mr. Berl Haney, our Executive Head, has been a friend and guide at our school for the past three years.

Not many years ago, the Board of Education was pictured as being a group of stern looking people sitting around a long table administering justice. As times change, however, so do our ideas. Today we think of them as they really are . . . businessmen, employees, farmers who work with the whole community. Our school board, administrators, and faculty are all striving to make us worthy members of the community.

Seniors and Mr. Haney make donation to Ohio University Branch.

BOARD MEMBERS

Ray Thompson; Joe Reynolds, V. Pres.; Glenn Emmett; Homer Penn, Clerk; Glenn Shelton, President.

President Glenn Shelton returning from his day's work.

Clerk Homer Penn checking his books.

Mr. Thompson dictates a letter to his efficient secretary, Mrs. Phyllis Colley.

FACTS, FIGURES, AND FACULTY

Enrollment

Our enrollment is the highest in the history of the school and it is still rising. The annual census is studied very closely each year by the board of education in order to protect anticipated needs. The present building program is just part of the program to have adequate facilities and faculty available.

Yearly Teaching Hours

The number of hours our faculty spend teaching us yearly are amazingly high when figured as a total. The basic "3 R's" of yesterday are still being taught today but the curriculum has been broadened to build well-rounded citizens. Because of the Space Age in which we live enrollment in science and mathematics classes has increased. Vocational classes also continue to grow.

Degrees

By studying more, our faculty members can teach us more. The Northwest faculty is outstanding for the amount of advanced studying they have done. Six hours of professional advancement are required of each teacher every four years.

Our faculty members are always busy. Here some of our teachers serve as waiters at the Scholarship Banquet.

We, the students of Northwest High, feel that too many times one of the great motivating forces behind our desires is left unnoticed and seemingly unappreciated. Therefore, it is with pride and humility that we dedicate this volume of the "LAKOTA" to our parents. The parents pictured above recall their high school days during a visit to Northwest High.

The duties of the class officers are many and varied. Many activities that the Senior Class held this year have been the result of the planning of the class officers. Because the last year of a student's schooling is his busiest, these people deserve much acclaim for the services they have rendered.

GUIDANCE — A KEY TO THE FUTURE

Mr. Frowine, Guidance Counselor
Guidance involves giving personal help to an individual so that he can contribute his best to himself and society.

The Seniors of 1961 will soon be graduated and going their separate ways. Some will go directly into the community as they find jobs to suit their talents. Others will go to college to further their ambitions. No matter what their choice in life may be, they are wished the very best of luck.

SENIOR PROM

The most glamorous affair of the Senior year is the PROM. This year it was held at the County Club. The seniors were entertained by Bob Waddell's five-piece dance band. They danced, ate, laughed, and danced some more. "After the Ball Was Over" everyone agreed "I Could Have Danced All Night."

OUTSTANDING ACHIEVEMENTS

Northwest can be proud of these students who have represented us successfully this year. Everyone must have in life some aim, something to which he can lay a claim. These students have done so.

Julia Copas won the county championship for her delicious cherry pie. She also represented us in the district.

Roby Bach, who maintained a 4.00 average during four years of high school, is being congratulated by Dr. Floyd Faust, the Commencement speaker.

Mary Ralstin and Mary Meadows placed high on the Scholarship Team.

Rhea Jenkins and Philip Chancy won the County Driving Rodeo.

FOOTBALL

Varsity football made its debut at Northwest this year. Although our squad won only two games, we were held scoreless only once. WE are very proud of our team and, with added experience, are looking forward to a winning season next year.

PRINCESS CAROL IS CROWNED AT THE MOHAWK TEPEE

This year our school sponsored a completely different and original homecoming. Under the direction of Mrs. Ella Whitt, several of our faculty planned a Mohawk Homecoming, complete with feathers, war paint, "war dance" by the majorettes, peace pipes, and campfire. After this beginning, we all felt our Indian blood singing and amid war cries and excitement, Miss Carol Shaw was crowned Mohawk Princess. With all of the members of their tribe behind them the Mohawks went down the war path to victory.

