GOD HATH NOT PROMISED

God hath not promised
Skies always blue,
Flower-strewn pathways
All our lives through;
God hath not promised
Sun without rain,
Joy without sorrow,
Peace without pain.

But God hath promised
Strength for the day,
Rest for the labor,
Light for the way.
Grace for the trials
Help from above,
Unfailing sympathy
Undying love ...

To those who walked the halls of Glenwood spreading joy and then quietly passed away, we dedicate the 1970 Tiger Silhouette.

Class Will

We, the Senior Class of Glenwood High School, being of sound mind and body, do hereby bequeath this our last will and testament.

I, Suzy Adkins, leave my title "Miss River Days" to any Junior. It could be you, Kathy Pottenger.
I, Deidra Beadle, leave my assets to any Junior with the shape for it. How about it Pam Ferguson?
I, Greg Carr, will myself to the only girl for me, Lana Mathis.
I, Opal Carver, leave my ability to be married and remain in school to Tonda Davis.
I, Tom Clevenger, leave my ability to have perfect attendance my Senior year to Paul McCorkle.
I, Lana Clifton, leave my position at the BBF to any innocent Junior. Could it be you, Pam Thompson?
Remember the seriousness of the situation.

I, Greg Coburn, leave my membership in the National Honor Society to any deserving Junior. It's you ...
Jerry Gill.

I, John Cooper, leave the National Honor Society to Mr. Cullum.
I, Darrell Day, will - every time I get the chance.
I, Fred Dodd, leave and take my friend Vonald with me. Sorry, Nancy.
I, Brenda Emshwiller, leave my Homecoming crown to anyone who needs a jeweled head. How about it, Queen Jerri Fraley?

I, Debbie Fannin, leave my Charger to any Junior cagey enough to handle it. Go, Lily, go!
I, Sam Fannin, leave my ability to have a good time on the Senior Trip to any deserving Junior. It better hadn't be you, Vickie.

I, Phil Fitch, leave a blank voting ballot to the only Junior who could use it. Hang in there, Paul.
I, Bill Fitch, leave my position at the meat market to any beefy Junior. It's you Danny Murray.
I, Ricki Fraley, leave my hooped earrings to any Junior gypsy. How about you, Wanda Potts?
I, Connie Fugitt, leave my locker and all its signs to Kristie Phillips. Add, but don't take away.
I, Jim Gullely, leave my six hours and 45 minutes of sleep on the Senior Trip to any Junior with the stamina to combat insomnia and come in singing. Hang in there, Kevin.

I, Paula Hale, leave my ability to Carolyn Harr.
I, Tom Jones, leave my powerful Yamaha 80 to any speedy Junior. It's you, Nancy Stone.
I, Rita Keeney, leave my friend Scott to that vivacious Junior Linda Firwell.
I, Faria Lowder, leave my cute hairdo to any Junior who needs one. It's you, Don Uice.
I, Dave Lute, leave myself to Sharon. Keep me always.
I, Randy Lytten, sorrowfully leave the halls of Glenwood. Remember me always ... how could you forget?
I, Tom Mathis, leave my sister Lana to Greg. She's all yours.
I, Cheryl McClure, leave my nickname "Troublemaker" to the one Junior who is capable of fulfilling such a title. It's you Maria Pellegrinon.

I, Jo Ellen McKelvey, leave my sophisticated air to the one Junior who deserves it. It's you Randy Dunn.
I, Debbie Moore, leave Loren Hardin at G.H.S.
I, Tony Moore, leave my tardiness to any Junior who is known for his punctuality. How about you, Rusty Milliron?

I, Brenda Murray, go leaving Vonald to any Junior girl who will have him, no, make that any freshman.
I, Scott Oliver, leave my top collar button on every shirt I have to Larry Stevens.

I, Vicki Osborn, leave my love for hamburgers to any undernourished Junior. Could it be you, Diana Day?

I, Pat Parlin, leave my research theme to that athletic Junior Debbie Williamson.

I, Vicki Patrick, leave my position as "Queen of the Physics Class," to a certain girl who can succeed the throne well. It's you, Susan Groh!

I, Vonald Patrick, leave my big #32 football jersey to anyone who can handle it.

I, Birdie Presley, leave my fabulous wardrobe to any career-minded Junior. Could it be you, Bob Horsley?

I, Vema Riffe, leave an unused political badge to Bill Newberry, Remember Bill, if at first you don't succeed; try, try, again.

I, Raymo Roberts, leave - thank goodness!

