FOREWORD

In this, the third edition of Memories, the editors have endeavored to mirror Christ in the life of the school. We have tried to show that He plays an integral part in our daily lives. Our every action must reflect what He has taught.

As we glance through these pages, we can readily see how this is possible, and how, through the aid of our beloved pastors and our teachers, we are being formed in the manner of our Divine Model.

These are the memories of students who are trying to become other Christs.

The Most Reverend Michael J. Ready
Bishop of Columbus

"Give us youth, and we shall give that youth back to you as the youth of Christ, as the youth of His Immaculate Mother, under whose protection we place this holy work for the welfare of this community and for the honor and glory of Almighty God."

Closing words of the address given in Portsmouth High School Auditorium at the beginning of the Building Fund drive for the new Catholic Central High School on March 20, 1949.

The Right Reverend Monsignor Tiburtius A. Goebel
Pastor, St. Mary Church

DEDICATION

Into our dedication of this issue of MEMORIES goes an overflow of sincere appreciation for all the spiritual aid and good example we have received from Monsignor Goebel.

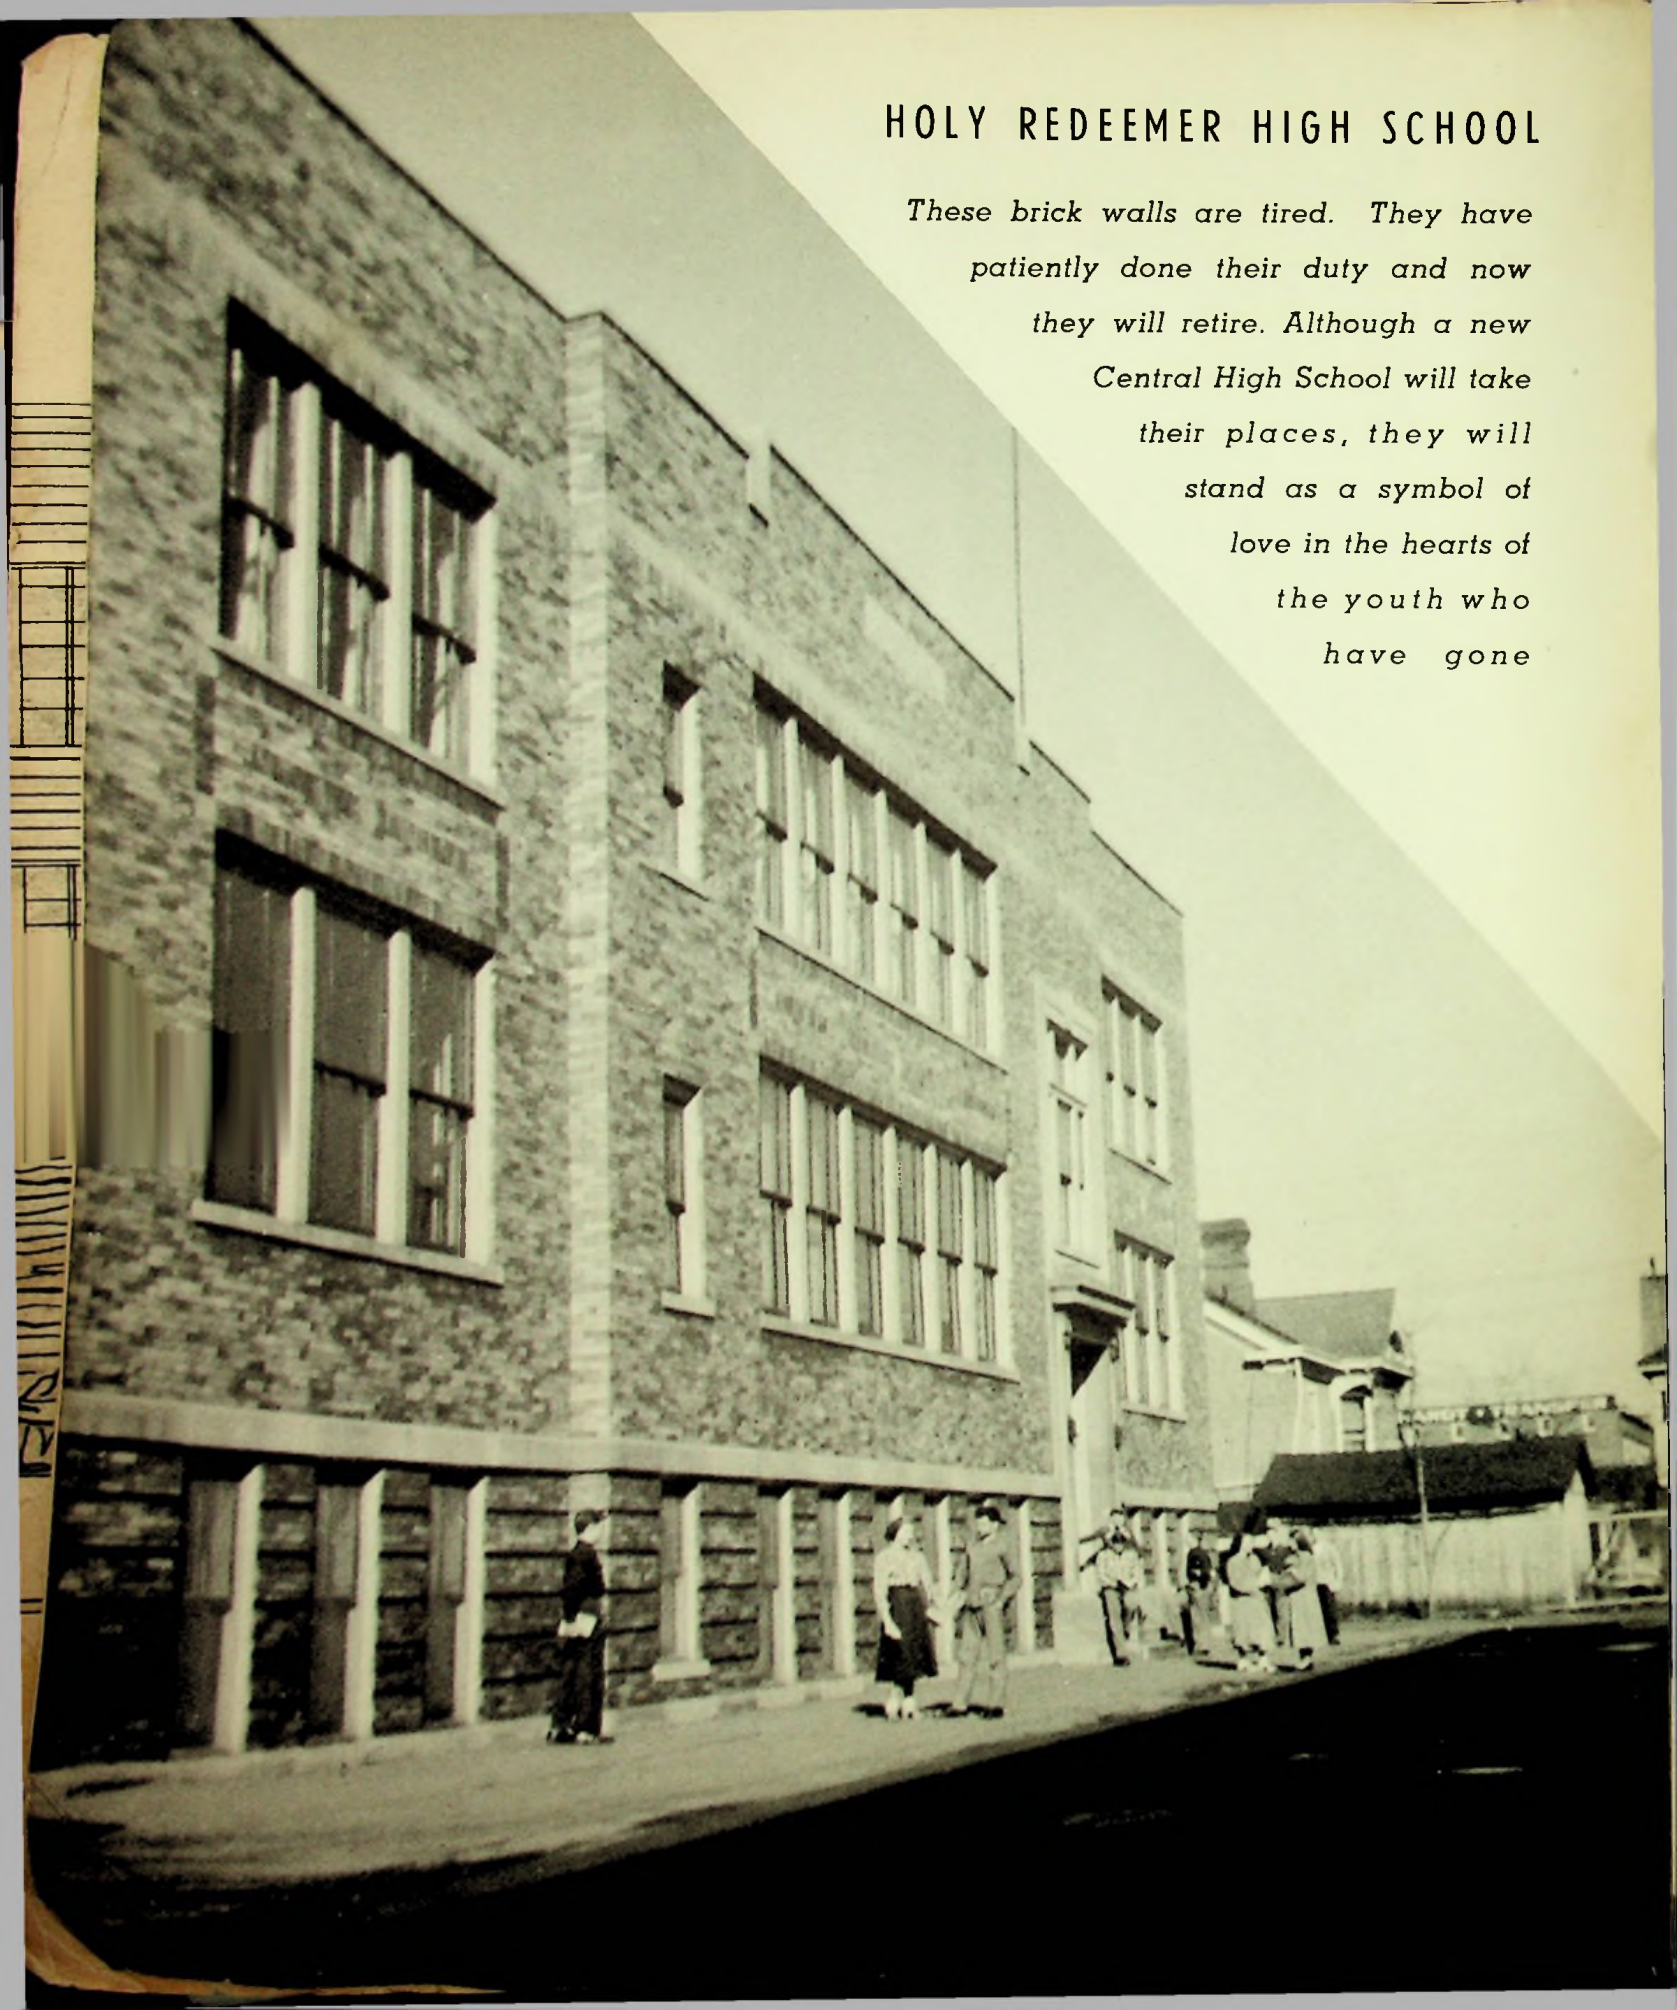

Monsignor Goebel baptized many of us and gave us our first Holy Communion. Indeed, he in many cases administered the same sacraments to our parents. His undying zeal has been a guiding light, illuminating our youthful journey to that heavenly abode where our dreams will be realized.

Monsignor Goebel, may the happy memories of this year be a source of gratification for you also.

forth from their dear halls. Holy Redeemer High School and St. Mary High School will soon be past history. Hopes, dreams, plans of all the Catholic teenagers of Portsmouth will be united in a new Central Catholic High School.

THE RIGHT REVEREND MONSIGNOR JOSEPH R. CASEY

The priestly qualities of Msgr. Casey have inspired our respect and confidence. His devotion to the Blessed Sacrament has fired our love for our ever-present Lord and brought us new joy in prayer before the Tabernacle. His subtle wit vivifies his excellent sermons and his repertoire of stories seems to be endless.

THE REVEREND JULIUS G. KLINEC

Father Klinec's kindly hand, a steady influence in smoothing out the rough spots in a school year, has also helped us to find enjoyment in our activities. The annual staff is indebted to him for his ability and willingness as a cameraman. We are grateful to have had him with us for the past year.

THE REVEREND GEORGE MARZLUF

A reserved manner, love of children, interest in students and their work, and ability to give golden Sunday sermons make up a priest of whom we are all proud.

Enthusiastic, excitable, fun-loving on the surface, the St. Mary Juniors are really capable of serious effort and success, as proved by a priceless class play and excellent prom and banquet. They will make their senior year just as successful as their junior year because of their zealous class spirit and loyalty.

