SCHOOL SONG

Scarlet stands for bravery,

Gray stands for might;

For Alma Mater dear

Go right in and fight

RAHI RAHI RAHI

Ever we'll play the game

Win the victory

And in our hearts will gain,

Strength and poise from thee.

Let us be ever true to Glenwood dear

Let scarlet and the gray

Fill our hearts with cheer

RAHI RAHI RAHI

Though distance we may roam

Thoughts will linger still

Of school days spent within

Glenwood by the hill.

SUPERINTENDENT'S MESSAGE

RAYMOND E. HALL
Superintendent

May I take this opportunity to extend my personal thanks to all of our Seniors in the class of 1965 who have been kind enough to give their talents in behalf of the New Boston Public Schools. You have brought many honors to your school in academic and athletic achievements; may your accomplishments be inspirational to the underclassmen of your school.

To this class goes the distinction of having the highest percentage of its graduates going into higher education since 1919; may your success for the achievement of your goals continue.

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

JAMES N. WARREN
Principal

Education today is extremely important to each boy and girl in high school. It is imperative that you develop good study habits. Learn to the maximum of your intellectual ability. It is also important that each student have an excellent high school record. This record is referred to concerning your grades, class standing, point average, comportment, and extracurricular activities. This information is not only important while you are in high school, but it is used extensively for references and recommendations to Colleges, Technical Training Schools, Institutes, Armed Services, Credit Ratings, Promotions, Security Risks, and employment of various types.

Other traits of importance that are constantly checked through the school are: respect for your teachers, respect for your fellow students, and respect for school property.

It is most important that you learn to respect yourself. If you have no respect for yourself, you will have no respect for other people.

Your character and reputation in school and after graduation from high school is a major factor to be considered in your life in order to be successful.

CLASS HISTORY

Sixty-nine frightened freshmen entered Glenwood High School on September 6, 1961. We elected Bonnie Grimm as our Queen attendant, and Bill Goddard and Cheri Beadle as our Annual King and Queen Representatives. Our class officers for the year were Cassandra Woods, President; Barbara Emnett, Vice-President; Janet Clifton, Secretary; Barbara Thomas, Treasurer; and Aaron Adams, Reporter. We were advised by Mr. Bond and Miss Bolton.

A group of sixty-three somewhat saner sophomores started the year on September 5, 1962. Cheri Beadle represented us at the Homecoming, and Jane Patton was chosen as Annual Queen; Mark Cornwell was our Annual King Representative. The following were our class officers: President, Roger Frazier; Vice-President, Aaron Adams; Secretary, Wendy Wohler; Treasurer, Roger McMeans; and Reporter, Linda Bolotta. Our advisers were Mr. Bond and Mr. Simpson. At the end of the year we ordered our class rings.

School started on September 4, 1963, with fifty-eight jolly juniors enrolled. Our Homecoming Attendant was Judy Huffman, and our candidates for the Annual King and Queen were Aaron Adams and Wendy Wohler. In October we received our coveted class rings. This was followed by our junior class play, "We're All Guilty", which was presented on November 22. With the help of our class officers: Paula Dunham as President, Roger Frazier as Vice President, Barbara Emnett as Secretary, Shirley Maynard as Treasurer, and Kay Riggs, Cheri Beadle, and Phyllis Fannin as Reporters, and our advisers: Mr. Bond and Mr. Simpson, we worked hard to promote a Junior-Senior Prom that would not be forgotten. On May 21 our prom was presented as a moonlight cruise on the beautiful Ohio. The theme was "Moon River."

On September 9, 1964, fifty-eight now superior seniors arrived to complete their last high school milestone. Shirley Maynard reigned as Homecoming Queen with Cheri Beadle as her Senior Attendant. The Annual King and Queen of 1965 were Bill Goddard and Cheri Beadle. The presentation of "Room and Board" as our senior play was made on April 2. Our class officers were Linda Bolotta, President; Mark Cornwell, Vice-President, Kay Riggs, Secretary; Raymond Stidham, Treasurer; and Barbara Thomas, Reporter. We were again advised by Mr. Bond and Mr. Simpson.

Our hard work paid off: at 4:30 p. m. on April 20, thirty-five seniors and three chaperones boarded the bus for New York. We saw many memorable sights: the Statue of Liberty, the U. N. Building, Chinatown, the Empire State Building and the 1965 World's Fair, but most memorable of all was our fabulous hotel, the Knickerbocker, and the fantastic Peppermint Lounge. In Washington, D. C. we visited the Wax Museum, the Capitol, the White House, the Smithsonian Institute, and President Kennedy's grave. With some sadness and some gladness we started the trip home; we arrived at the high school at 5 a. m. Sunday morning, very tired and very sleepy, but with remembrances that would last us a life time.

