Foreword

IN PRESENTING THIS VOLUME OF THE GLENWOOD ANNUAL, THE STAFF SINCERELY HOPES THAT YOU WILL FIND OF INTEREST THE ACTIVITIES SILHOUETTED IN ITS PAGES AND THAT THIS INTEREST MAY INSPIRE IN YOU STILL GREATER LOYALTY TO YOUR SCHOOL AND CITY.

Dedication

TO THOSE WHO ARE DEVOTING THEIR LIVES
TOWARD THE BETTERMENT OF THIS FAIR CITY;
WHO ARE GIVING THEIR UTMOST FOR THE DE-VELOPMENT OF NEW BOSTON, AND WHO HAVE MADE POSSIBLE THE MANY ATTRIBUTES OF THIS HOME OF INDUSTRY, THIS VOLUME IS MOST RESPECTFULLY DEDICATED.

Glenwood by the Hill

Scarlet stands for bravery,
Grey stands for might;
For Alma Mater dear,
Go right in and fight.

(rah! rah! rah!)

Ever we'll play the game,
Win the victory;
And then our lives will gain,
Strength and poise from thee.

Let us then be ever true,
To Glenwood dear;
Let Scarlet and the Gray,
Fill our hearts with cheer.

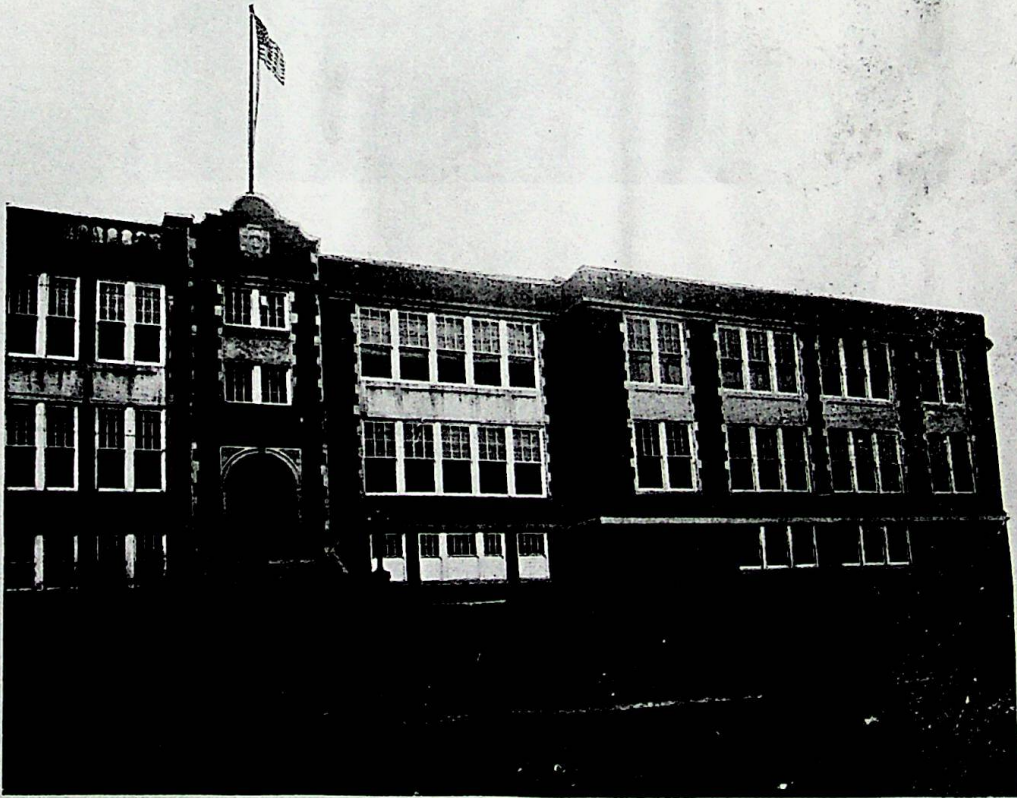

(rah! rah! rah!)

Though distant we may roam,
Thoughts will linger still,
On school-days spent within,
Glenwood by the hill.

HON. ANSELM T. HOLCOMB

JUDGE HOLCOMB was born November 19, 1846 at Vinton in Gallia County. He came to Portsmouth in 1878 and has been instrumental in bringing many business enterprises to Portsmouth, Ironton, and New Boston. In 1891 he and the late James Skelton platted New Boston on 37 acres of the John Rhodes farm. He named the town New Boston because "The Little Kanawaha Lumber Company," whose owners were from Boston, were operating a large saw mill on the present site of The Breece Manufacturing Company. The growth of the village came to a standstill when the saw mill burned. However it revived when the Portsmouth Board of Trade, of which Mr. Holcomb was president for a number of years, persuaded the Burgess Steel and Iron Works to locate in New Boston when their mill burned in Portsmouth. This mill stabilized the town and forecast its position as a steel town.

In Judge Holcomb we find that rare combination of dignity and kindness that had attracted his many friends. He is foresighted and ready to help, and cannot be convinced that all of his fellow men are not just as fine as he.

SAMPSON D. ECKHART

MR. SAMPSON D. ECKHART was our first superintendent of schools. He presided from 1902 to 1915. The year he began his work in New Boston, school opened in the old frame church on the corner of Rhodes and Ohio avenues with an enrollment of approximately eighty. That year a five room frame building was built on the present Stanton avenue school site, but this soon gave way to the major part of the modern Stanton avenue building.

