Foreword

West High School is not just a brick building, a group of boys and girls and teachers. West High School is a mixture of all the emotions and opinions of all the people who have some part in the school.

The 1966-1967 Annual Staff has striven to capture the feelings, not just the faces, of the students, faculty, and administrators at West.

In order to compile this books, the annual staff had to have the help of many people. The staff would like to thank Mr. Crum for his untiring patience and aid, Mr. Distel and faculty for their cooperation, the students for so willingly participating in the arranging of yearbook pictures, Mr. Fox for the many days he took pictures, and the Taylor Publishing Company, without whom there would be no annual.

Now the yearbook staff presents Portsmouth West High School to you.

Mr. McKenzie

Says . . .

Congratulations to the Portsmouth West High class of 1967! Having just completed your public school years, your feelings of accomplishment and pride are understandable. However, you must not let these feelings become ones of an ultimate goal. There are many challenges before each of you; higher education, a rewarding job, and above all, the endeavor to be an asset to self, community, and country.

Washington Local School Board

Mr. Distel Says . . .

Educators realize that today students must be prepared to meet the needs of a highly technical society. But we must also realize that the well rounded student is one who can bring something more to life than technical skill. We at Portsmouth West never want to lose sight of the importance of the student as an individual rather than as a technical asset to our society.

The Making Of A

To many students at West it is very important to be a member of a scholarship team. They begin by studying, either in a group or by themselves, for the preliminary tests given in March. The three students ranking the highest in each subject make up the scholarship team. Once the team is formed, studying starts again in full force. Books are checked out from the library, and students are drilled by their teachers.

Then in May the big day comes. Off go the select few to Portsmouth High School for the final district tests. Tests are given out and taken. It is with great relief that most people leave Portsmouth High School.

Waiting anxiously, students keep watch for the test results to come to their school. If a team member places, he is rewarded at the awards assembly, but even if he doesn't place he still deserves the recognition of his school for attaining the honorable position of being on a scholarship team.

Many students study in groups in order to have more opinions than their own about any questions that arise.

One team member chooses to study in the relaxed atmosphere of his home.

Completely absorbed in her work, this student takes a preliminary scholarship test.

Scholarship Team

Now the teams start working again. A boy on the General Science team checks out a library book, and a girl on the American History team drills herself on history dates.

In May the students march off to Portsmouth High School to take the district finals.

A student receives her test and eagerly waits to open her test booklet and begin.

After the tests are over, two students light-heartedly trip down the steps.

On awards day, two team members proudly survey their certificates.

Scholarship

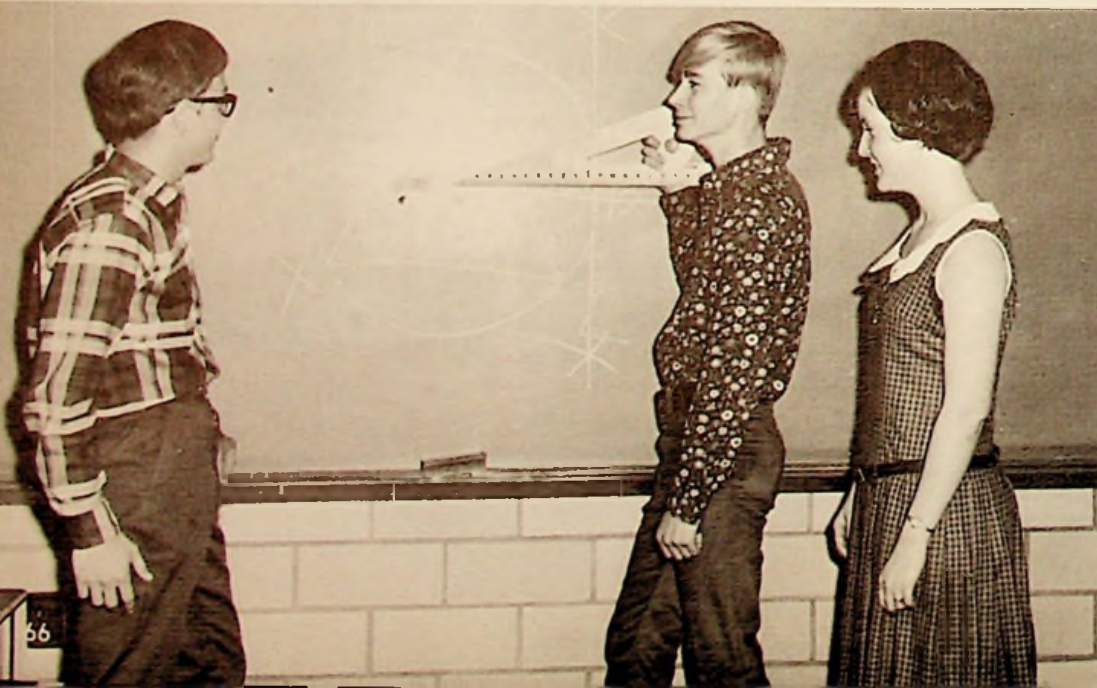

From the first of the year until spring, many of West High's students persistently study in order to be on a scholarship team. But good grades alone do not guarantee the attainment of this honorable position. A member of a scholarship team must be one of the three highest scorers of the preliminary test subject in which he is being tested. The next two pages show the members of all the scholarship teams of Portsmouth West High School: students who deserve great respect and admiration.

The National Honor Society strived to be more than an honor group by performing services to the community and school. The group raised money by sponsoring a bake sale and a spring dance. The funds were used to provide families with food baskets and to award each of the valedictorians a small scholarship. This spring the society conducted their annual induction and acted as ushers at the graduation. The members ended the year by treating themselves to a hayride and a swim party at the home of Mr. Reiser.

Induction Of New Members

May 3, 1967

Alan Nickel carefully guides the solemn and newly inducted Mary Shepherd.

Brenda Bloomer lights her candle with the serenity befitting an Honor Society member.

The probationary members seriously make their vows.

After induction, old and new members alike join with parents and visitors at a tea held in the home economics room.

Typing Contestants

Citizenship Award Winners

Carol Cook, Alan Nickel, and Debbie O'Dell were the three West students to place in the citizenship tests given by the James Dickey Post of the American Legion.