The junior class of Holy Redeemer is filled with nitro-glycerin and when ignited, it might explode. They are typical of our atomic age, full of possibilities for good. In a costume presentation of "Little Women" they displayed an unusual amount of class dramatic talent.

Chiefly masculine, the St. Mary sophomore class boasts among its officers two enterprising lasses. Holding down the front section of the assembly, participating in Sodality programs, voting in a new cheerleader from their ranks, and giving promise of future stardom as Titans, the Class of 1951 has only begun to show its capabilities.

According to time-honored custom, the St. Mary freshman class has proved a topnotch missionary group. "Lord, That I May See", a Christmas play in which every member of the class lent aid, displayed a high degree of group cooperation combined with individual talent. Although greatly outnumbered by girls, the seven boys (see picture) do not take a back seat.

At last there has come a class to Holy Redeemer in which the boys outnumber the girls, seventeen to twelve. In this great phenomenon, however, cooperation between the two groups is far from lacking, as was evident in the turkey raffle. This up-and-coming class will contribute many worthy additions to the ranks of the master-minds and the football squad.

SPOTLIGHTS of the GRID SEASON

Between scenes from the Wurtland game are shown: Coach Darone giving pointers between halves, reserves warming the benches, and Managers Dave, Don, and Bill taking time off from their strenuous duties to exhibit the blue-and-gold of the Titans.

Three wins in succession opened the 1948 season for the Titans, playing against Waverly, Washington, and Wurtland. . . . In the Wurtland game Titans who kicked extra points had to climb the barbed wire fence near the goal post to get the ball in the next field. After the last touchdown, one of the fans, becoming too excited over the progress Central was making, broke away from the sidelines and tackled halfback Captain Cassidy. . . . On the Tigers' 30, Schaefer made a spectacular catch of a pass by Widdig and raced to his third score of the game. . . . Demonstrating their smooth running offense and rugged defense, the Titans defeated East for the first time in four years. . . . After an impressive homecoming ceremony the Titans showed their queens what they could do in the line of football. . . . In the losses column . . . St. Charles overcame the Titans by virtue of a blocked-punt in the last quarter . . . the Titans suffered defeat at the hands of Columbus St. Mary's in the Mud Bowl. Don Widdig made probably the longest kick in high school gridiron history—180 yards! (Who called the South Wind "mild"?)

ON THE GRIDIRON WE CAN PUT ON THE FAIRNESS AND JUSTICE OF CHRIST.

QUEENS for A DAY

The Homecoming queens and their attendants are chosen by the entire student body. These are the senior girls we like best and this is our way of showing our recognition of their gracious personalities. Their reign is short but glorious. It lasts one night. They were crowned at the football game with McKell on the evening of November 6. Long live the Queens, Alberta Francia and Janet Peery and their attendants Louise Jackson, Dorothy Orlett, Pauline Doyle, and Janet Kilcoyne!

SODALITIES, PRESS MONTH, BOOK WEEK, AND PLAYS INSPIRE STUDENTS

Freshmen of Holy Redeemer sound keynote of Book Week and Press Month with a skit on best sellers and a choral presentation of "The Sword of the Spirit."

Father Vincent Martin O.P., retreat master, chats with Walt Cassidy and Pat Ruth during retreat held at Holy Redeemer, January 30-February 2.

FOOTLIGHT ACTIVITY

"Confessional," a one-act play by Percival Wilde, was presented January 18, starring Walter Cassidy, Janet Kilcoyne, George Kricker, and Mary Jane Coyle.

The senior Valentine Dance, February 11, featured something new in entertainment. A floor show was presented by the senior Spanish II class and various other students.

TO A GREATER LOVE OF GOD THROUGH HIS TEACHING.

All mission activity in high school is divided into three sections: study, work, and prayer. An opportunity for study is provided by Round Table sessions holding lively discussions once each week. Articles on Japan, India, China, Palestine, Germany, and Russia furnish material for broadening our knowledge of missions and our enthusiasm for giving aid by work and prayer. Once each month a mission problem in our own country is reviewed. Benefiting further by the frequent opportunity to express themselves before a group of classmates, Round Tablers enjoy an added advantage in learning to listen, to reason, and to speak correctly.

TRAIN SERIOUSLY IN THE FIELD OF SPORTS.