At after-dinner program students were presented scholarship pins.

Students and parents were entertained by a sextet composed of scholarship students.

This year a Scholarship Banquet was held honoring students who had been on the Honor Roll three out of five grading periods. The students and their parents were guests of the school at a steak dinner held in the school cafeteria. Afterwards an awards assembly was held in the auditorium. Here students were presented scholarship pins and entertainment was provided for them and their parents.

STYLE SHOW

On May 8, Northwest's Home Economics classes under the direction of Mrs. Erma McClurg presented the annual style show. Each home economics student modeled a dress that she had made this year. The theme was a "Circus Parade."

The A.B. Jones Chapter of the National Honor Society conducts its annual induction ceremonies. Four new members look on as Mr. Frowine explains the four stations: Character, Scholarship, Leadership, and Service.

The Honor Society is one of the most active organizations in our school. It is composed of a group of students who have accomplished much in the fields of Character, Scholarship, Leadership, and Service. Among this year's projects were: publishing of a Northwest Handbook, the supervision of an Eighth Grade Orientation of the building, and collaboration with Mr. Frowine on Career Day.

DEBATE TEAM

Cookie Newman accepts the District Debate Trophy.

Proud members of the team hold trophy for all to admire.

Our debate team, directed by Mr. Young, worked very hard this year. After approximately ten debates with neighboring schools, our team went to the district tournament at Valley. Here our team won Jackson High the district "Class A" championship. For winning, the Portsmouth Bar Association presented the debaters with a trophy. In March, our team traveled to Ohio State University to compete for the state championship. In this contest our team won one out of four debates.

WE are very proud of our debate team and we are sure that debate has won its place at Northwest High.

Top Debaters: L. Newman, K. Prater, P. Phipps, J. Adkins.

Team and coach, Don B. Young.

Debate Team: B. Harness, K. Prater, J. White, L. Newman, J. Ewing, B. Arnett, R. Bach, K. Arnold, V. Murphy, P. Phipps, S. Harness, J. Adkins.

LIBRARY SUPPLEMENTS LEARNING

Mrs. Marquerite Nunley, librarian, helps Roger Wolfe and Bill Kremin check out books.

The library is important to students for getting research and reading enjoyment. To develop to his highest capacity a student must become a good reader. The library supplements learning and aids the proper development of our minds.

To Read—

Is a Need

Students make use of the library for research work, book reports, and reading enjoyment. Mrs. Nunley and student librarians are always on duty to help students with any problems.

Larry Martin receives his diploma from Mr. Haney.

Dr. Faust, the speaker, has pretty senior, Carol Shaw, pin on his rose.

Seniors rise to accept diplomas.

EDUCATED FOR LIVING

Some of the seniors talk to Mr. Glenn Shelton, president of the school board, before the ceremonies.

Jim Blanton and Patti Phipps make last-minute preparations for the ceremonies.

The Class Address is delivered.

These seniors will go on to college with the aid of scholarships: Vivian Murphy, Terry Jordan, Chris Tackett, Jimmy Adkins, talk with Mr. McCowen.

Graduation is not the end but the beginning of a person's duty to society. Our seniors are well prepared. Under the plan of our churches, homes, school, and entire community they have been educated for living.

These seniors give their full attention to the Class Address.

How Much Is $165,000,000? . . .

When the current expansion and modernization program is completed at its Portsmouth Division, Detroit Steel Corporation will have spent over $165,000,000 in its determination to make this southern Ohio steel mill one of the finest, best equipped, most competitive such plants in the nation.

That's a lot of money.

For example, had a man who was living when Christ was born, continued to live until today, and had he spent $225 every single day during all those long years, he would still not have spent that much money.

One hundred and sixty-five million dollars . . . the savings of thousands of ordinary people who, believing in the American Way, have become part owners in American Industry . . . plus the "plowed back" earnings of the company . . . all that money, within the next few years, will have been invested in the future of the Greater New Boston - Portsmouth Area to provide jobs and security for its citizens.