Buckeye Girls' And Boys' State

The Buckeye State representatives from West were Alan Nickel and Janie Smalley. At Buckeye Girls' and Boys' State, a government is formed by all the representatives, some taking the most important and some the less important, but it is all instructive and worthwhile.

DAR Representatives

The DAR test questions are based on the American government, and it is sponsored by the Daughters of the American Revolution. The two students from West taking the test this year were (left to right) Janis McCoy and Becky Rice.

Valedictorians

In the year 1966-1967, there were three valedictorians in the graduating class of Portsmouth West High School. Janis McCoy, Alan Nickel, and Fred Bobst maintained a perfect 4.0 accumulative grade point average throughout all four of their high school years, thus entitling them to receive this great honor.

These students have gained the respect of their fellow classmates, the rest of the students at West, and the faculty. All the people at Portsmouth West are watching Janis, Alan, and Fred, hoping that their future will be as successful as it promises to be.

Senior Honors

Janis McCoy received a Rotary scholarship.

Alan Nickel was awarded a scholarship to Ohio State University, the School of Engineering.

Dan Warner won a scholarship from Ohio University.

Roger Simpson was a member of the SOC and SCL All-Star teams.

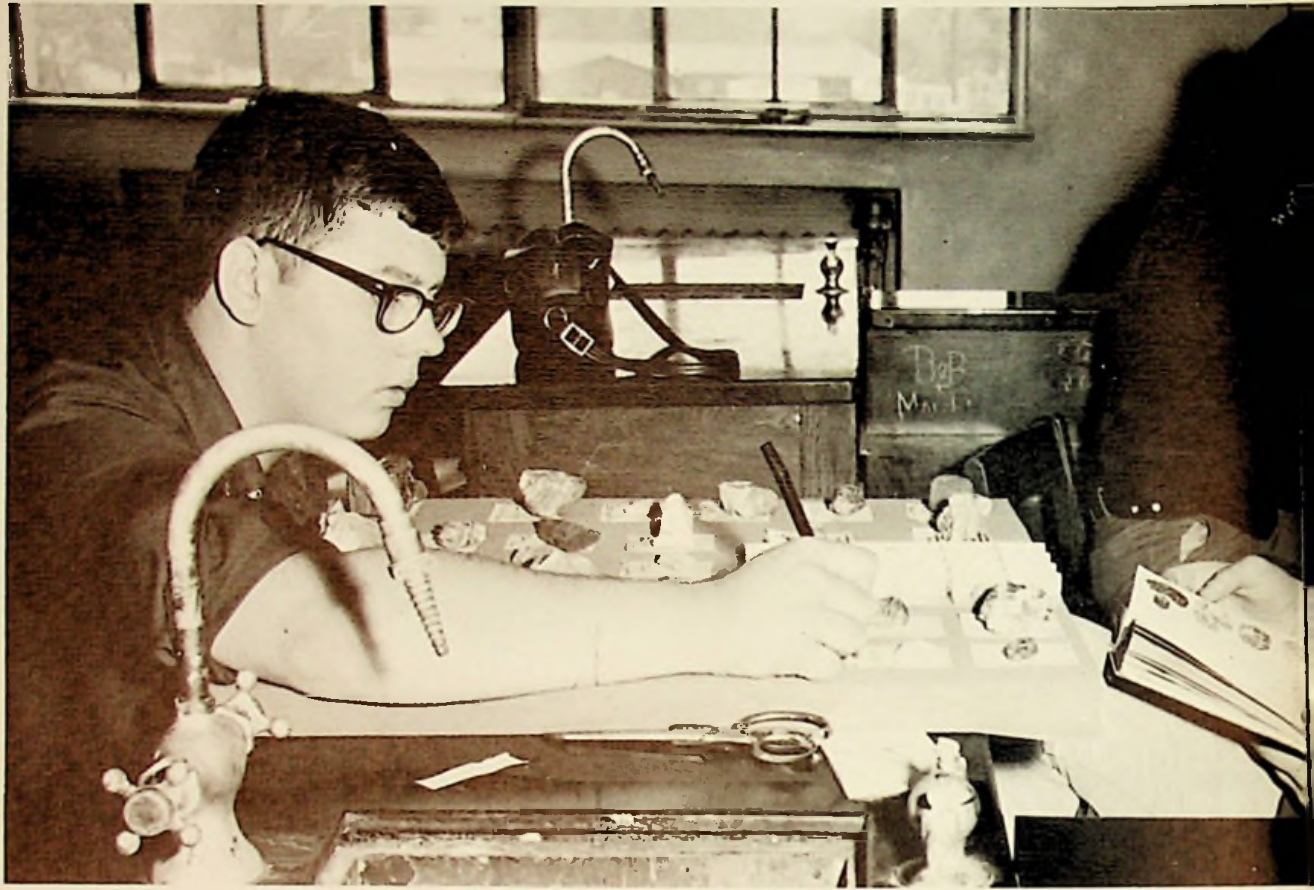

Rick Ferrell received a four year scholarship to William and Carey College.

Joe Weber received a four year scholarship to the University of Georgetown.

The Science Fair That Wasn't!

These two pages are devoted to the science fair that did not take at Portsmouth West. These pictures show two of the projects that were made in their early stages and the boys who constructed them.

Because of a lack of entries, the science fair could not be held. It is hoped that next year work on science projects will be started and finished early in the year and that more entries will be submitted.

Awards Day

On awards day, the students who have made the extra effort to achieve a goal they have set for themselves are honored by faculty and students. It is on these two pages that we picture these students, so that their achievements are remembered.

Mrs. Ressinger presents Janis McCoy with a certificate for being the most outstanding senior F.T.A. member.

Cheryl Easter was presented a trophy for being the most outstanding senior future homemaker.

Pat Wolfe was awarded the Betty Crocker Award because of her high score on the Betty Crocker Test.

Connie Payton was the highest placing scholarship student at West. She proudly surveys her first place trophy.

Ranking second highest was Dana Lathrop. She looks at her trophy from a respectful distance.

Debbie D'Dell was the third place trophy winner. Because of film trouble, she isn't shown with her trophy, but she did receive one!

The highlight of the awards assembly is when the five scholarship students who hold the five highest places in the district-state tests in the school are rewarded their trophies.

Janis McCoy and Alan Nickel both placed seventh in the district. Janis placed in English 12.