Mr. Eckhart has that happy, easy disposition which makes a number of friends. His ability as an organizer was valuable in getting our schools started toward their present class A state.

AIMS IN THE HIGH SCHOOL

AIMS are frequently cloaked in such terms as the "cardinal principles," developing character or getting an education. It seems to me essential that, as teachers, we have in mind definite aims and that our students know many specific reasons why they are in school.

Here at Glenwood we are trying to replace teacher—imposed discipline with individual feeling of responsibility as a "school citizen." We encourage our students to form sane habits of living, to respect expert authority and to cultivate high ideals of service.

Limitations of equipment and teaching force make it impossible to teach many actual vocations even if it were desirable. Students are given opportunities to appreciate and use the products of skilled workers, to sample worthwhile activities, and to learn and develop their interests and aptitudes. Many occasions are provided for the expression of imagination, the use of initiative and the habit of seeing a thing through to the end.

We try to provide adequately for all students, even as we limit failure to those who can but will not and guarantee success to all who make use of their talents.

And finally we want our students to search for and recognize truth, and to discriminate in values, whether on the screen, the stage or in the air; on the book or magazine counter or those which result from popular or student opinion.

The extent to which each of these aims is realized through an individual's school experience is a measure of the effectiveness of the high school.

AIMS OF THE JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

THE aim of the Junior high school is to take care of the transition period between the grades and high school. This is the time when so many pupils drop out of school to take up some remunerative work.

The broad chasm that formerly existed between the eighth grade and high school caused many pupils to feel that they had completed their school work when they received their eighth grade diploma. The junior high school leads the pupil on so steadily and evenly that he scarcely realizes the step from the one department to another. As early as the seventh grade he is introduced to the different electives offered by the school, including science, algebra, typing, bookkeeping, manual arts, home economics, and in the eighth grade, Latin.

Many of the teachers have classes in both departments, so the pupil on entering high school, is not only familiar with the subject, but he finds an instructor whom he knows and understands, and who knows and understands him.

DR. W. G. CHENEY

DR. CHENEY came to New Boston in the November of nineteen hundred and opened an office in the home now occupied by Tom O'Neil. As our oldest doctor he has ushered in almost three thousand of our students and consequently is personally interested in our schools. He says of the schools of today, "They are blazing the trail of civilization and education through the dense forest of ignorance and superstition. They are our pride and the nation's hope, for the student of today becomes the statesman of tomorrow."

A SKETCH OF THE HISTORY OF NEW BOSTON

THE land on which New Boston stands was originally granted to Jesse, Caleb and Ira Hitchcock by James Madison, President of the United States. The grant was made by authority of an act of Congress, which provided for the sale of the land of the United States in the territory northwest of the Ohio and above the mouth of the Kentucky river. The transaction was made May 20, 1812, and was recorded in Chillicothe, the capitol of the State of Ohio, April 27, 1812.

The original tract was five hundred and eighty-eight acres. A part of this was sold to the Little Kanawha Lumber Company in 1889. A little settlement grew up around this lumber mill which was located at the foot of West street on the present site of the Breece Manufacturing Company. This is the oldest part of New Boston.

In 1890 Skelton and Holcomb purchased a section of this land near the lumber mill, which they platted and gave the name New Boston. In 1891 they purchased more land for S. D. York. A small steel mill was erected and the lots platted near by became the Yorktown addition. Glenwood's record addition, upon which the High School stands, was also platted by Mr. York.

All of these additions, in fact all of New Boston with the exception of Stewartville, is laid out on the land of the original Hitchcock grant. This remote tract of woods has changed to one of the most prosperous of Ohio's little cities. Our steel mill ranks among the very largest in the country, our streets and alleys are paved, our schools and churches are large and well built and our business blocks are being transformed to the brick and stone structures that mark the permanency of a city.

OUR FIRST HIGH SCHOOL

New Boston's first high school was built in 1914. It has been improved twice since, once in 1916 and again in 1923. Mr. Ross was principal of this school up to 1915. In 1915 he became Superintendent of Schools and at present retains the same position.

The above picture shows the school as it appeared in 1923 and as it does today. At present it includes the first six grades.

tip! Splash! What's happening down at the swimmin' pool at Pfau's camp? Oh, it's only a Freshman party way back in '25.

But such a party as it was. Plenty of time to swim and ride down the creek in the boat and then—Oh boy, the eats! Were there ever such eats? Everybody ate almost too much to do anything but sit around and groan but gradually couples became ambitious and hopped off to the tune of the little old "vic." The ride home—was it a merry one? If you call fixing flat tires merry, it was. How many did Frank Aldridge have? Oh, about seven. But then it all goes on a pic

How quickly I had advanced from a timid shop girl to a modiste—one whose ideas were really important among designers. How I would love to be back in New Boston for the class banquet tonight, but instead—why it is tomorrow that I sail for Paris. There are a thousand things to do yet before I can rush home and pack. Anyway I shall remember that it was Glenwood which gave me my start.

Remember those high school days? The fun we had, the devilment we were into? Members slipping down the hall, around the corner and out the side door, trying to put the bluff on our teachers? The basketball games, our pals—our girls?