IN THE SAME WAY THAT CHRIST CAME FORTH FROM THE FATHER

SPRING

"I came forth from the Father and am come into the world: again I leave the world and go to the Father."

SO WE ARE COMING FORTH FROM ANOTHER PERIOD OF OUR LIVES.

MEMORIES STAFF WORKS OVERTIME

Ann Pasturzak and Norma Brown, feature editors of St. Mary, compose paraphrases while Dorothy Orlett, editor-in-chief, and Alberta Francia, associate editor, (center), conspire on division pages.

Mildred Collins, associate editor, struggles over identifications and interrupts as Rita Bendinelli, feature editor, creates clever captions. Donald Widdig, editor-in-chief, is astonished at a bit of photographic surgery, while Fred Flanagan, business manager, offers moral support and Pauline Doyle, art editor, is amused by her first attempts at sketching liturgical symbols.

The advertising committee, Robert Wetta, Edward Miller, Louise Jackson, and Rosemary Lantz, stimulate their salesmanship by surveying their posters.

Janet Kilcoyne, circulation editor, nabs a purchaser while Janet Peery endeavors to interest a potential buyer in the treasures of "Memories."

AS THE FLOWERS BUD, BLOSSOM, AND DIE, SO DO WE ENTER INTO A NEW LIFE,

Betty Jo Coll's cheerful smile plus Charles Debo's businesslike attitude plus Patsy Eck's perseverance equal the accumulation of many patrons.

This is the way we travel between schools ready for an afternoon of hard labor.

Helen Lyons and Marie Garrard, photography editors, sift shots for possible material. Anthony Ross and William Jones, sports editors, scan press reports of games, while Fred Hock, art editor, plies his pencil with deft artistry.

While Rita Bendinelli pounds the keys, business managers David Cassidy and John Pat Ruth count the very essential small change. In the background sports editor Bob Schaefer investigates game news and photographs.

Walter Cassidy, photography editor, snaps wind-blown beauties.

Business is looking toward a boost when managers David Frederick and Fred Flanagan are on their way. This time the circulation is headed for improvement also, under the guiding hands of George Roth and Ralph Bowman.

LIVE FOR A WHILE AND THEN, LIKE CHRIST, RETURN TO THE FATHER.

"If you can't get the duke, I'll take the duchess."

"All right, dear, you can have it if you only won't get excited."

"Miss Martha Willard wore pale blue and carried a bouquet of bride's roses."

"You wouldn't try to flatter me?"

SENIOR

C.S.M.C. ROUND TABLES
HOLY REDEEMER

JUNIOR

One of the main activities of the C.S.M.C. Round Table meetings is the discussion of timely topics in the SHIELD. Articles such as: "American Mission Fields; Alabama," which describes the mission territory in our own country, and "Schools in China" showing how the Russians have dominated the schools in that country and outlawed any mention of the word "God" or "religion" in their books, have been carefully read.

SOPHOMORE

A very interesting discussion was the one on vocations. We learned that the purpose of all vocations is the sanctification of our souls and the honor and glory of God. The three roads, the religious state, the married state, and the single state, should lead us to our goal—possession of God.

STOREHOUSES WITH TREASURE THAT NEITHER RUST NOR MOTH MAY DESTROY.

WILT THOU LOOK

Four senior boys carry
Our Lady's statue.

UPON US, MOTHER?

"Bring flowers of the fairest."

The ceremony of May Crowning, held on the last Sunday of May, is to the students of St. Mary's one of the most devotional exercises of the year. Small children in white, teenagers in the light colors of Mary's beautiful spring, and Seniors in cap and gown, march in procession from St. Mary's court to the church.

Together with the Seniors, all students of both high school and grade school rededicate themselves to Mary. After the crowning of Our Lady by a member of the senior class, each boy and girl brings forward flowers to be placed before the shrine of the Heavenly Mother and patroness.

Graduates say good-by to their Alma Mater's patroness.

The ceremony is a solemn act of thanksgiving to Mary in appreciation for her loving protection during the year.

Senior servers Ralph, Bob and Tony have a place of honor.