Alan placed in Senior Social Studies. Because he and Janis tied, they both received fourth place trophies.

SCL Co-Champs 1966-67 Football Season

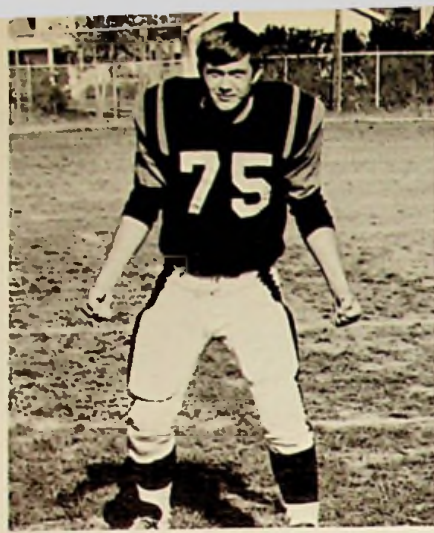

Probably the greatest moment of the 1966 season came in the very first game. Down 12-6 with two minutes and twenty seconds remaining, the team took the kick-off and drove 74 yards to score in the last seconds of the game. This gave us a tremendous lift and helped us to win four straight games until our loss to Notre Dame. The team came back the next week and pulled off a come-from-behind victory against Waverly. A win over Waverly is sweet any way it comes. The next week caught us down when we dropped a game to Minford that we should not have lost. But we think there was a lesson learned there, for next week we bounced back to beat Valley. Then we stalled at the six-inch line trying unsuccessfully to pull one out against Fairfield School for Boys. Therefore, the greatest attribute to the 1966 football team was their ability to bounce back; to get up after being down.

I think that next year, with added experience, the team won't be in a position to have to bounce back. I personally am eagerly awaiting the 1967 season, when we don't plan to settle for second best.

Kathy Raines and Jim Barber, her escort.

The chill fall wind and rainy weather were unable to daunt the spirit, charm, and good looks of Portsmouth West's football homecoming queen and court.

Regal Kathy and her attendants with their handsome escorts presented a lovely picture to the sports-minded spectators.

Much practice, hard work, and planning were behind the halftime activities. The queen, court, and escorts earned everyone's praise for the poise with which they carried out the homecoming program. West High School students are also to be commended for choosing such attractive girls for football homecoming.

The Best At West

Coach Terry Williams is caught here in one of his few minutes of free time in the basketball season. His tireless effort and knowledge have boosted the team and helped also to boost our school spirit.

The efforts of coach Williams and the team's practice and training have paid off for our fighting Senators. The boys showed great enthusiasm and spirit in the past trying season. Although all of the team's goals were not achieved, they plan on setting new records and making next year a great one in the sports history of West.

Senators Whip East In SOC Contest

Rick Ferrell Breaks Own Record

Rick Ferrell set the individual scoring record at West High School for the third time in two years Friday night when he pumped in 55 points to lead the Senators to a 100-72 win over East.

The 6-3 senior bagged 20 field goals and 15 free throws in marking up his record-breaking total. His 55 points betters by two the 53 he scored against Green last month.

Ferrell began his assault on the West scoring record last season when he netted 43 against Notre Dame.

Ferrell now has scored 500 points in 15 games this year for a 33.3 average. He is scoring at an even 30-point clip in the Southern Ohio Conference with 181 points in six games.

The SOC win for the Senators wasn't an easy one, however, because for two quarters East gave West all it wanted.

West lead 27-19 at the first stop and was holding a 41-35 at the half. But the Senators went on a 33-point splurge in the third frame and built up a 74-60 lead that East could not overcome.

The Senators chalked up 26 markers in the final stanza to hit the century mark for the second time this season.

West is 10-5 for the year and 3-3 in the league. East has won two of 12 games over-all and has lost all six conference games.

Two other men hit in double figures to assist Ferrell in the win. Steve Mignery tossed in 14 markers and Jack McDermott canned 13.

WORK AND PLAY

Annual Staff

A deadline to meet, a picture date ahead, special pictures to be taken—these are only a few of the pressing duties of the annual staff. Their job is to capture some of these students feelings during one school year, to photograph many of the school's events, and then to combine all of these into a lasting album of memories.

What is success to the members of the annual staff? Success is learning of the happiness a student feels when he sees a picture of himself in the yearbook and reads his name (correctly spelled). Success is also a word of praise for the yearbook, that a thoughtful person gives a member of the annual staff.

There are many jobs the annual staff must do, and many long, work-filled hours they put into the yearbook. All the staff members agree that it is worth all their efforts when they look at the yearbook they have edited with the help of fellow students, faculty, and many other persons.

Jim Wilson surveys one of the pictures which he plans to use in the sports section.

Becky Folsom, Vickie Coburn, and Brenda Dodds are caught by surprise while seriously pondering which layout to use.

Working on one of their many proofreading jobs, Debbie Prince and Janie Smalley check the senior class pictures.

Mr. Foxes' camera catches the annual staff in an informal planning period.

Diana Wiltshire, Mary Pollard, and Phyllis Wolfe add the finishing touches to the annual's advertisements.

Typists, Rhonda Kuhn, Pat Sturgill, and Phyllis Hopkins, play an important part in the annual work.

The annual subscription salesmen check off names as the students hand over that cold, hard cash.

Senator's Page

Under the supervision of Beverly Conley and Mr. Roland the Senator's Page has proved to be one of the leading examples of school spirit. The newspaper covers all aspects of school life and has kept West abreast of the current school events throughout the 1966-67 school year.

Student Council

The Student Council, under the supervision of Mr. Nickel, completed many projects this year. Members of the Student Council bought a new flag for the school.

The Student Council decided to recognize the valedictorians, so they bought a plaque on which the valedictorians names were engraved. It was planned to hang the plaque in the trophy case.

Student Council members planned, decorated for, and sponsored the football homecoming dance.

Is the Student Council an active organization in the school? It surely was in the year 1966-1967.

Future Teachers of America

The Future Teachers of America endeavors to help its members realize the qualities and traits which are basic to successful teaching; secure accurate information on opportunities in education; acquire an understanding of the development of our schools and to participate in activities which are both developmental and exploratory in nature. The F.T.A. also seeks to offer potential teachers appropriate experiences to help them develop a readiness for teacher education in the college program.

