out after the girls
got our dinner at
Mr. Johnson's.

Had a splendid
time back a little after 3.
There were 9 of
us dinner
here today.

They are all gone
home but Mr.
Harris is trying to make love
to my cousin

Nov. 29.

A cold windy
day. It snowed
awhile this morning.

Winter has set in at last.
This is the first
cold we have had.

We went to see
the report at the names of the states this evening.

Hullo! Old diary,
Your proprietor has
gone to shut eye
towards me, I won't say who,

are left only to tell the tale. It is now almost nine o'clock
and my gracious how
cold our doors A.P.D.
is down founded
for we just now
called on him
and he was not at home. Gone on a wild goose chase
I guess. Mr
well I don't know
how he spells his name. (Richard I guess) Well he is disussing with Mr Hayward the
beating and merits
of the west. He

formerly lived here
and is now visiting
through this region.
He seems to be a
nice old man,
has two girls and I can't say how many sons. I guess only four.
Listen and <sup>well</sup> Chas
more. Did you ever hear the like. It is enough to charm the heart
of a lizard and
change the course
of the ocean waters.
The weather is
cold, clear, and
some snow is on the ground.

Who cares for snow?
Not I for one,
So here it goes
diary and just
now the flow of
eloquence ceases
for want of words
to describe the morning process of your owner.

Good night and
congratulations I hear
C. E. H. says.

The S and Company.
Written November
30, 1889. Let me hear from you again
when convenient,
if suitable.
Diary.

Two o'clock and says
chickens eggs. Devil
might blow his
horn and we would beat the devil sure as you
born.

Nov 30

A beautiful day.
I got wood all
day.

George came up
here and stayed
all night.

Arthur came up
this evening &
stayed all night.

Mr Ritchie came
here & stayed all
night.

Ed had lots of fun over your
lot.

I got a letter
from Miss Belle.

Lewis & I had to sleep in the pick
bed. I slept with my breeches on.