On May 22 the junior class honored us with the prom, which was again held on the riverboat, the Chaperon. The beauty of the evening was expressed by the theme, "Some Enchanted Evening."

Our joy as we marched down the aisle at Commencement was tinged with melancholy. For we realized that on that Tuesday night, May 25, 1965, we participated in our last activity as a student of Glenwood High School. Our dream which became a reality is now only a memory.

CLASS WILL

- I, Aaron Adams, leave my position as Miss Curry's chief library pest to Tim Thacker.
- I, Vernon Adkins, leave my ability to get along with Mrs. Wellman to the junior big enough to take it. It could be you, Melanie Wolfe.
- I, Ron Andrews, leave my beaver pelts to Roger Briggs. Practice makes perfect.
- I, Margaret Ball, leave my blush to that embarrassed junior, Donna Stewart.
- I, Freda Bear, leave my white teeth to Pat Steburg. Try Stripe Toothpaste, it's good.
- I, Cheri Beadle, leave my ability to be 5'1" and date someone 6'3" to Lana Lodwick.
- I, Bradley Bentley, leave my knack for getting thrown out of class to Tom Davis.
- I, Linda Bolotta, leave my ability to get along with Mr. Cullum to Brenda Conley.
- I, Blaine Bush, leave my ability to get along with Mrs. Clerico to Carolyn Wolfe.
- I, Mae Clark, leave the famous Clark name to Shirley: it helps to keep out of trouble.
- I, Janet Clifton, leave my nickname "Fatty Arbuckle" to Thelma Holbrook.
- I, Mark Cornwell, leave my ability to be a birthday cake on the Senior trip to any junior sweet enough to get it, it could be you, Debbie Thomas.
- I, Donita Cox, leave my ability to graduate with my husband to Linda Payton.
- I, Jim Cox, leave my hair to Coach Pelligrinon.
- I, Dave Craycraft, leave my nickname Beaver to Gary Beckwith. Practice shooting daily.
- I, Paula Dunham, leave my ability to drive to Wanda Jennings. Watch those gas stations.
- I, Barbara Emmett, leave my ability to bird when the jerk is in style to Anna Tomblin.
- I, Phyllis Fannin, leave my ability to get engaged before graduation to Linda Payton.
- I, Donna Fitch, leave my seat in the yearbook room to Mike Cottle. Try it on for size.
- I, Roger Frazier, leave my nicknames, Twitch, Spastic, and Wildman to Larry Todd.
- I, Mike Gayhart, leave my ability to get along with all coaches to Bill Faulkner.
- I, Bill Goddard, leave my size 15 bike to Larry Parlin. Remember Larry, safety first.
- I, Barry Grimm, leave my musical position at the 52 Club to Jim Duncan.
- I, Bonnie Grimm, leave my clumsiness to Pam Vaughn, Be careful Pam.
- I, Terry Groh, leave the Knickerbocker Hotel to Terry Salyers. You'll love that.
- I, Pat Hanners, leave my false tooth to Joe Freeman, Poligrip helps.
- I, Mike Harding, leave my beard to Susan Figgins.
- I, Judy Huffman, leave my tall characteristics to Joe Adkins.
- I, Linda Holbrook, leave my ability not to pass out in parades to Donna Royster.
- I, Luther Holsinger, leave my position on the basketball team to Jennie Wolfe.
- I, Phyllis Jenkins, leave my brown and blue eyes to any mixed up junior, Cindy Newberry.
- I, David Justice, leave only to return for a personal reason, you know why Nora.
- I, Rodney Litteral, leave Lana's nosey friends to anyone who wants them, how about it Wanda Newman.
- I, Louise Martin, leave all my problems to Bernadine Roberts. Take care of him, Bernie.
- I, Shirley Maynard, leave my position at the Big Boy to Lana Gilley. The back row is best.
- I, Diane Mauk, leave my 4.0 average to Robey Montgomery.
- I, Roger McMeans, leave my parking place in the church lot to Larry McMeans.
- I, Roy Musick, leave my seat in Mr. Darling's room to Gloria Taylor.
- I, Jane Patton, leave my irritating personality, my nervousness, and hiccups to Ann Whitley.
- I, Dona Plymale, leave my position as center on the basketball team to Mary Keeney.
- I, Kay Riggs, leave my nickname Foureyes to Bill Payne. We don't like contacts, do we?
- I, Barb Rase, leave my position as head cheerleader to Nanita Fannin.
- I, Linda Ruth, leave my ability to elope to Jody Riggs. Have fun, Jody.
- I, Jerry Skiver, leave my room at the Knickerbocker Hotel to Buck Osborne.
- I, Sharon Stewart, leave my nickname KY to Diane Roark, save your quarters DeeDee.
- I, Ray Stidham, leave my curly hair to any one who needs it, how about it, Mr. Cullum.
- I, Steve Sloan, leave my ability to get along with Mr. Cullum on the trip to Tom Ellisor
- I, Tom Stone, leave my parking place in front of Ticatch's to Mr. Booten.
- I, Mike Sweeney, leave my position at Ollie's to any chicken junior, Charles Keller.
- I, Barbara Thomas, leave my ability to play a trombone to Dennis Day.
- I, Charles Vaughn, leave my ability to get along with Mr. Stroth to Jim Ottney.
- I, Ed White, leave my shapely legs to Debbie Tackett.
- I, Wendy Wohler, leave my ability to learn new routines and not loaf to Susan Wohler.
- I, Cassandra Woods, leave my ability to be a blonde and brunette at the same time to any junior with dark roots. Try it, Steve Hempill.