The local chapter has been active in the service of its school, being active in all phases of classroom assistance. A trip to Marietta during Career Month will include a visit to Marietta College along with a tour of the city and museum.

This year there was no Latin I course offered at West, but a class for Latin II students who had taken Latin I the preceding year was taught. Latin I was substituted by French I; therefore, the Latin and French classes combined to form one club.

The Latin-French Club was invited to attend all Spanish Club activities. At the end of the year, the Latin-French Club gave an informal banquet and dance to which they invited the Spanish Club. The members of the Latin Class dressed in ancient Roman styles and used their knowledge of Roman customs to perform a mock marriage ceremony.

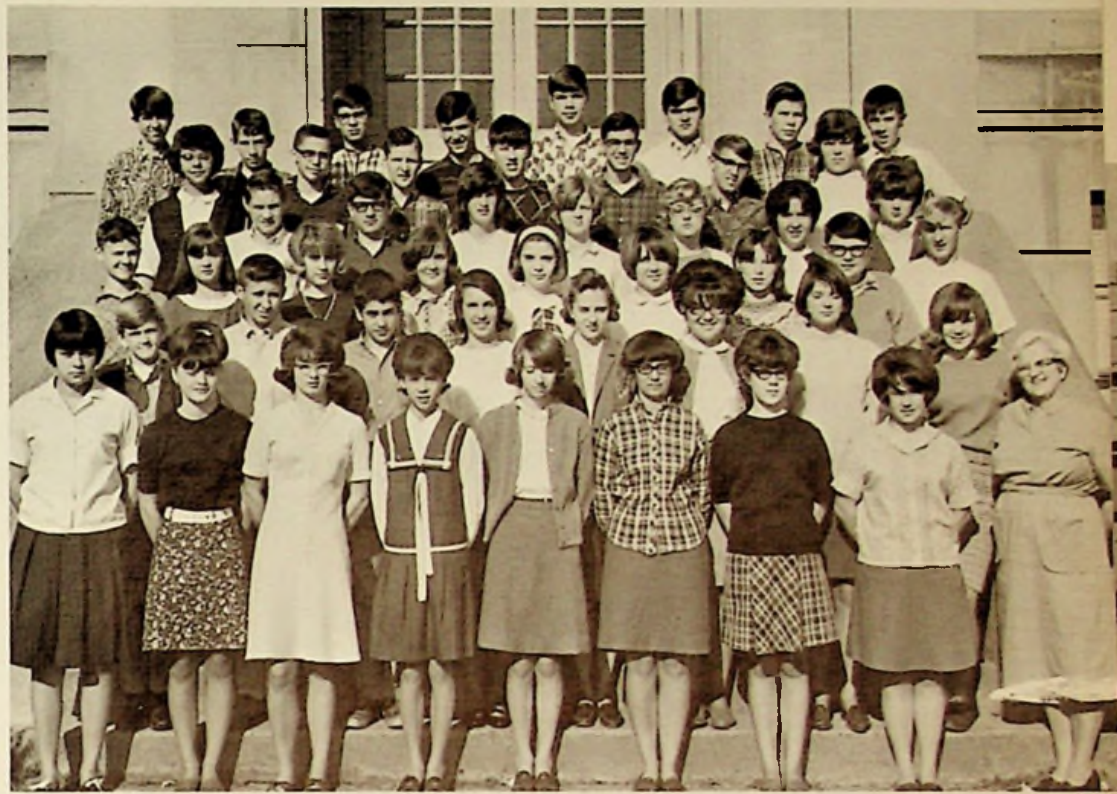

I, Butch Stall, do take thee, Linda Wittenmyer. . . .

Spanish Club

This year the Spanish Club sponsored a bake sale to take care of expenses for the Christmas fiesta. The fiesta was held in the high school gymnasium, and the Latin-French Club members were invited to attend. At the fiesta, grape punch, tortillas, enchiladas, potato chips, and Fritos were served. The Spanish custom of breaking the piñata was observed by everyone present.

First year Spanish Club members chose a key as the permanent insignia of the Spanish Club.

On May 20 at the Spanish Club picnic, members of the Spanish and Latin-French Clubs relaxed during a day of fun and games at Roosevelt Lake.

Home Economics

They say that the way to a man's heart is through his stomach but when the tantalizing odors of baking cookies and cakes come drifting throughout the school, the "growling" begins, and everyone finds the Home Ec department in demand.

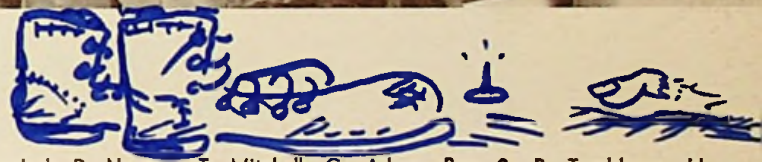

Making dresses, cooking, and learning home-making techniques were only part of the girls' duties as they participated in a style show at Northwest, kept the sick room in tip-top shape, and decorated the school Christmas tree with homemade Christmas decorations. Cheryl Easter took top honors as the most promising Future Homemaker, and Pat Wolf was bestowed the Betty Crocker Award.

