ATHENEUM

This, the seventh edition of U. S. Grant Atheneum, has been edited and published by the 1937 graduating class.

It is largely made up of material contributed by Grant's Junior High School students. When, in future years, you chance to turn back through the pages of this year book perhaps it will bring back memories and recall events which have taken place at Grant.

The Annual Staff sincerely hopes that this edition will prove pleasing to all who read it.

The Editor-in-Chief,
Alice Ann Pixley.

Class History

The 9A Latin Class has been rather active this year holding three skating parties and one candy sale, all of which were very successful.

At Christmas the officers together with our former teacher, Miss Smith, gave us a party at which time we gave Miss Smith presents.

The students have had an active part in the printing and publishing of the S. P. Q. R., a newspaper covering the death of Caesar.

This spring we plan to arrange a dance in special honor of those graduating into P. H. S. and for the pleasure of the entire ninth grade class.

The members of our class were very sorry to see Miss Smith leave Grant for a position at P.H.S., but we are fortunate in having one as efficient as Miss Wyant to fill her place.

Class History

The 9A-2, which is a commercial class, is composed of thirty-eight pupils of whom eight are girls and twenty-eight are boys. Last semester we had a skating party and a candy sale. Before Christmas vacation we had a passing party, which we enjoyed very much. The second semester Virginia Hughes and Frank Bivens found it necessary that they leave school. Mr. Daum is our home room teacher and advisor. We enjoyed being in his class and hope he will miss us when we leave dear old Grant.

CLASS HISTORY

Last fall when school opened, we had twenty boys, all of whom were taking manual training. At the beginning of the second semester two boys, Loren Kuhn and Louis McGue, withdrew. At present our class numbers twenty six.

Because of the flood damage to the woodshop, we have been taking mechanical drawing. Our work has been sextant-view drawing.

8 CLASS HISTORY
 We 9A-4 girls have been very busy this year sewing and cooking. We have just finished a scrap book on The Well Planned and Furnished Home, and soon will be creating spring dresses. Several successful skating parties and candy sales were given. We are trying very hard to earn enough money to buy reference books and other Home Economics equipment.

CLASS HISTORY

In room fifteen there are forty pupils enrolled in the class, twenty of whom came from Bond and twenty from Grant. Thirty-three of these pupils are taking Commercial courses and seven are taking College Preparatory.

We hope that the new students care for our school as we do and that they will help us make it bigger and better in the next semester.

Officers were elected March 26th, and home room meetings are held each Friday. Further activities have not yet been planned, but we hope to carry on next fall the responsibilities left us by the present graduating class.

CLASS HISTORY

The 8A's have had a very successful year, having candy sales and three skating parties. We had a Hallowe'en Party with Miss Trowbridge as guest of honor. Cider and doughnuts were served for refreshments.

Before the Fall Festival the boys and girls had a contest in selling the festival tickets. The girls won; so the boys have to furnish the girls' lunches on our next hike. We have been very lucky in having Miss White as our home-room teacher for both semesters.

Class History

The 8B class has had a busy time this year. Last fall we had a boxing match. Alfred Nelson, Billy Fultz, Paul Andrews, Robert and Howard Burkhardt, and Donald Frank took part in it. This spring we had an Easter candy and egg sale. The only person who has had occasion to be transferred from our room this semester was Donald Frank, who moved to Sciotoville. We are unique in having Maxine Morton, our class president, married. Marian McCorkle was elected to fill the vacancy.

CLASS HISTORY

Our first year in Junior High School proved to be very successful. In all of our work, social functions, and sports, we did very well.

We won the prize for the most attractive booth at the Fall Festival, and Robert Liming won the first prize for selling the most tickets.

At Christmas time eight members of our class were selected to sing in the large chorus at Bigelow Church. We sang for several assemblies and for one Parent-Teacher Association meeting.

We shall earnestly endeavor to even surpass these accomplishments next year.

CLASS HISTORY

Our class is a new one in the Junior High School. We have thirty-four pupils, nineteen boys and fifteen girls. The most of us came into the Junior High from the 6A class of the Grant Platoon School.

Library Staff

Among the organizations of Grant School the Library Staff is unique. It's members volunteer; they do not pay dues; yet their contribution to the life of the school is a very fine one. They give up part, or all, of their free time in the library to work at the desk and the shelves, or to take charge of the books and reading cards of a class of younger children. They help make the library a pleasant, orderly room; they now know where things belong and help to keep them there. Sometimes they help their school-mates in finding the references they need. We believe everyone will agree that these students earn their Library Letters.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

Our Home Economics Club was organized last semester for all girls interested in problems of home-making. We planned to have two meetings each month, one a business meeting and the other a social meeting.

Last semester our club sponsored a trip to Ohio University on Home Economics Club Day. Ten girls attended this meeting in Athens, where we inspected University buildings, model homes, and attended a college football game. We have had several successful parties and skating parties.