I, Terri Roberts, leave my carton of empty 7Up bottles to any Junior who can use them. How about you, Bev Sparks?

I, Grant Salyers, leave my position on the football team to Gail Baker.

I, Debbie Shoemaker, leave my neat appearance to any worthy Junior. It's you, Marilyn Sutton.

I, Don Skaggs, alias "Brother Love," leave only my body to the girls of the Junior class . . . there should be enough to go around.

I, John Steele, leave the ability to tear up four cars and one mini-bike all in one year to any Junior who thinks he can handle it. Remember, hang on tight to that steering wheel, Dale Montgomery.

I, Annie Thompson, leave my baton to Mr. Grabham.

I, Bev Tingle, leave my natural blond hair to Debbie Sizemore.

I, Mark Upton, leave the Junior class exactly what you gave me - absolutely nothing!

I, Dave Williams, leave my old army hat to all the Junior boys. Remember, Uncle Sam wants you!

Senior Top Ten

Class History of 1970

The all-star cast of 71 enthusiastic performers made their daring debut on September 7, 1966, staged at Glenwood High School. The leading roles were portrayed by Sue Mercer, President; Debbie Moore, Vice-President; Suzy Adkins, Secretary; Ricki Fraley, Treasurer, and Vema Riffe, Reporter. We had a special guest appearance by the glamorous starlet, Brenda Emshwiller as Homecoming attendant. Playing supporting roles were Cheryl McClure and Terry Jones as our Annual nominees. We were managed by Mr. Joe Jenkins and Mrs. Kit Schisler.

Summer stock had ended and on September 1, 1967, we began the second year of our run with a cast of 62. The leads were stolen by upcoming personalities: Debbie Moore, President; Brenda Emshwiller, Vice-President; Annie Thompson, Secretary; Cheryl McClure, Treasurer, and Lana Clifton, Reporter. The celebrity of the year was Jo Ellen McKelvey when we selected her as our Homecoming attendant. Our managers remained the same.

After 3 months vacation from our tedious schedule, we 51 Juniors were ready to begin again. On September 3, 1968, we advanced from the amateur into the professional realm. Due to the success of our previous years with G. H. S. , we now had added responsibilities. The major characters were assumed by Tom Jones, President; Fred Dodd, Vice-President; Suzy Adkins, Secretary; Don Skaggs, Treasurer; and Vema Riffe, Reporter. We chose as our Homecoming attendant the lovely debutante, Miss Kathy Lodwick. One of the exciting events of the season was purchasing our class rings - the status symbol of our elite group. The highlighting performance was our adaptation of "Girl Crazy" - a three-act comedy which was directed by Mr. David Daum. This was presented on March 14, 1969. To conclude our third season, we honored the Seniors with a fabulous ball, "Three Coins in a Fountain," on May 23, 1969. Looking back on our Junior year we felt we had gained valuable experience and were eagerly anticipating our fourth and final year at G. H. S.

On September 3, 1969, we remaining 48 Seniors returned to the familiar set of Glenwood. For efficient leadership we chose Fred Dodd, President; Jo Ellen McKelvey, Vice-President; Vema Riffe, Secretary; Don Skaggs, Treasurer; and Debbie Moore, Reporter. We also had a change in management. This year we were to be under Mr. Joe Jenkins and Mr. John Simpson. For the season we put the spotlight on Brenda Emshwiller as "Miss Tiger Touchdown." Terri Roberts shared in the glory as Senior attendant. The command performance for our final season was the presentation of "Our Miss Brooks," directed by Mrs. Cleo P. Rittenhouse on November 20, 1969. After 8 1/2 months of the same scenery, we decided to change location. For three brief, but glorious days we toured Washington, D. C. under the brilliant guidance of Mr. Jack Pauley. After being reinstated to our previous positions, we were now ready to complete the last leg of our run. To commemorate the close of our career at Glenwood, the Juniors honored us with a prom, very appropriately entitled, "Shower of Stars," on May 22, 1970.

At the close of our four year Grand Performance, we gave our final curtain calls at Baccalaureate, May 24, and Commencement, May 26, 1970. Stealing the show were Suzy Adkins and Vema Riffe as co-Valedictorians, and Debbie Moore as Salutatorian. Looking back, we realize that these past four years have helped prepare us for our future participation upon the stage of life.