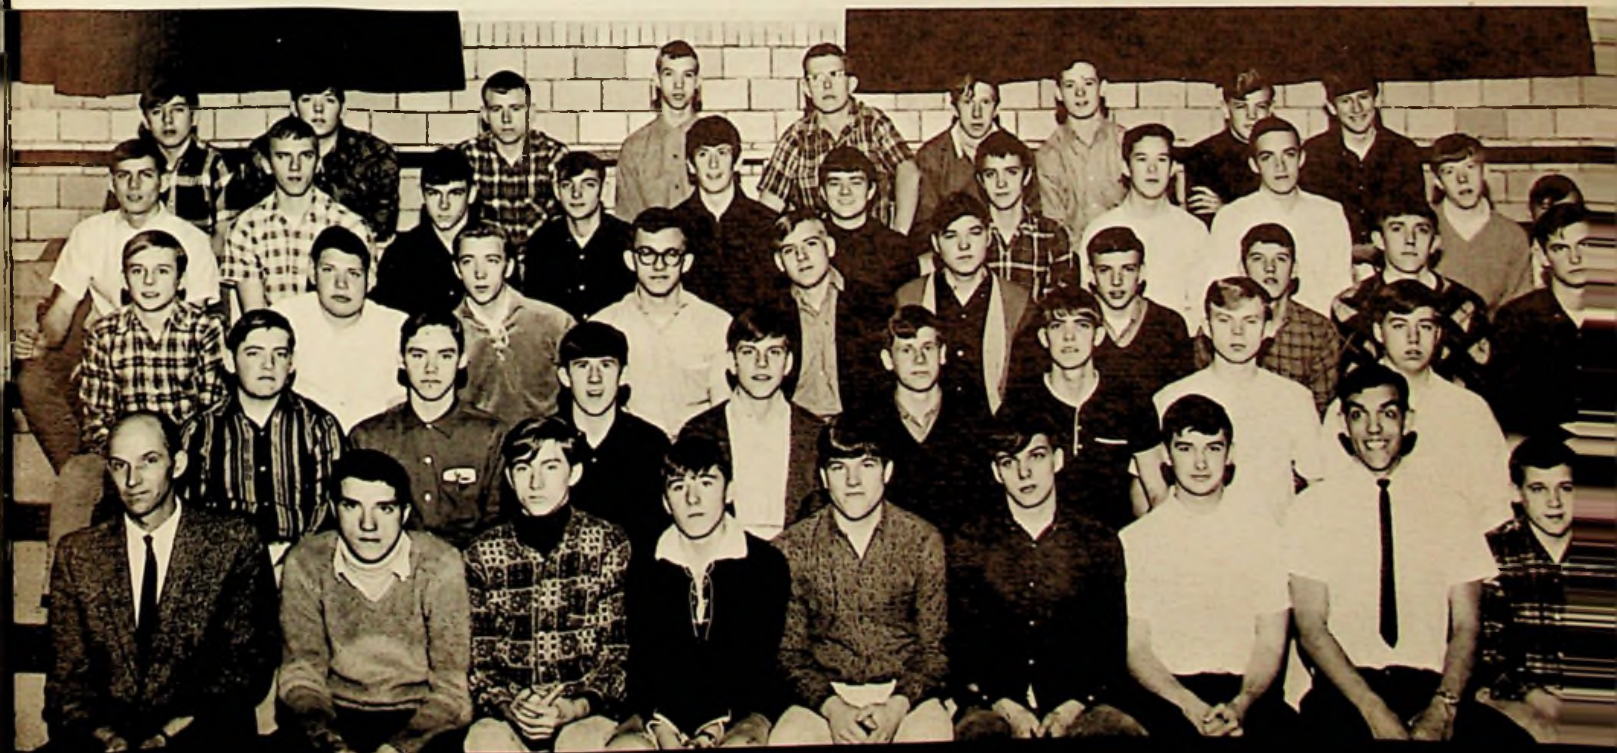

Industrial Arts

Industrial Arts students won't be too popular with some Portsmouth West students next year when the rumor gets around who made the teachers' paddles. Well, even the best secrets can't be kept!

Besides adding to the teachers' supplies, members helped make decorations for the Junior-Senior Prom held in May attributing their talents to "caging" some go-go girls. Home woodwork such as tables, gunracks, and knick-knacks were made by students to get that personal homemade touch of design and accomplishment and to train students in a possible future vocation.

Youth for Christ

The teen-to-teen philosophy of Youth for Christ is to create a spiritual, mental, and social balance in the life of a Christian teen. It is hoped that this will enable him to communicate through his actions and words his faith in Jesus Christ. One of the goals of the Youth for Christ organization is to show teens who haven't accepted Christ that he can be their friend and that the gains for serving him are great.

The pep club helped the cheerleaders rouse the fans and excite the boys in order to get them in the mood to win. Without the pep club, there would be no excitement or noise, which is an important part of all ball games. When the boys are down and need a lift, the pep club is always there to bring them out of their slump. The pep club is essential for giving the boys the attitude they need to always come out on top. A lot of West's success in sports is due to the allegiance of the pep club and their never tiring loyalty.

The librarians of Portsmouth West High School are a hardy bunch of good workers. They work right beside Mrs. Ressinger, who they know demands efficiency, and cheerfully do any kind of work that anyone might ask them to do.

Magazine And Candy Sales Captains

"Get out and sell those magazines and candy and bring the money in." This was the familiar phrase passed around the junior homerooms each morning and afternoon through most of the school year.

These two projects were the main money raising means for the Junior-Senior prom.

Captains were chosen from each homeroom to head the sale.

The goal was reached—the "high salesman" being John Gilbert with a net of $124.00.

School Help

The school helpers, students who offer their services to the school, janitors, cooks, and the friendly secretaries, are deeply appreciated by the student body and the administration.

CLERK OF THE BOARD: Mrs. Lucas

Mrs. Hudson keeps a watchful eye on the cafeteria workers to make sure the dishes and silverware are sparkling clean.

Vocal Music

West High School takes great pride in its chorus, whose songs grace many of its assemblies. This year in competition the chorus and its smaller branches won many honors and much acclaim. With much hard work by the members of the chorus and the patience and ability of Mr. Giles, the chorus has become one of the most skillful and rewarding organizations of the school. Because of its fineness in the past and the present, we look for an even more promising vocal group in years to come.