Girls' Glee Club

In September when school opened, Miss Moore took charge of the Girls' Glee Club which had previously been taught by Miss Hazelbeck.

In December we entertained the Eastern Star Lodge with a selection of Christmas Carols. Later in the month the club sang at the Christmas morning service of the Central Christian Church. We also sang for the P. T. A. meeting of Grant School in December.

At the graduation exercises of the 9A's in January, we sang a number of songs,

Boys' Glee Club

In 1936 a Boys' Glee Club, the first of its kind in Grant School, was organized by Miss Elizabeth Moore.

At the Christmas meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association, they gave a program. This activity gave them more encouragement, and they planned to give an operetta, but the flood stopped all this, and they had to give up this idea because of insufficient time to practice.

Dan Rowlands, who volunteered his service as an accompanist, is from Portsmouth High School.

Girl's Athletics Club

The Girls Athletic Club has been very successful this year. It has fourteen members, six of whom were initiated at the beginning of this year. The initiation took place at Babcock's camp. Among many other very funny things the new members had to kiss Babcock's horse, Trixie.

The club plans to spend a day at Boy Scout Camp some time in May and also to sponser a May party to which all Junior High pupils will be invited.

Athletics

Grant was represented by the 6th, 7th, and 8th grade teams in the Grade School athletic leagues this year.

The 'A' team finished in a tie for third place, winning four games and losing three. Probably the most thrilling achievement the Grant team obtained this year was in holding the League champions, Highland team, to a 20 to 0 score.

The Basketball league was interrupted this year by the flood before it got a good start. The 'A' team was again Co-Champion with the strong Wilson team. They finished their schedule with three wins and no defeats.

Grant was represented in the second annual grade school track meet last year and made a good showing, considering the fact they were handicapped by not having many boys entered in the different events. Grant boys are showing an increasing interest in track and a better showing is expected this year.

GRANT PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION

In common with other organizations in the city, Grant School P. T. A. was interrupted in its monthly meetings by the flood. The organization did accomplish some of its major aims before the deluge, however.

In order to pay for the motion-picture machine purchased at the end of the preceding fiscal year, a Fall Festival was held with Mrs. Harriett Meyers as general chairman. The Festival exceeded expectations and the machine was entirely paid for. Other projects which have been suggested and which the group hopes to complete before the end of the year are the purchase of library books and gymnasium mats, and the establishment of a clothes center in Grant School.

Among the outstanding speakers on the monthly programs have been Miss Annabelle Harper, Supervisor of the Primary Grades of Portsmouth schools; Dr. O. D. Tatje, Director of the Portsmouth Board of Health; Mr. H. E. Cook, Supervisor of Portsmouth Coke Plant; Mr. J. L. Snook, faculty member of Antioch College; and Judge Russel McCurdy, Judge of the Court of Appeals.

LEST WE FORGET

No yearbook's complete without memories sweet
Of our teachers at Grant so dear.
So here goes with a tune in merry old June
To honor them far and near.

Like Lindbergh in height, a man of great might,
Is our principal, Mr. McMahan;
As he tells us to, that we try to do--
At least as much as we can.

What is that I smell, just after the bell?
It seems the cooking-class is in sway.
I wish I were there to make something to wear,
For everyone likes Mrs. Day.

And yet if you're wise, you'll get hammer and vise
And work in the lab. with me.
For there we can do the things we ought to
Under the direction of Mr. Crabtree.

We include in the hymn(?) the teachers of "gym".
Coach Fugitt does work with the boys.
Miss Gims shows the girls all sorts of twirls.
Oh, "gym" is one of our joys.

If variety's the life in this world's strife,
Then Miss Wyant must have all the fun.
For of all subjects we meet, her schedule's complete.
You'll surely be fond of one.

Are you thinking of Mars, or the moon and the stars?
Mr. Daum knows the "ropes" so 'tis said.
He can tell you just when you'll see them again,
But don't make his face become red.

When spring weather is had, and your memory's bad,
Miss Trowbridge will help you divide;
But also, I'm told, if you're not too bold,
She'll tell you the Spanish for ride.

Who next hoves in sight? It must be Miss White
With her history and geography maps.
If travelling you'd go, they surely should know
How to tell you without taking "raps".

Miss Williams, I'm told, has a heart of gold.
To everyone she's very nice.
Though math is quite hard, the means are unbarred
By her explanation--once or twice.

The smallest of all as we go down the hall
Is Miss Preston, our librarian fine.
If it's books that you need, with the very best speed
She gets them to aid in your "grind".

If it's music galore, we go to Miss Moore,
Who sings with much gusto and glee.
With batons she's adept; she should be eclept
Of Grant School, the Eurydice.

When in grammar we're low, to Miss Schwartz we go
To reduce our "ain'ts" and "I seen".
She knows what to say in the very best way
Down to the last-stated "has been".