The Class Prophecy of 1970

I, Commander Donald Skaggs and I, Lieutenant Commander Deborah Moore, had recently returned from a ten year expedition on Mars. Upon returning to Cape Kennedy, we decided to contact our former classmates. We hoped to organize a class reunion. Our first step was to make the pilgrimage back to our home, New Boston. Taking the scenic route we first arrived at Fort Lauderdale, Florida. Of course, we had to take a swim so we went to Biceps Beach. To our amazement the muscular lifeguards were none other than two of our former classmates - Scott Oliver and Greg Coburn. They informed us that Tom McKenzie, who was now in Miami, had just won the Mr. Universe contest with a chest expansion of 17 inches.

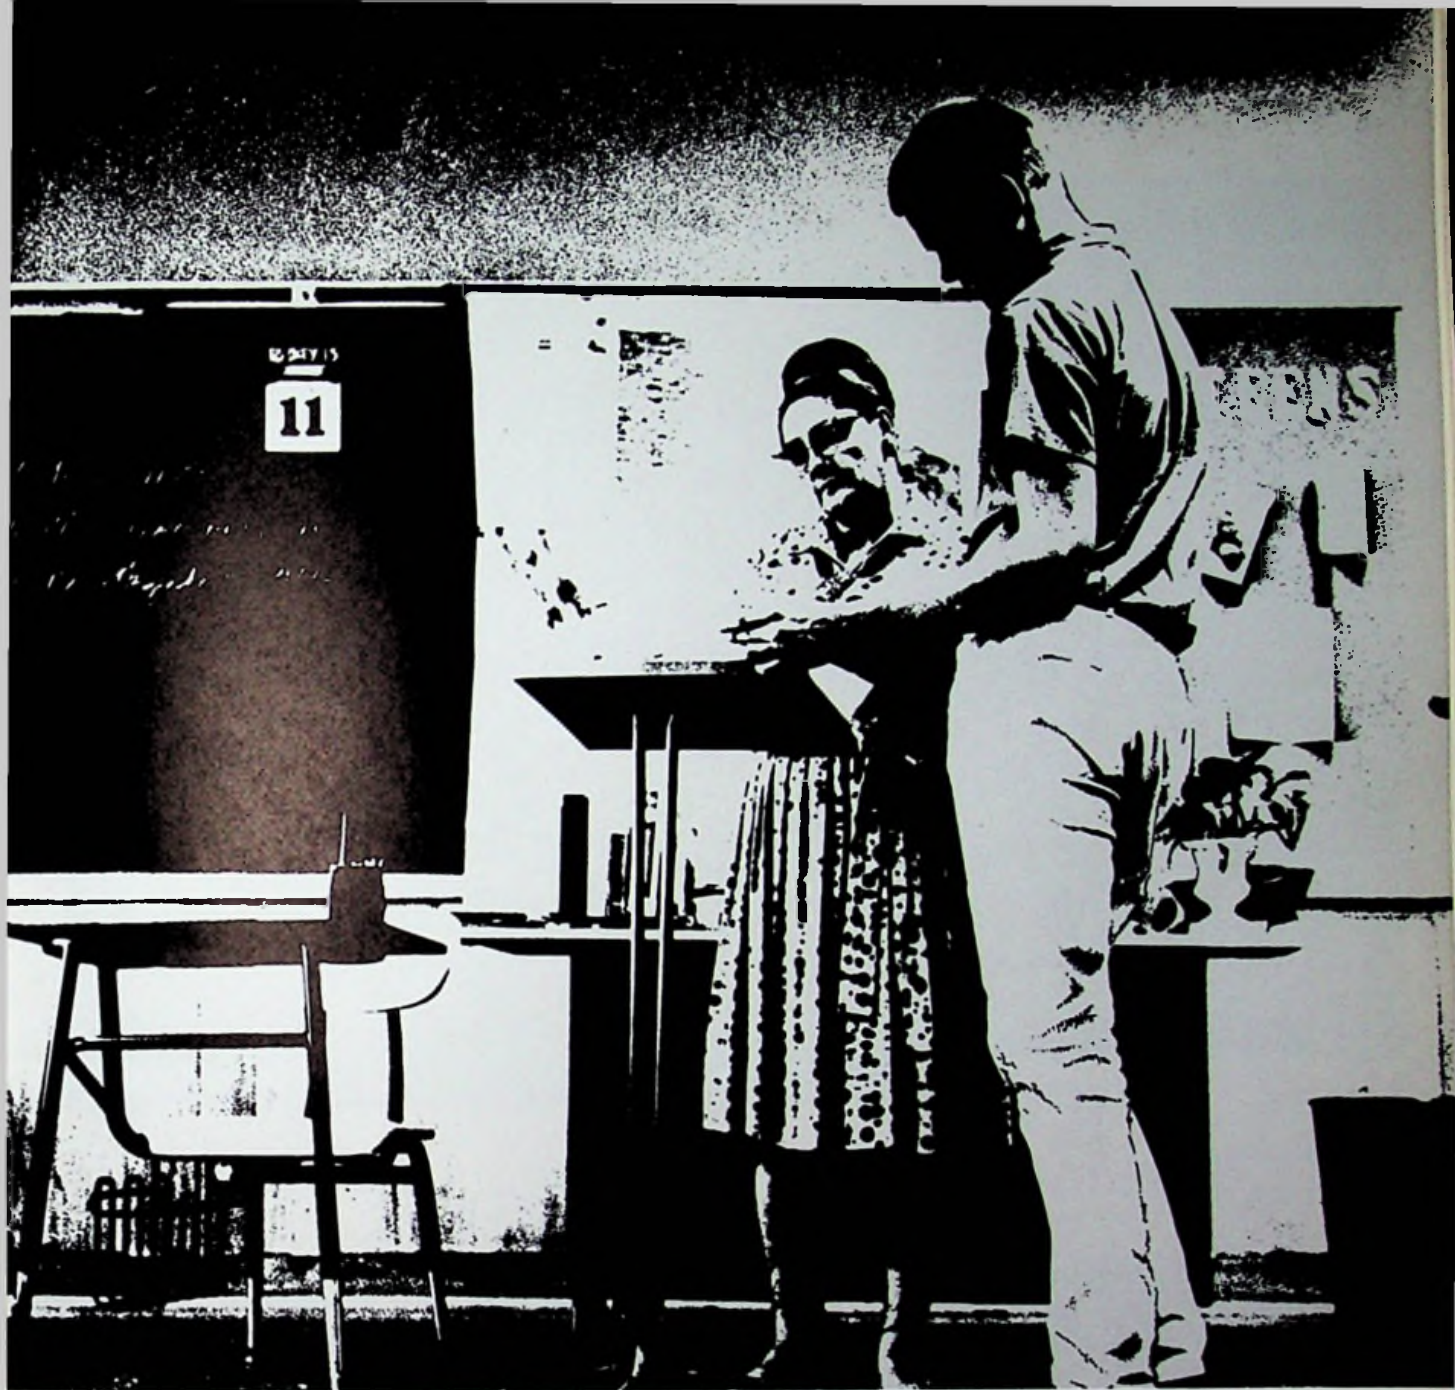

Moving on, we made a stop in Atlanta, Georgia, where we discovered that Lana Clifton and Ricki Fraley had gone into business. They manufactured Clifton and Fraley's Dillo pickles. The next comfort stop was in Nashville, Tennessee; there we discovered that Dave Williams was a country music star. Also in Nashville, we spotted a Sunset Bowling Alley. Out of curiosity we went in only to discover that the owners were Deidra Beadle and Annie Thompson. They informed us that they owned a chain that covered the entire country. Upon entering the great state of Kentucky, we heard a loud voice yelling "Hup 2,3,4; Hup 2,3,4." Following the voice 90 miles, we arrived at Fort Knox and found Master Sergeant Frederick Dodd drilling his men.

On our last stop before entering New Boston, we discovered Brenda Murray and Terri Roberts were "maids" at a Gas Lantern in downtown South Shore. Then we could see a cloud of smoke in the distance and we knew that that was home. After entering the city limits, we found that the only things left were the steel mill and our Alma Mater, G. H. S. We decided to visit the school where we found the only inhabitants were two of our former classmates. Vema Riffe was still averaging her grades to see if she really should have been valedictorian. Poor Tom Jones, in ball and chain, was sharpening her Vernal G. Riffe pencils. They told us that pollution had destroyed our city and the people had scattered all over the country. So we took upon ourselves the task of finding our former classmates. Before leaving we decided to visit a few of them who had remained in the area. Birdie Presley was now a house detective at Marting's department store; Randy Lytten was now the minister at Trinity Methodist Church; and Greg Carr was the police chief. Tom Mathis and Johnnie Steele were guards at the N. & W. Railway and Sam Fannin was the feature singer at the new location of Shorty and Dee's Bar. His only song still, after twenty years, was "Kansas City." We then jetted out of Minford Airport with our pilot, Pat Parlin who was still "flying high."