This is West's — Marching Pride

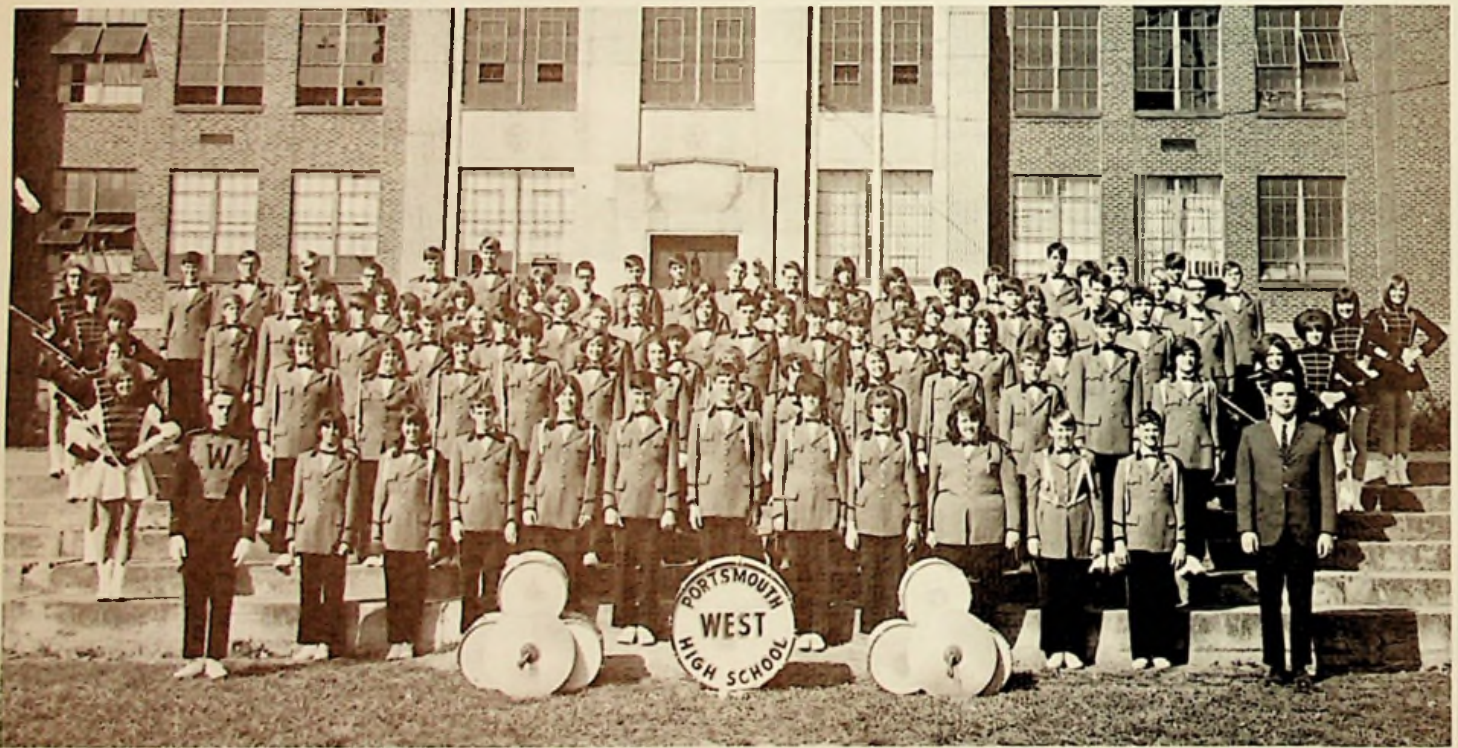

Mr. Sligh accepting first place trophy in the River Days Parade.

The band, under the direction of Mr. Kenneth Sligh, has been very active this past year. They have participated in various parades in Portsmouth and in the River Days Parade they took first place. They also went to Band Day at Coney Island on May 27.

The band played at the dedication of the new Turkey Creek Lake, and for a few fleeting minutes the band shared the privilege of being directed by Governor James A. Rhodes.

Mr. Sligh and the band worked persistently in preparation for the annual band contest which was held in Ironton. A rating of 3 was brought home by the smiling Senators.

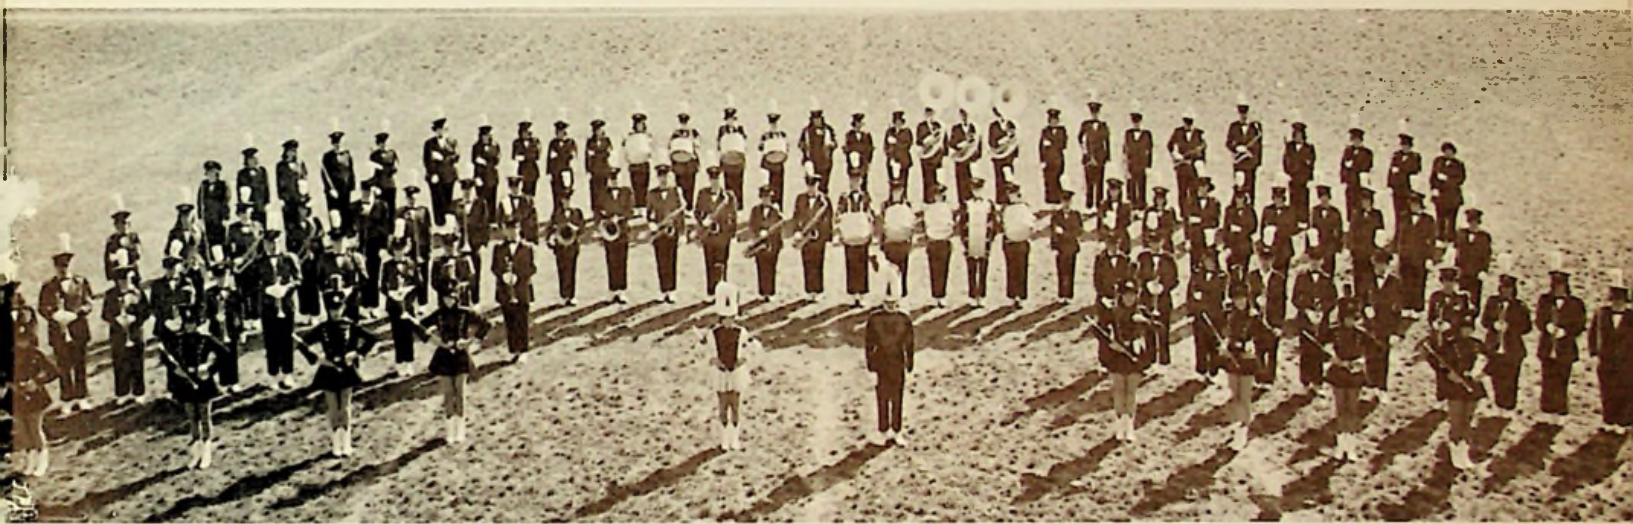

All in all it has been a prosperous year for the band, and Mr. Sligh has gained the experience it takes to be a really good band director, and all the band members wish him the best of luck in the years to come.

The West majorettes were busy during the 1966-67 school year. With the help of the Band Parents, a car wash, bake sale, and bottle drive, the majorettes were able to attend the majorette camp at Lebanon Junction, Kentucky. It was here the majorettes received second place honors in group competition.

At camp Crescendo the girls learned the bright, rhythmic routines which they performed at the ball games, parades, and the variety show.