In after years when we are in our professions we will recall scenes of those days and love to travel back over the paths of memory to live again, the years at Glenwood Hi.

When it comes to handling meat "Butch" sure does shine. He can cut up meat faster than any other butcher in New Boston—that is if he wants but he usually doesn't. Keep at it, Butch, and you may become the world's champion.

"Ignorance of the law excuses no one." A "don't" that I'll always remember is, Don't fool with the fire hose. We took it down in record time and were the local departments closest competitors. Why Gee! the way that every one talked that week we thought sure we'd get nothing short of a trip "up the river" to Marysville. But my accomplice and I tried the sob stuff and got away with just a week's vacation and boys! what a week. Well, any way that perpetual longing to take the fire hose down, that has existed since we were freshmen, has been fulfilled and we're none the worse for our adventure.

We can always remember Mary by her merry eyes and her priceless smile. Although she was caught in many pranks, she was industrious and she left cheer wherever she went.

THE LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT OF THE CLASS OF 1928

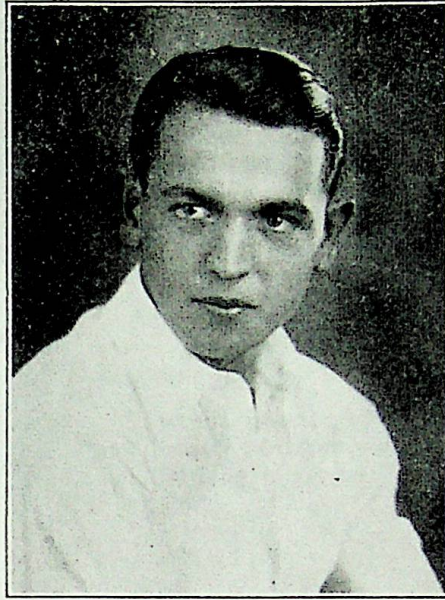

We, the class of 1928, being of sound mind and duress; do now in the presence of witnesses, hereby make our last will and testament:

To the Junior class we bequeath our ability to lead the school in scholarship, school spirit, and all serious minded pursuits, as well as our ability to cut classes without being caught.

To the Sophomore class we bequeath our unblotted record of attendance.

To the Freshmen class we bequeath our ability to administer parliamentary law and our undying loyalty to our class presidents.

In class "Cliff" is one of our quietest boys, but no wonder, he spends most of his time sleeping. He is one of those gentlemen who prefer blondes.

"Yes doctor, yes doctor."

"Say if you can't move any faster than —. Hurry with that gauze."

Blood was all over the place. Long, thin, sharp pointed knives were lying on the table. Ugh! Why in the world did the doctor have to use those funny looking scissors and that terrible fine toothed saw?

"Sue! Sue! Get up, dear."

What a relief to hear the sweet voice of my mother instead of the groans of a person under the influence of ether! Do you have the nerve to ask me if I shall be a nurse after I graduate?

Well,—I Don't know.

Susie began her career as an athlete by making the varsity basketball team in her Freshman year. She was a jolly sort and will be missed by her class mates.

Talk about fun! Say, do you remember the Freshies first weiner roast in '25?

When the precious little hands of the clock turned around to six we all were there at the school ready to go. About twenty-five of us piled in Fords, trucks and most anything that would carry us.

When we reached the old Zeek farm, we found just goddes and oodles of big grassy fields. Everyone grabbed a stick in one hand and a weiner in the other. On the count of three we all rushed to the fire to roast our weiners.

After the roast we played games and sang. At a late hour we returned home everyone thinking of the fun we had.

Marcella is one girl who is "seen and not heard" but then maybe she keeps all her thinking to herself.

To me high school meant much. Besides broadening my view and making me more capable of getting a strangle hold on the problems of life, there are the strong ties of friendship that were formed at Glenwood. To me the memory of those happy days will live forever. On the kick-off into high school I was eager for the day of graduation, but now, on the final down, I find myself wishing that this wonderful good fellowship might not be broken off, for there will probably never be a complete union, yet—"Asi lo dispusa la suerte."

This is Elmon's second year at Glenwood but he has made many friends and proved himself a true son. He was always serious and when it came to lessons he couldn't be beaten.

High school has not been to me a task which if done poorly will bring down the wrath of my parents and instructors, but a great and pleasant adventure. School has opened my eyes to the world and life. It has given me power with which I may understand some of the workings of nature and of man. It has created in me a desire for higher learning so that I may be more fully equipped to understand and meet the emergencies of life.

The purpose of the club is to give opportunities for more extended practice in the arts of shorthand and typing.

Social and business meetings are held once a month. In the business meetings, which are held in the typing room, shorthand and typing tests are given and the winners receive awards. The social meetings, which convene in the Model Apartment, promote fellowship and good will among the members.

Before entering High School I had planned to take the Latin course, but a confidential talk with one of my friends convinced me that the Commercial curriculum was better suited to my needs.

My favorite commercial study is book-keeping and it is in this particular subject that I have received my best grades. I have had considerable practice work in this branch of study, especially this year as School Bookkeeper.

I go about my work with a smile because I like it. The students all know my ambition, for when asked my plans for the future, I always say, "I want to be a bookkeeper."

"Shorty's" daily cry is, "Give me a comb" and "Is my nose shiny," but nevertheless she is a good student and has worked hard for her Alma Mater. We wish her success and happiness.