LET US MAKE A GREAT SOWING OF OUR SPIRITUAL SEED

MOTHER

BELOVED

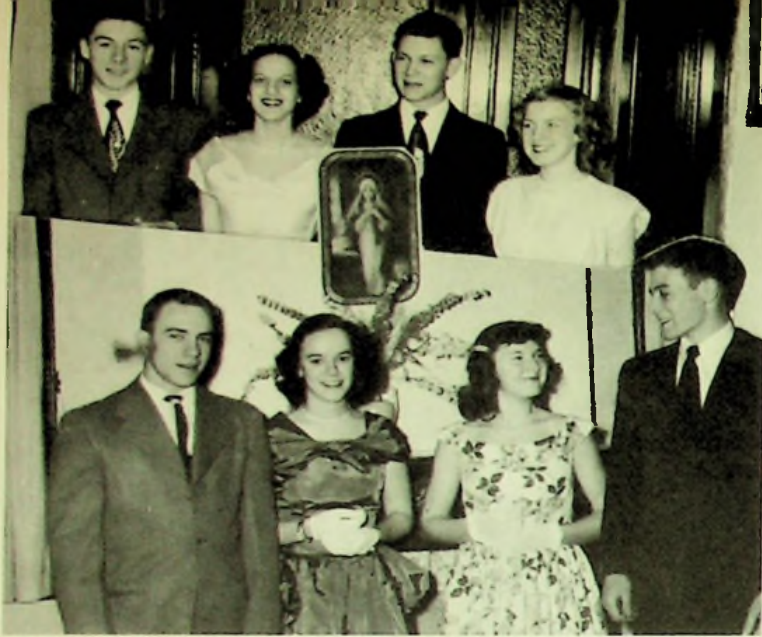

The colorful and beautiful devotion toward which all the students look with anticipation as soon as Spring begins is May Crowning. By this devotion both high school and grade school students give public honor to our Queen and Mother. At the words, "O, Mary, We Crown Thee With Blossoms Today," a little child places the crown of gold and blue flowers upon her head, and each one consecrates himself to her Immaculate Heart.

Grade school boys in gold and white, girls in colorful dresses and white veils, form a rosary around the church singing hymns to our Virgin Queen. Seniors in caps and gowns consecrate the rest of their lives to Our Blessed Mother. The impressive ceremony is concluded with Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament.

SO THAT WE MAY REAP A BOUNTIFUL HARVEST OF SANCTITY.

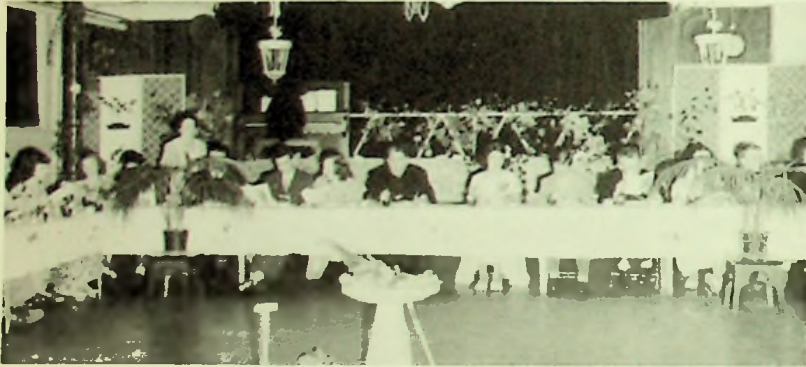

Smiles at the Junior-Senior Prom.

Fatima Club pays Mary special honor during May.

Here comes the photographer! Run, girls!

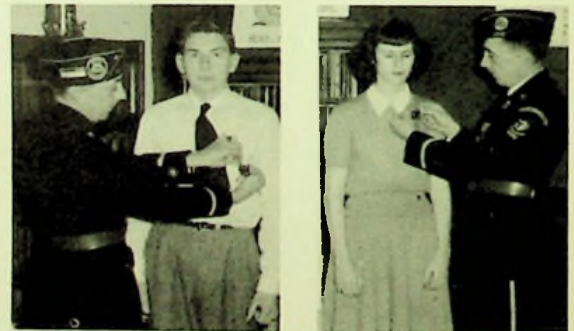

Juniors' birds and flowers help welcome Senior guests.

THE GRADES

If high school students are the hope of the world of tomorrow, then these children are the hope of the world of the day after tomorrow. They are the authors, the scientists, the homemakers, the doctors, lawyers, and farmers—the citizens of the future. They will work and play as children have always worked and played. During their high school years they will cause an older generation to wonder what this generation is coming to. Then they will settle down to the serious business of being an adult. Some will go to convents or seminaries; some will go to colleges; many will find good steady jobs and get married and maybe raise a family of their own. For they are normal boys and girls trying to follow in the footsteps of Christ Who was once a child Himself.

"Out of the mouths of babes and little ones — Thou hast perfected praise."