The sparkle the majorettes add to the school activities is appreciated by all West High students, and everyone looks forward to seeing their entertaining routines next year.

Exchange Student Here From Mexico

Aurora Leticia Nateros Sanchez. Many persons can't sport a lengthy name as that even when marriage ties attach another to a woman, but Portsmouth West's exchange student held just that name.

A resident of Orizaba, Mexico, Portsmouth's sister city, Leticia studied at Portsmouth West throughout the past academic year. The 16-year-old seniorita's spirit and cheerfulness were welcomed by all; especially by her cohorts in the Senior Class who elected her to reign as Miss Spring over the spring dance.

Leticia's hometown friends weren't far away as the Majarachi Band, in Portsmouth for the River Days Celebration in September, gave a dance and music performance at the school. The group was from Orizaba. Also on hand to enjoy the performance was Leticia's mother who had arrived with her daughter to visit relatives living nearby. Throughout her stay Leticia, who returned to live in Mexico City at the end of the year, resided with Mr. and Mrs. Victor Morgan.

The Senior Class

Presents

“J u s t D u c k y ”

“Well, I guess I’m ready, Mr. Maxwell.”
(But for what?)

One brief letter written by two fourteen-year-old girls caused the hilarious troubles that made "Just Ducky" so successful. The letter, telling of a fabricated love affair, causes a father's dream-come-true to cave in around him, and, causes a mother to almost have a heart attack over the seemingly deplorable state of her daughter's character.

The wacky antics of the cast combined with their many improvisations made the play completely entertaining.

Betty Lou and Bernadine plunge into the mischief at hand.

Zippy takes time out for a breather.

Two against one is unfair.

Miss Flame And Court

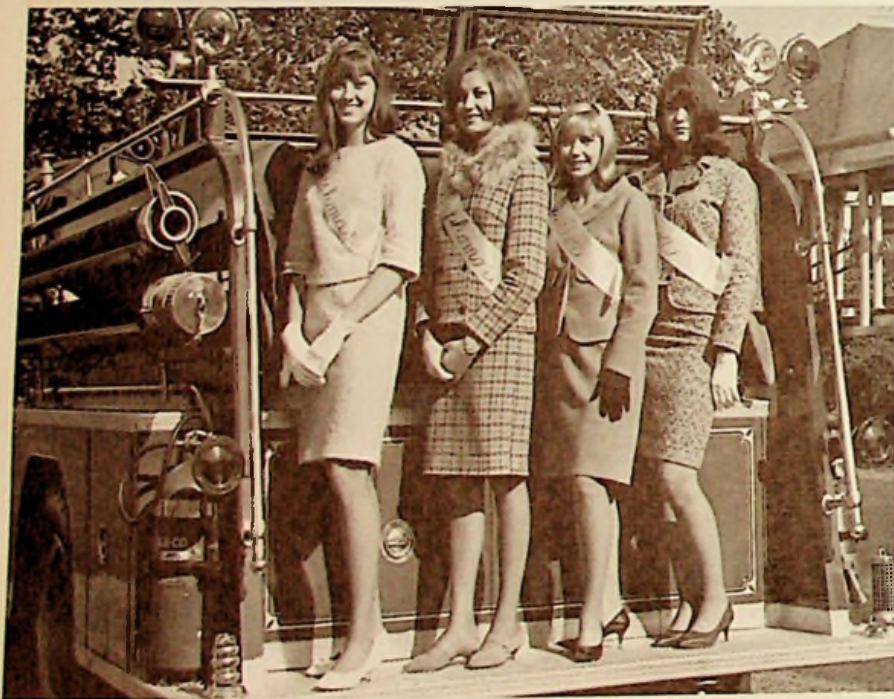

Miss Susie Cochran

A parade, a dance, and an action packed week ahead for the 1966 Miss Flame and her court.

Miss Flame and court are selected to preside over the National Fire Prevention Week by the student body at West.

The dance was held October 7 in her honor at the West Portsmouth Fire Department. Next came the parade, October 9, in which Miss Flame was escorted around West Portsmouth.

This can all very well be considered an action packed week.

A smiling Miss Flame and Court.

Rusty Kemper In Miss River Days Contest

Rusty will long remember the time the handsome actor Roger Smith rewarded her charm with a kiss.

Lovely Miss Rusty Kemper was West High's contestant in the Miss River Days beauty contest. Her poise, assurance, and beauty captured many eyes during the River Days celebration. Rusty complemented the West float and enhanced the River Days parade just as she adds sparkle to Portsmouth West High School.

Delicate flowers and Rusty—a fitting combination.

JUNIOR - SENIOR
FEATURING From THE OUTCASTS
FROM ASHLAND

The swingin' OUTCASTS from Ashland kept everyone moving.

Discotheque A-Go-Go

Featuring

The Outcasts

"Outcast" music—go-go-girls—London-mod hosts—all components of a unique prom in the West Portsmouth history books. The Junior Class went not only all out but way out to make the 1967 prom an affair to remember. The normal dream effect of taking the seniors on a magic carpet to far off lands of enchantment was no different. However, the carpet fell short of swaying palm trees and Parisian sidewalk cafes and into the loud, mad world of today's "mod." Juniors and seniors danced spiritedly to the rock and roll music of Ashland's Outcasts, and mini-skirted, mod-dressed sophomores acted as hosts to greet guests and serve refreshments from the "bar" at the Elk's Club. Wild colors flashed across the crowd from lights throughout the room to add an unusual effect to the already beautiful dance frocks, dinner jackets, and fresh flowers. An affair to remember? Who could forget it?

You lost what?

Hey! Where did the boys go?

Are you sure this is how it's done, Compton?

I just hope he doesn't break my arm.

PHILIP JAMES 68

I told her I wasn't going to shave it off.