We first headed for California where we found that several of our friends had become a part of the movie industry. Dave Lute was a great producer of educational programs; Paula Hale was now starring in 007 films; Rita Keeney had taken over as the Flying Nun after Sally Field's recent crash landing; and Darrell Day, Tony Moore, and Raymo Roberts composed T.V.'s new Odd Squad. Our old friend Jo Ellen McKelvey was starring with Mickey Rooney in Hollywood's latest film release, "The Tall and the Short of It."

We made a fuel stop in Dallas, Texas, and discovered Bill Fitch who now owned his very own meat market. He employed Jim Gulley, Grant Salyers, and Phil Fitch as his cattle rustlers. Bill informed us that three more of our former classmates were now living in the western section of our country. Debbie Shoemaker, Farris Lowder, and Opal Carver were marriage counselors in Reno.

Our next stop was Chicago. Here we found Vonald Patrick cleaning restrooms in the Playboy Club and Vicki Osborne the owner of a chain B.B.F.'s. Vicki told us that our old friend Debbie Fannin had recently been admitted to Mayo Clinic and was under the care of Constance Suanne Lynn Brenda Fugitt who had just lost her 27th victim. When we visited Debbie at the Mayo Clinic we also saw Tom Clevenger who had been admitted to the cancer ward for chain smoking. After our hospital visit, we received a message that we were needed in Washington D.C. on urgent business. Upon arriving at our nation's capitol, we learned that the only motel vacancies were at the Pentagon Motel. When we arrived at the motel, we realized that this was the same place we had stayed during our Senior Trip. Little to our surprise, Brenda Emshwiller was still there inserting quarters into her alarm clock and Bev Tingler was holding a sit-in in room #1. The girls informed us of the where-abouts of our few remaining classmates, who were all in New York City. John Cooper and Mark Upton were co-owners of a Rexall Drug Store in Greenwich Village; Cheryl McClure was division manager of Stanley products; and Vicki Patrick was fashion model well known for her fabulous legs. Vicki informed us that our old Miss River Days, SuzyAdkins, had recently been crowned Miss Paris. In hopes of locating Suzy, we departed for France. We looked all over Paris but no one there had ever heard of her. We returned to New York to check with Vicki and disappointedly learned that it was not Paris, France - but only Paris, Kentucky. Exhausted, but overjoyed at seeing all of our old friends again, we returned to our Cape Kennedy base to complete the plans for our class reunion.

"OUR MISS BROOKS"

Imagine a high school where snow storms occur, band instruments are hidden, basketballs are stolen, money is misplaced, and expensive vases are broken and you have the setting for the Sr. Class' production of "Our Miss Brooks." Even more unbelievable is the fact that amid all this chaos a heart warming class play is performed and our Miss Brooks finds her man.

The new, young English professor doesn't realize that his students have all passed entrance exams in witchcraft and sorcery - that this is a school for young witches!

"Black magic" is practiced in many instances - a contest is held to determine the most talented witch, a love potion is brewed by a jealous student, and a weird exorcism is necessary before a happy ending is finally reached.

Student Council

The Student Council is designed to draw the student body, faculty, and administration into closer communication. Glenwood got into the swing of things by organizing their first Student Council. It consisted of 17 members; four Seniors, three Juniors, two Sophomores, two Freshmen, two Junior High members, and one representative from the National Honor Society, Library Staff, Business Club, and F.H.A. Vema Riffe served as President, Suzy Adkins as Secretary, and Mr. James Warren as the sponsor.

 (Third Row) Mr. Cullum, Rita Keeney, Steve Williams, Suzy Adkins, Vema Riffe, Scott Oliver, Greg Cobum.

National Honor Society

SCOTT OLIVER

Scholarship, Leadership, Service, and Character are the four strong pillars that constitute the foundation of the National Honor Society. This year two Senior members were chosen to represent each pillar. These members were thought to be strongest in the individual categories. As President, Scott Oliver represented all four pillars thereby serving as an example for the entire Society.

Tiger Silhouette

The Tiger Silhouette staff worked long and hard to provide a bigger and better yearbook for the students of G.H.S. While most were enjoying extra curricular activities or simply being lazy, we were working hard in a hot sticky room putting this book together.

Many thanks to my entire staff but especially to Suzy Adkins, Don Skaggs, and Paula Hale for without their help I never would have made it.

My only wish is that this 1970 Tiger Silhouette brings many happy memories to mind and that it is enjoyed by all.
