OUR LADY OF THE ROSARY

FOREWORD

"History, beginning with Lepanto, proclaims the power of the Rosary. Those families who love and pray the Rosary are real Catholic families. Lourdes and Fatima recommend the Rosary through the lips of the Virgin Mother. I, from my own experience, recommend the Rosary for every one."

These words of Cardinal Mindszenty at the Marian Congress, Ottawa, Canada, June 1947, have inspired the choice of our theme, the Rosary.

In this book we are presenting, in a spirit of sacrifice, a review of the events of a busy year as offerings to Our Lady to accompany our Rosaries for World Peace. Here and there on its pages we have placed symbolic reminders of her loving care for us.

DEDICATION

Impressed by the courage and faith of Cardinal Mindszenty during his recent "trial" by the Moscow-dominated Hungarian government we of the Memories Staff respectfully dedicate to him this record of our activities of the past year.

Through this tribute we wish to show our admiration for a simple but powerful man, a man whose life has been unselfishly offered for the oppressed and persecuted of every faith. May his suffering merit for us and for all Christians greater faith and closer adherence to the principles of Christ and the freedoms for which our country was founded.

The Most Reverend Michael J.
Ready

Bishop
of Columbus

Bishop Ready, the vigorous shepherd of the Columbus diocese, has displayed ardent solicitude for the new Central Catholic High School project. The Catholic youth of Portsmouth are looking forward eagerly to the day when the building itself will await his pontifical blessing.

The Right Reverend MONSIGNOR TIBURTIUS A. GOEBEL

Though in retirement, Monsignor Goebel is an inspiring example to all who know him. In the past he has proved his love for God by his years as a priest, Christ's representative, and has encouraged others to love Almighty God and to dedicate their lives to Him. Today he shows constant alertness and enthusiasm in activities, and students count it a privilege to serve at his daily Masses. We, the class of 1950, will always remember Monsignor Goebel for his holiness.

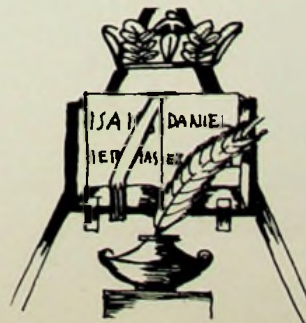

The Right Reverend Monsignor Joseph R. Casey, Pastor of Holy Redeemer;
The Reverend Julius G. Klinec, Pastor of St. Mary.

Co-operation is the keynote in the guidance of the two parishes by the Right Reverend Monsignor Joseph R. Casey of Holy Redeemer and the Reverend Julius G. Klinec of Saint Mary. The new Central Catholic High School project is progressing under their enthusiastic and zealous leadership.

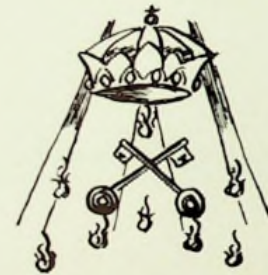

The marks of Monsignor Casey's renovation are evident in all phases of school life, while Father Klinec's ever ready camera captures and records the highlights of the year's activities.

THE REVEREND LEO J. BENEDETTI
Assistant Pastor, Holy Redeemer

In the past two years we have come to know Father Benedetti well. In his calm and deliberate manner he has served as a steadying influence in the school years. He has inspired and guided our efforts in and out of class, and has been a source of encouragement to us all.

THE REVEREND PAUL W. MEYER
Assistant Pastor, St. Mary

Father Meyer, at St. Mary's for only a year, has become a necessity to school life. His reserved manner and quiet determination have made him a favorite of all. His participation in school activities as well as his leadership in religion class will always be cherished by his students.

Without her and her zealous leadership in the mission field St. Mary's would not be complete, for the C. S. M. C. is our most vital organization.

SISTER MARY WINIFRED
Freshman Adviser
Mathematics, History

Her devotion to the Blessed Virgin Mary has been an inspiration to all to love Mary and to be active in all that pertains to her.

SISTER MARY GEMELLA
Sophomore Adviser
Science

As a helpful and understanding science and mathematics teacher, she has broadened our knowledge and given us equipment for advanced scientific study.

SISTER MARY ELISE
Senior Adviser
English, Latin

Her work as director of our class plays, Marians, and yearbook, and her unselfish thoughts for us, as seniors, will long be remembered.

SISTER MARY TERESSELLE
Junior Adviser
Business, Music

Whether as homeroom teacher or as girls' choir director, she takes note of the individual welfare of each student; her generosity and thoughtfulness of others is truly inspiring.

Mary, Star of the Ocean, we dedicate ourselves to you as we begin our journey over life's trying sea. O Queen of the Holy Rosary, be our guiding light now as you have always been throughout the years.

Our Lady of Good Counsel, we ask your kindly care in choosing the vocation which will best enable us to fulfill God's eternal plan.

We know your power with Him. We trust in you. We love
you. As the members of the MEMORIES STAFF we unanimously vote you "Woman of the Year".

Because the girls outnumber them almost three to one, the St. Mary sophomore boys have had to struggle to maintain their place of honor. This year they achieved their goal by getting four of their number elected to class officers, but it took the cooperation of the girls, too, to put across a successful freshman "mixer" in September, and to continue their record as a group in which scholarship ranks high throughout the year.

ACTIVITIES

MEMORIES Editor Patricia Meisel and Artist Marjorie Malone check data by consulting the school paper.

Feature Editors Flo Anne Weber and Rosemary Huber concentrate on writing captions, while Associate Editor Jan Knauss gives Editor Eileen Tannian an idea for picture arrangement.