It is my ambition to be an engineer, so when I entered high school, I took all the available math course. I hope that my college course will develop into real ability this liking to figure, plan, and construct things. To be a civil engineer, to build railroads across uncharted country, to construct tunnels under rivers, to build beautiful spans across mountain chasms, is to me the most thrilling and enjoyable life possible.

The commencement we have cherished and looked forward to for these four years has come at last. Since it has arrived we do not feel like the great men and women we thought we would. On the contrary, we realize that we are merely at the beginning of life's broad field of battle, with little or no knowledge of what the future will disclose. We have heard that, "You get out of a thing just what you put into it."

Who shall turn the wheels of tomorrow? Shall we? If so, why are we the ones on whom this responsibility has fallen? It is because high school and its activities have better equipped us to take up our place in life. It is here that we got that never-say-die spirit that keeps us going. It is the memory of high school games, won in spite of many obstacles, that will inspire us to fight all the harder in the game of life. If it is our duty to turn the wheels of tomorrow, let us push onward.

There are many different views in the world on the subject of "Career." While I have no definite plans as yet, I am inclined to believe I will take up office work. Not liking Latin and getting enough domestic science at home I registered in the commercial curriculum.

During my senior year all Seniors graduating in the commercial course had to have five months training in the office. I know now that many more things are learned from actual office work than just knowledge learned from books. I enjoyed the commercial courses a lot and hope to be a success in the business world.

"Small but mighty," pertains to her. She took her position as forward on the varsity basketball team and filled it very capably. June was one of Glenwood's star typists, having won several awards. We hope she makes someone a good "stenog."

All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy. Maybe that explains why the Seniors are so bright. I think, however, that our courses at Glenwood have been fairly well balanced. We have had exceptional opportunities to develop in the field of scholarship; and on the other hand we have learned how to play, training which will prove of great value in later life. I shall be forever grateful to my Alma Mater for all the privileges and opportunities which I have received in her halls.

"Doug" is one of the greatest "cutups" in the class and fun loving? Oh, my yes! He is an ideal student who sure knows how to pull down good grades. He is some expert in the chemistry lab, not counting the many explosions he has caused.

When I was a Freshman, I decided to take the commercial course. That was the beginning of my troubles.

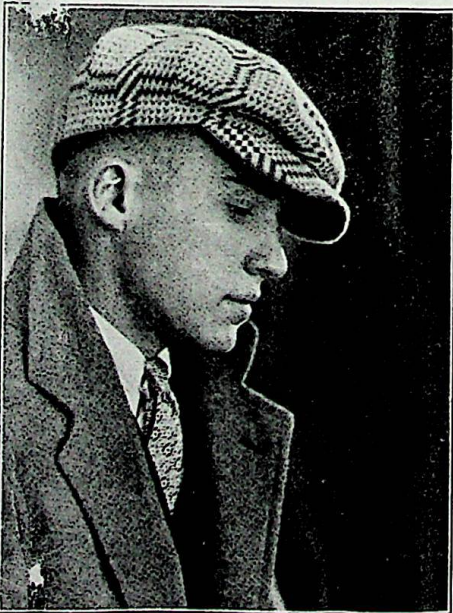

If I had not taken this course, I would not have been the School Bookkeeper. As a Junior, the annual books took two weeks of my summer vacation. When a Senior, I became treasurer of the school and then there really came trouble, when one must account for every penny that is received and spent.

Yet I think that all this trouble was worth while for it gave me an idea relative to the daily office routine in the business world. My ambition is to be a stenographer or bookkeeper.

I did my best to take part in athletics, making a regular on the football and basketball teams, three years each. As I was in high school and liked military life I enlisted for two successive years at Fort Thomas.

Now as my high school days are nearly completed, I am planning on going to college and try my best there. My greatest ambition is to be a regular dentist along with being a regular fellow.

When I started to high school I thought I would like to be a Latin teacher so I took a Latin course for two years. The third year of high school I changed to a commercial course. Of all the commercial studies I like Shorthand and Typing best. After I graduate from high school I want to go to business college and then become a private secretary.

We will remember Leota by the way she took her part in "Lightnin'" has been a real help to the teachers as students in the way she has performed her class duties. The class wish you success, Leota.

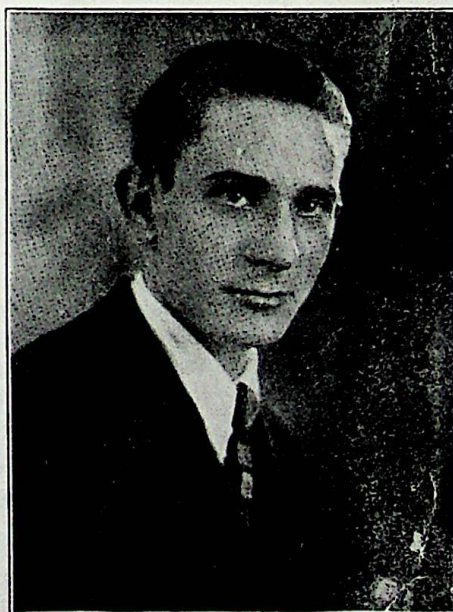

When we seniors entered the Junior High, the building covered less than half the space it does at present. Only one curriculum, Latin, was offered and there were no extra curriculums.