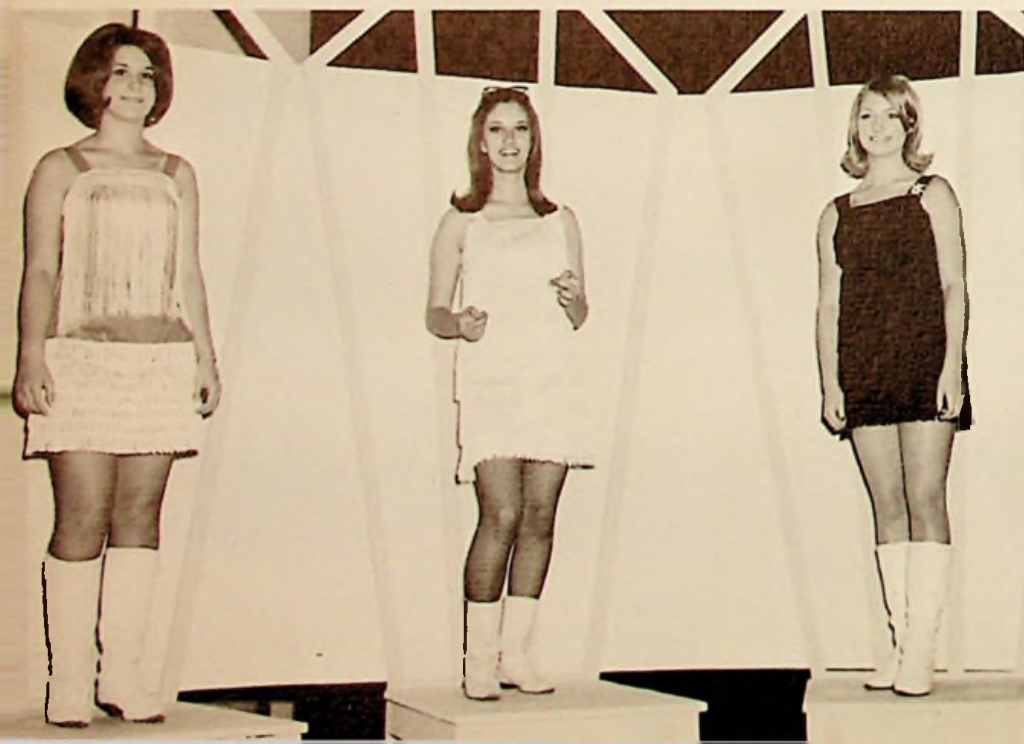

Mr. Reiser and his lovely wife seem to be enjoying themselves despite the music.

An even more charming hostess, Mrs. Mitchell greets Mr. and Mrs. Gillette.

 Row 1: J. Bloomfield, C. Anderson, D. Davis, K. Conley, D. Gifford, B. Nichols. Row 2: M. Pennington, C. Maynard, B. Folsom, D. Castle, M. Nichols. Row 3: V. Coburn, J. Steiner, K. Weghorst, M. Perry. Row 4: J. Gilbert, R. Windsor.

This is the motley prom committee. These people were not on any specific committee, but they volunteered their services to help in any way possible to make the prom successful.

Senior Trip

The senior trip this year was unforgettable for the seniors who went and for St. Louis. Even the chaperones had a good time. Although the seniors were not able to go to the brewery because of a mix up in correspondence, there was still the St. Louis Zoo and the sites of the city to see. There was only one big disappointment, and that was that poor little Jim Thompson did not get to see the Clydesdale horses.

We didn't know the guys were so . . . muscular???

This is just one of the many interesting sights that the seniors saw while on the senior trip.

"Kathy, Kathy, come back to me!" cries Mike Bretz, beseechingly.

True sisterly love.

Miss Spring And Attendants

Miss Spring is a befitting title for the naturally lovely Leticia Nateras. Leticia's quiet elegance blends well with the invigorating and beautiful season she represents.

Leticia's attendants were as fresh and pretty as many of the flowers that bloom in spring. The attendants were escorted by the boys of their choice.

A dance, sponsored by the senior class, was held in honor of Miss Spring and her court. Miss Spring was escorted by Dan Warner. Leticia was presented with a corsage and a bouquet of roses. The senior class also bought and gave Leticia a class ring.

We hope that Leticia will remember her reign as Miss Spring, but it is a certainty that West High will never forget it.

Miss Spring, Leticia Nateras, regally stands outdoors admiring the luxurious season whose name she bears.

Graduation

What does a graduate feel on graduation day? Frightened. Sad. Relieved. Thankful. Deliriously happy. Maybe he feels one of these or maybe he feels a mixture of them, but most graduates feel a sense of accomplishment, a great surge of pride that they have stuck by their guns and finished something.

Everyone has heard all the old graduation clichés about leaving the sheltered school life and taking the first steps out into the cold, hard world. But even if we hear them a hundred times over, it must be admitted that they are as true as ever.

Graduates are mature students, but two weeks after graduation the distinguished title of "graduate" is forgotten and a person is only a person. He is a person who has to make his own way, find his own job, take the breaks that are offered him, make his own decisions. In other words, he is out on his own and he is no better than the next guy.

In the business world, in college, or in anything else a graduate of West is involved in, we are sure he will succeed, and while he is busy fulfilling his ambitions we are also certain he will behave with dignity and pride in himself.

I, Bill Diller, do present you, my father with this diploma which certifies you have FINALLY graduated.

On this day of graduation, the boys are so sad about leaving each other that they have to get together for one last fraternal chat.

Day

Vanity prevails, even on an auspicious occasion such as graduation.

Dan Warner concentrates on pinning Cheryl's carnation on without sticking her.

I see you made it too!

Nancy Blake proudly accepts Mr. Distel's congratulations.

Looking Back

This is the typical reaction when a girl learns she has been elected football homecoming attendant.

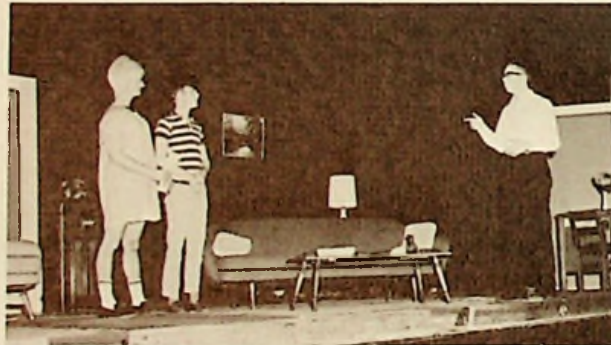

Is Myrna Burchett kissing the Invisible Man?

Gene, really!!

Can you imagine? I dropped my hanky and Jason didn't pick it up!

Bill, have my daughter home by 10:30!!

Feast your eyes on those legs, guys!

Mr. Distel, what have they done to you?