MEMORIES STAFF

Circulation Manager Ann Petry checks off the numbers of subscribers as Assistant Mary Jane Coyle types the list.

Bringing in the "bacon", Joan McManaway and Charles Jeffords report to Business Manager Larry Phillips.

Practicing liturgical symbols, Artists Marty Pierron and Betty Kilgore ignore the slicing noise of Photography Editor Marjorie Billian as she cuts pictures to size. Sports Editors Wilbur Witter and George Kricker check up on football scores.

Cutting pictures and applying photographic surgery are Mary Sue Dadosky and Helen Snyder, Assembly Editors, and Billie Jean Pearson, Agnes Orlett, and Nancy Piccolo, Photography Editors.

Well armed with pencils, notebooks and cheerful smiles, two members of the Advertising Committee, Betty Davis and Magdalene Devlin, prepare to proceed to the patrons of Portsmouth.

If you think the staff of a yearbook has nothing to do, here are some of the things that keep us from having time on our hands:

Selecting a theme, planning the theme, taking pictures, cutting pictures, writing captions, dreaming up section pages, planning the cover, soliciting patrons, working up a circulation, and last but not least meeting our deadlines.

The Schaefer car waits ready to take Tom Vetter, Don Glockner, Bill Haag and Dick Jones of the advertising committee with Fred Vetter and J. D. Schaefer on their rounds to solicit ads.

Business Managers Tom Lynch and Larry Phillips find that keeping the business records straight is quite a job.

The Holy Redeemer girls' choir is made up of girls from high school and seventh and eight grades. We hear them at all the daily and Sunday High Masses and during the Holy Hours. They specialize in liturgical music and have become quite proficient in Gregorian Chant.

C. S. M. C. ROUND TABLES

At St. Mary High School, the C. S. M. C. Round Table, an interesting activity, has been carried on for many years. A kind of Discussion Club, it is devoted to the study of Catholic Missions both home and foreign.

Membership is composed of volunteer students of the sophomore and junior classes and the entire senior class. Meetings, held once a week, add up to twenty sessions in a school year.

The prime intention of this club is participation in the work of the missions by acquiring a reasonable knowledge of their personnel and work. This can be obtained only through a study of them—hence the Round Table Meetings. At these assemblies articles from "The Shield", official Catholic Students Mission Crusade magazine, selected either by the Chief or by a vote of approval of the students, are thoroughly discussed.

The advantages of this sort of work are not few, as any member will testify. Aside from accumulating a knowledge of what missionaries have done and are still doing, a Round Tabler becomes acquainted with their problems and by a careful diagnosis and weighing of evidence, decides how friends at home can best help them.

Many articles also prove to be of lasting interest. Asked to name one of their most interesting, the juniors select "I Am A Lay Apostle Overseas" by Mary Louise Tully, in the January issue. The seniors prefer, "You Can't Live Without Pride" by Jeanne Crain, while the Sophomores hold out for "Up In Uncle Sam's Attic" by the editors of the Shield—both in the February issue.

"These will have to be 40-spaced!" "Harold, stencil those." "Get your pens and brushes, Margie, there are pictures to be drawn." The MARIAN staff works busily every few months to edit the school paper. A great deal of work is involved but after publication the staff feels well rewarded.

REGINA VIRGINUM
ORA PRO NOBIS

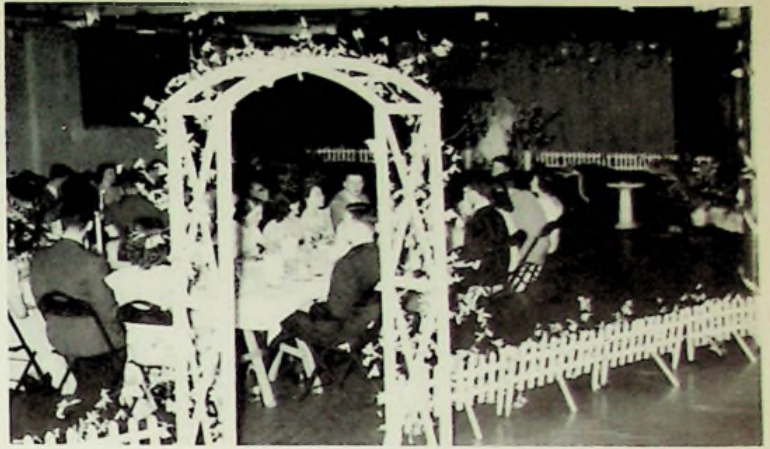

O MARY WE CROWN THEE

Every year the students of Holy Redeemer and St. Mary hold traditional May Crownings in honor of the Virgin Mary. Children clad in the pastel colors of spring sing hymns while carrying flowers to the feet of their Queen and Mother. A senior representing the student body crowns the Blessed Virgin with a wreath of flowers acknowledging Mary as the Queen of angels and men. The graduating class stands at the foot of the statue to dedicate their future lives to the Virgin Mother.

Backs: L. Hartlage, K. Hartlage, Perri, F. Porginski.

The 49 season was highly irregular in many ways. The greatest wonder of the season was the won-lost record. It took six straight defeats before the Titans decided to start rolling. Then they literally wiped up the gridiron with their opponents when they hit their three game winning streak to end the season.

The pause that refreshes.

THANK YOU

The Staff wishes to acknowledge its gratitude to the many sponsors, patrons and friends whose loyal support has made it possible for them to publish a year book. Without them we would have no MEMORIES.