And now, six years later we have the second largest school building in the county. A better and larger faculty teach the courses of four curriculums and many extra curriculums which include Journalism, Orchestra, Annual, Dramatics, Morals and Manners, Wrestling and Office practice.

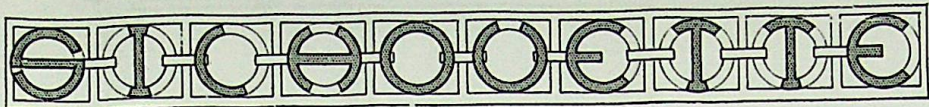

These six years have also witnessed a great advancement in athletics, the school ranking with the best of the class B schools. The intra-mural program also deserves mention as part of the plan of "athletics for all."

One might fill pages telling of the advancement our class has witnessed and taken part in and here is hoping that these advancements never cease..

Last year as Juniors the thing which we worked hardest for was the Junior-Senior banquet. It was not a feat accomplished in a single day. As early as September we began to sell candy and ice cream to raise the money and at Christmas time we gave a party.

Days before the banquet we planned menus, decoration and entertainments. Nothing was too good for our banquet. At last the big night came and everything was ready. No one could have presided more graciously than our president, Fields Under. Everything passed off happily and easily. We shall always remember our Junior year with a great sense of pleasure and pride.

Hey, kids, remember the day we put limburger on the heater and brought the sardines and sandwiches in our class room? This was a mystery hard to solve and it seemed for a while as though the burden or punishment, "As You Like It," would fall upon two members of the "lunch room crew" but luckily we escaped with just a good talking to. Remember all the sandwiches and bottles of hot chocolate which were thrown out of the window, to avoid any further lectures on the same topic? School days were the happy days for me.

We wonder if Thelma can really sing or if its just a bluff. We've never had the nerve to try her out yet although she has offered her services on many occasions. Let's hope that some day she may become a prima-donna. Who can tell?

DESSIE COOPER

*Athletic Association 1; Basketball 2;
Gregg Artists 4.*

In September, 1924, the class of '28 made its debut into high school; a rather harum-scarum crowd of forty-eight boys and girls running here and there.

Our "New Addition," was new then and as the Freshies were also new, it was rather a good mixture. At the end of the first year the Freshies were not new and the furniture had gone through a series of initiations which had shorn it of some of its glory.

One out-standing event in our Freshman year was the tug-of-war in Millbrook Park across the little stream by the paper house. Of course the Freshies were victorious.

Quietness is a word not known to Dessie. She always has some kind of an answer to make, especially in class, even though sometimes it is not the right answer. She has shown much interest in Glenwood and has done many creditable things.

As I draw near the close of my senior year, I am very glad that as a freshman I chose the Home Economics course.

At Glenwood, we have had the opportunity of studying and doing many different things. We have learned how to cook and sew, plan menus, and buy to the best advantage. We have studied the principles of interior decoration, and have had practice in buying and making house furnishings. Another feature of our work which we have enjoyed particularly is the preparation of lunch once a week for members of the faculty.

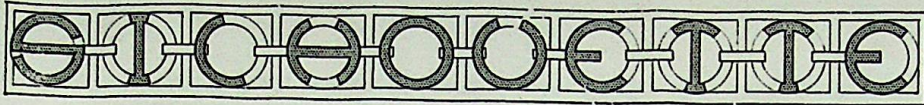

I like every phase of the work, and I feel that the training that I have received here will continue to be useful to me when I have graduated.

True-blue. That's Ruthie. "Once a friend always a friend," is her motto. Ruth was of distinguished eminence in her Home Ec class and will make somebody a good wife.

In Memoriam

Let us pause and think a moment of our class mates who are gone, but whose memory we shall cherish forever.

Eldon Hammond died July 4, 1926, after a brief illness of appendicitis. He was a faithful student and his sunny personality will continue to be an inspiration to us.

On October 6, 1927 death came to Irene Conley, who had been ill for a long time at the home of her uncle at Wheelersburg.

A BRIDGE IN MILLBROOK PARK

The above picture is that of a bridge in the old Millbrook park. At one time this park was an amusement center for people within a radius of thirty miles. It was owned and supervised by Levi D. York, street railway magnate. The street railroad ran from Portsmouth to the upper end of New Boston where it looped around the park and returned to Portsmouth. On Sundays and holidays the cars were crowded with pleasure-seekers from Portsmouth and even Ironton. An artificial lake wound through the park and was constantly swarming with canoes. A ferris wheel and a roller-coaster were among the amusements.

EVENTS WE ALL REMEMBER

- September 15, 1925—Organized class with Edward Wintersole as president.
 October 29—Hallowe'en party in the school gym.
 December 23—Charles Barbee got an "A" in English.
 April 14, 1926—Play, "The Poor Married Man."
 May 8—Party at Bernice Evans' home.
 September 12, 1926—Organized Sophomore class with Charles Barbee as president.
 May 4—Party at William Simon's home.
 June 6—Weiner roast and swimming party at "Dip In" on Turkey Creek.
 September 8, 1927—Organized Junior class with Edgar Jones as president.
 November 13—"Peanut" Caulley woke up and answered a question in History.
 January 14, 1928—Buckley, Caudill, Leslie, Elliott, Jones and Wintersole received football letters.
 February 15—Class rings and pins arrived.
 February 23—Leap Year Party in the model apartment.
 April 3—Charles Barbee and Edgar Jones caught coming home from the picture show again.