CLASS PROPHECY

In 1985, I, Dr. Aaron Adams, and my associate, Diane Mauk, returned from Sweden to visit New Boston, our hometown. Upon our arrival we called a taxi to take us into town. We were greatly surprised when we found that Steve Sloan was the driver.

While driving along we saw Jim and Donita Cox, who had torn down Coxeys and built the Whitehall Trailer Court, where Janet Clifton spends most of her time.

As we talked, we noticed a new night spot--the Peppermint Lounge. Steve told us that Mike Gayhart, Bradley Bentley, and Dave Justice were all co-owners, and Cheri Beadle, Barb Rase, and Wendy Wohler were chorus girls, who were backed up by Dave Craycraft and his swinging band.

Finally we stopped at the New Boston Knickerbocker, which was owned by Cassandra Woods and Roger Frazier. They told us that Barbara Emnett and Ray Stidham were involved in a court battle over the ownership of the I. G. A. Vernon Adkins was lawyer for the defense, and Linda Bolotta was serving as judge.

While we were in the hotel, Margaret Ball offered to take our pictures. After remembering what a good job she had done at the 1965 World's Fair, we consented. Margaret told us that Mae Clark and Phyllis Jenkins were serving a term in jail for driving 100 mph in a 30 mph zone.

We decided to visit them at the jail. The Chief of Police, Mike Sweeney, informed us that Mike Harding was running for his 5th term as mayor, strongly supported by his Meter-maids--Pat Hanners, Sharon Stewart, and Bonnie Grimm. Mike also told us that Barry Grimm owned a night club, where Donna Fitch was doing very well as his first female drummer. In the cell Phyllis and Mae told us that Judy Huffman had married and was top saleswoman at Morris' Pontiac and Buick. After leaving the girls' cell we noticed Ron Andrews sitting slumped in a corner. He told us that he was serving a 1-year term for jaywalking in front of G. H. S.

As we left the jail, we saw that Linda Holbrook owned a beauty shop nearby. But, we didn't stop, since she was busy fixing Freda Vogelsong's hair.

At the New Boston Blabber we met face-to-face with Louise Martin, the editor. In her office was Paula Dunham, who writes a lovelorn column. From them we learned that Mark Cornwell, the principal of Glenwood, had fired Terry Groh, the science teacher, because he had blown up the lab and injured the typing instructor, Blaine Bush.

This compelled us to visit the school. We first ran into Jerry Skiver, the math teacher, who was hurrying to his Sohio Station. He told us that Linda Ruth was the principal's secretary; Rodney Litteral had taken over Mrs. Wellman's classes; Bill Goddard was the basketball coach; Charlie Vaughn, the Government teacher; Kay Riggs, the School Health Nurse; and Tom Stone, the Guidance Counselor.

In the principal's office we saw a picture of Roger (Vicious) McMeans, who was the present World Heavyweight Wrestling Champion.

When we left the building, we ran into Eddie White, who was now owner and operator of Jones' Hamburger Inn. He told us that Luke Holsinger was leaving McKell High School in favor of a coaching job at Portsmouth West. Eddie also told us that Dona Plymale Starrett had the hottest car at the drag strip.

As we walked by the Ohio Theatre, now controlled by Phyllis Fannin, we saw an old classmate's name in lights: Jane Patton starring as the Jolly Green Giant.

On our way out of town we stopped at a Big Boy and soon discovered that Roy Musick controlled the local chain of Big Boys. To our surprise Shirley Maynard was the head waitress, and Barbara Thomas was the chief cook and bottlerwasher.

As Diane and I arrived at the airport for our trip back, we concluded, "There's no place like home."