This hasn't come through, as we wanted it to;
It doesn't explain how we feel;
But if we'd pour forth, their respective worth,
We'd have very much more to reveal.

So accept this verse, for better or worse,
And believe our intentions were good.
We've tried to be true in our statements to you
But perhaps haven't told what we should.

--Don Juan.

CHEERFUL BILL

As the sun comes up each morning,
Outside my window sill,
I greet a little feathered friend,
Whom I have christened, Bill.

Now Bill is not a man of moods,
It seems he's ever cheerful.
And if the whole world seems awry,
He'll chirp a happy earful.

Bill has built his little nest,
Beneath the housetop eaves.
To him it is a palace grand,
Although 'tis only leaves.

He loves to strut along the roof,
And chirp his merry song.
Bill gladly cheers the whole world up,
When everything seems wrong.

Betty Jane Anson, 7A

Now, pals, enjoy all good sports,
As on you go through life.
Our playing time may be quite short,
As well as may our strife.

The end is drawing near,
As our last yell we chant.
At the last game of the year,
Hurrah! for dear old Grant.

"VAS YOU DERE, SHARLIE?"

"So this, so this is Venice! 'Pon my word! by jove! 'tis Venice!" But there, dear reader, you are wrong. For not here did we have the gondoliers singing romantic songs in the moonlight as the gondolas glided smoothly over the dreamy waters; but stern, grim-faced men, struggling with their oars in a swirling, muddy current while the rain poured in drenching sheets on their already cold bodies. This was no glamorous setting for an idyll of beauty, but a dreary farce of hard work in a life and death struggle.

And the school! The gymnasium became an excellent stage for a game of water-polo. Pictures, pans, and pencils jostled each other in merry confusion as a motor boat would force against the current, causing a corresponding current withing the building. The electric clocks stopped their clicking because wires submerged in water are truly not effective.

The true effects of this monster's havoc were not noted, however, until the waters receded, leaving inches of mud throughout the building; hardwood floors buckled and standing in the air like dejected cornstalks; books ruined, having swollen to over twice their ~~size~~ and having a nauseating stench; pictures blurred and warped; plaster fallen in sticky lumps; wet paper and mud--mud--mud!! Such sticky-clinging mud!

School was dismissed for several weeks while the buildings were being rehabilitated. Even after classes resumed, hours were lengthened and classes doubled. At the end of the semester, we are only beginning to feel normal.

Would you like another flood?

GRANT SCHOOL ALPHABET

- A--Algebra, the word most pupils around Grant detest.
B--Bad, the descriptive adjective that describes most pupils here.
C--C hewing-gum, something well-known in classrooms.
D--Doing--we always are.
E--Excellent--few are.
F--Fair. The teachers think we are.
G--Good, a word the teacher emphasizes but gets nowhere.
H--Hear. The teachers don't think we do.
I--Industrious. Who is?
J--Joy. 3:00 P. M.
K--Kind. Something the teachers aren't when test day rolls around.
L--Luxury. We all have it.
M--Month. Hate to see the end of this come. (Report cards)
N--Noise. That's what we have at noon.
O--Order. Something the teachers demand.
P--Paddle. Pupils dislike it.
Q--Quiz, Mr. Daum's favorite word.
R-- Red. Mr. Daum's face usually.
S--School, where all of this takes place.
T--Talking. We do more than the teachers.
U--"U", something most pupils never get.
V--Virgin, the author of this dumb thing.
W--Willing. All the teachers are.
X--Xmas. Hurrah! a vacation!
Y--Yell. Something we do on test days.
Z--"Zams". This occurs every month.

CAN YOU IMAGINE

Leroy Lewis being good in class,
Jean Flood not looking in a looking glass,
Lois Liston being small,
Madelyn Eastman being tall.

Alice Ann Pixley being dumb,
Garnet Virgin without her gum,
Joan Babcock not talking about "Butch,"
Jean Kendall blushing very much.

Mary Belle Egbert not being a sport,
Elizabeth Faught being short,
Mary Louise Euth not trying to be pretty,
Clayton Cook not acting sturdy.

IN THE SPRINGTIME

The girls are playing jacks and ball;
While the boys are flying their kites.
 The birds are singing,
 The bells are ringing,
To welcome Springtime all.

The green grass is growing; the South winds are blowing,
Oh! the sweet fragrance in the air;
The bees are buzzing; the pussy-willows fuzzing.
The whole day long is fair.

The days now seem longer; the young willow-trees taller;
The butterflies dance in the air.
The old trees seem younger; the young trees seem younger;
Because they all welcome Spring.

Now the boys and girls are without coats or hats on.
My! surely Spring has come.
Now the girls play skip-rope, and the boys play marbles,
And the butterflies frolic all day.
The winter is over so let us all sing:
"Hip! Hip! Hooray! for good old Spring!"