JUST JUNIORS

*Come all you good people and lend me your ear;
To hear of the Juniors and their whole career.
'Twas the first day of school, and, oh, how sad,
One boy got paddled, because he was bad.*

*We gave a class party as all students do.
Our A's were plenty, our F's very few.
We gave a play, named "The Poor Married Man;"
Because we were "Freshies," all loafers were banned.*

*And then came our honourable Sophomore days,
With weiner roasts, parties, instead of more plays.
The Silhouette's chief was picked from our throng;
Our athletes were always going it strong.*

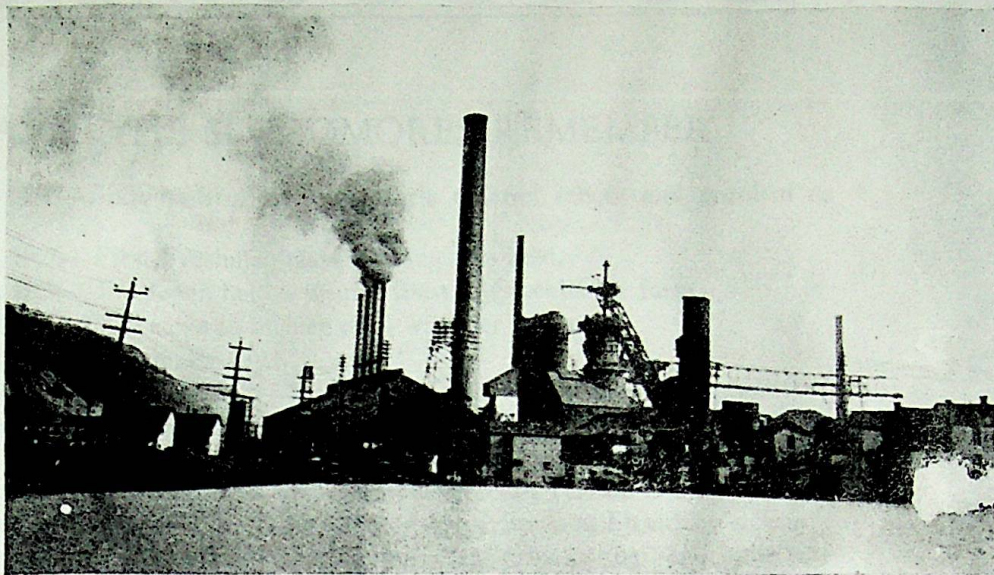

*But this year as Juniors we have stood aloof;
To keep up our flag we fought on the roof.
We sold cream and candy on each day at noon,
And will give the Seniors a banquet soon.*

*As we are but Juniors we still have a chance
To bring ourselves out of the three year old trance.
Next year as Seniors we all hope to make
A record of "giving" and not one all "take."*

* * * *

*So runs our plans, but who are we?
Just Juniors striving with our might,
Just Juniors striving for the right,
Success?—The later years shall see.*

On September 8th, 1927, 53 boys and girls entered Glenwood High School as Freshmen. These freshmen were just as green as all freshmen are, or, maybe to say more so would not be exaggerating it the least bit.

After spending at least half of the first semester in idleness, they at least realized the position the class was taking and made up their minds to try and make it the best Freshmen class Glenwood ever had. First, they elected officers chosen among the leading members of the class. They were: Arthur Pellegrinon, president; Ronald Greene, vice-president; Edward Burkhardt, secretary; Vincent Meyer treasurer; and Harold Root, faculty adviser. However, probably due to the heavy load thrown upon his shoulders by the Freshmen, our president soon resigned with all the dignity a Freshman president ever had.

FRESHMAN BOYS

Upper Row: Harold Moore, Ralph Combs, Ralph Smith, John Sowards

Second Row: Charles Fitch, Ronald Greene, Eugene Harr, Alexander Wallace, Lowell Morris, James Warren, Arthur Pellegrinon.

Third Row: Gordon Riggs, Roy Davis, Vincent Meyer, Walter Horner, Homer Adkins, Leo Jones.

Lower Row: Frank Dodd, John Henson, Charles Starret, Paul Duncan, Edward Burkhart, Corbett Stapleton, Morris Magee.

After this came the hunt for a new president, ending in the choosing of another popular member, Leo Jones. Again our president did not like the position and he too, resigned. Ronald Green at last came to the rescue and accepted the responsibility of conducting the class. After struggling along for about two months he finally got the class going smoothly although the class dues proposition had to be abandoned.

But the class has not been idle during all this time, for, as you know, they made the school hallowe'en party possible. After seeing the success of this one, they decided to have some parties among themselves. Three of these were held at the homes of Hazel Dailey, Dorothy Charlton and Ruby Cassity.

Then too, the Freshmen have some athletic stars who are looked upon with pride by their fellow classmen. In football Homer Danes and Floyd Brown figured prominently in the games of the season. Again in basketball Mr. Higley's Skeeters were made up largely of Freshmen, namely: Alexander Wallace, Arthur Pellegrini, John Henson, Ralph Smith, Edward Burkhardt, Paul Duncan, Charles Fitch, Frank Dodd and Charles Starrett. Lowell Morris, a distinguished Freshman, was the Skeeters successful manager. He was also tennis manager.

After all, the Freshmen have not proven to be as green as they were at first. They may be a little bashful in some things but they are willing to do their part to make Glenwood a better school.

NEW BOSTON'S OLDEST HOUSE

The oldest house in New Boston and one of the oldest in the county, is the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Cooper on Gallia Avenue on the old Rhodes property. The main part of this home was built in 1816 by Jesse Hitchcocke, who received it in the original grant from James Madison, President of the United States. The house was built where Dr. McCann's home now stands, but was moved next door and an addition added by Mr. Elhoff, father of Mrs. Cooper.

The house as it stands today was remodeled in 1911.

EIGHT-A SECTION

In scholastic ability we might mention, Florence Ruth Meyer, Viola Cottle, Della Rawlins, Flora Adkins, Herald Lockbaum, Virginia Sisson, Minnie Yerardi, Edwin McKenzie, May Abraham, Elizabeth McKinstry, Retha Moore, Louella Shonkwiler, and Eloise Clark.

We were represented in "The Dutch Detective," with Herald Lockbaum as Plunk Jarlic; Elizabeth McKinstry as Ambrosia McCarty; Wallace Booten as Augusta Coe; Florence Ruth Meyer as Katrina Kraut and Hilma Sexton as Gladys Howler Coe. Many of our number were selected for the chorus of "The Gypsy Rover." One leading character, Eloise Clark as Lady Constance, was selected from this class.

We think 8 A should be commended for getting three of the prizes for selling. Florence Ruth Meyer received third prize in the essay contest, "Why a Bond Issue Should be Passed to Improve the Streets of New Boston." We feel confident that Edwin McKenzie, Floyd Warner, Fred Wolfe, and Wallace Booten would be greatly missed if they were not to show up in the orchestra. Due to the fact that Florence Ruth Meyer was the champion speller in both eighth grades, we were privileged to partake of a wonderful feast prepared by the other section.

As to the attendance we cannot complain. Viola Cottle, Louella Shonkwiler, Flora Atkins, Eva Shonkwiler, Della Rawlins, Florence Ruth Meyer and Herald Lockbaum have not been absent during the entire year. We even have one girl, Eva Shonkwiler, who has not been absent for five years.

EIGHT-B SECTION

The beginning of the school year of 1927 found an anxious group of pupils storming the doors of Glenwood. Of this number, about eighty were eighth graders who were divided into two sections, 8 A and 8 B. Immediately after the division, 8 B organized its class and elected class officers. From a social stand point this organization has been very successful in establishing stronger friendship among the pupils and a hearty co-operation with the faculty.

From a scholastic stand point we have several who are recognized as real students. They are: Paul Bowen, Charles Newman, Austin Lee, Gardner Mershon, Elzada Adkins, and Olive Cooper.

We also have many talented students; if some were in Hollywood they would likely be seized on the spot. Robert King, who took the role of Cato Schraultz in the "Dutch Detective," could hardly have been surpassed. If we did not know Robert we would certainly say he was a typical Dutchman. But he changes his nationality to English in "The Gypsy Rover," "Don't you know."

The Junior High Basketball team was represented from this section by the following boys of whom we are justly proud. Robert King, Homer Abrams, Joe Marion, John Killen, Elmer Abrams, Paul Bowen, and Gardner Mershon.

We feel that we have had a very successful year and have tried our best to help bring the Junior High up to the expectations of our faculty and superintendent.

SEVEN-A SECTION

When the summer vacation of 1927 ended, and we reported for school work again, we were very proud of our being in the Junior High at Glenwood. This is only the first lap in the educational race, but the fact that we have overcome it gives us courage to undertake the succeeding tasks full of determination to make a creditable showing in the next six years of our school life.

As this was our first year here, we were a little slow in taking hold of the extra curricular activities at first but after the first month we organized our class and at least tried to get in on all that there was for us.

We are represented in the orchestra by Theora Rickey, Mabel Benner, and Edit. Graham, and our section is proud of Helen Shuman who played on the winning team in the intra-mural basketball league.

For scholastic ability we would mention, Frank Adkins, Ralph Butcher, and Ralph Sparks from the boys, and Mabel Benner, Francis Oliver, and Theora Rickey from the girls.

We are exceptionally proud of our attendance record. In this section there are six pupils who have not missed nor been tardy during the entire year. Mabel Benner, Bessie Goff, Genevieve Riepenhoff, Helen Shuman, Lucille Woods, and Ralph Sparks are the ones who have made this unusually good record.

SEVEN-C SECTION

The Seventh grade because of its large number of pupils, about one hundred in all, was divided into three sections, and this section was designated as Section "C".

Our section has been fully represented in all the activities of the school, including: intra-mural basketball, orchestra, chapel programs, and many other lesser things. We are also the possessors of a fine picture won by selling more tickets than any other section of the Junior division for the play, "The Seasons and Legend of Sleepy Hollow," given by the Stanton Avenue School. In regard to scholarship, we wish to make honorable mention of the following: Anna Hamilton, Harry Conklin, Jean Killen, Evelyn McManus, Florence Vanhorn, Evelyn Greene, Dorothy Sutton, Marcus Redwine, Delmas Phillips, and Rosalyn Henson.

In basketball the following names have a prominent place: Harry Conklin, Delmas Phillips, Theodore Witherow, Homer Lewis, and Marcus Redwine. Florence Vanhorn, Jean Killen, Dorothy Sutton, Anna Hamilton, Olive Adams, Rosalyn Henson, and Evelyn Greene.

The school orchestra also would greatly miss: Jean Killen, Beatrice Danner, Max Huey, Kenneth Dutiel, and Melvin Franz.

We also want to mention the very enjoyable party given at the home of Evelyn Greene, and the weiner roast held under the large trees at the head of Glenwood Avenue.

ROME RANKIN

Director of Athletics

Glenwood owes many thanks to Coach Rankin for the help and worthy ideals he has placed before us. We look back to the year 1924 when he came into our midst; and now after passing through many ordeals together, we all sincerely hope that he will devote many more years of faithful service to Glenwood.

CHARLES BARBEE

Manager of Basket Ball

To "Chad" Barbee fell the thankless task of manager. His capability and genial smile won the respect of the players and coach alike.

During his time at Glenwood, Coach Rankin has been an important factor in its steady growth. He has sent his teams into 25 football games, losing four games in four years. In basketball his teams have played 52 games in three years, winning 38 and losing 14. He has turned out these teams from poor but willing material. In all, the Scarlet and Gray Mentor has sent his teams into 77 games, winning 59 and losing 18, a percentage of .766 games won.

NEW BOSTON made her bow in playing the most difficult schedule ever undertaken by a Glenwood team and the scrappy Scarlet-clad warriors made a very creditable showing. The Rankinmen won the games in their class easily. The others were played against much larger schools which were always surprised at the superior brand of football the Fighting Red put up.

CHARLES BUCKLEY

Charles has been with the Scarlet-clad warriors for three seasons, starting in as a Freshman scrub, but his good work landed him on a varsity position. He showed himself as a fast end and a born fighter as well as a conscientious trainer. As running mate to Gritty, "Buck" deserves much credit for his good team work.

SEVERINO PELLEGRINON

"Gritty" well deserves his nickname. He has lived up to the reputation of being a good end, always displaying a masterful and steady game of defensive ball. He is another who is filled with the fighting spirit. We will have him for two more years.

GLENWOOD TIGERS

GLENWOOD traveled to Ironton for the first game of the season. In this game the fighting Tigers received the surprise of their lives by being held to a 6-0 score. The game was later forfeited to New Boston as Ironton played two ineligible players.

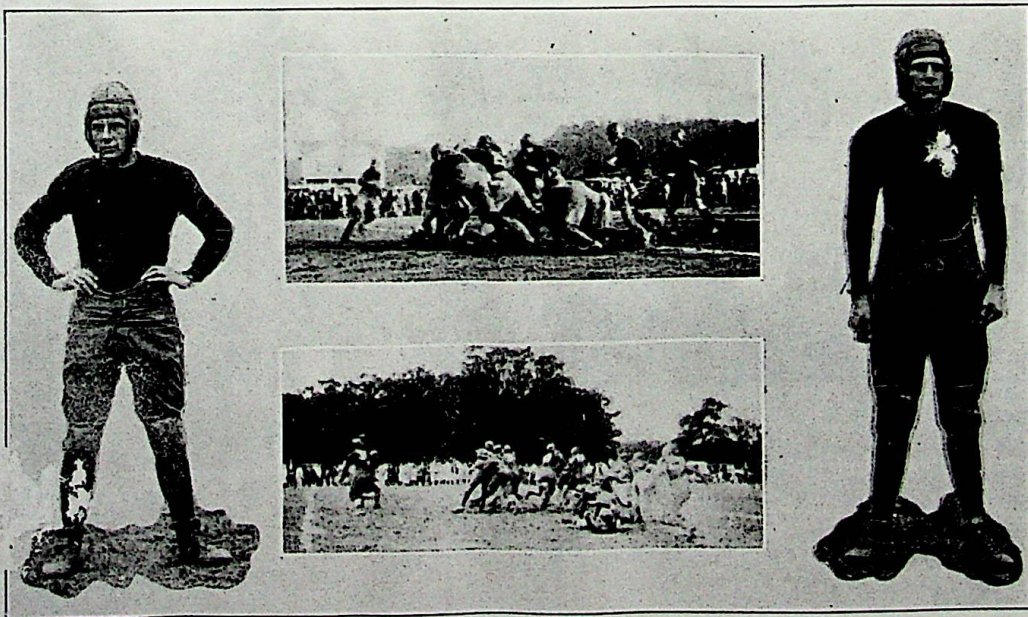

The next Friday the fighting-red machine jumped to Hillsboro. The pride of Highland county held Glenwood to a 0-0 score. This game was the poorest Glenwood put up all season.

EDWARD WINTERSOLE

"Ed" was one of the fastest men on the team. As a hard fighter he succeeded in putting his opponents out of place. He is a star football hero and one of whom Glenwood is really proud. "Ed" will be back next year with the same pep and spirit.

FOSTER ELLIOTT

"Fos" is one of Glenwood's most reliable and capable players. He was a bulwark of strength to the team, putting everything he had into the game and never giving in until the final whistle. His blocking ability made it possible for the backs to get away on many long gains. He will play next year.

PORTSMOUTH, our most bitter rival, was met in the third game of the season. Portsmouth scored two touchdowns in the first half, the final score being 13-2. It was a hectic struggle from start to finish with both teams battling valiantly for every inch of ground. In the second half New Boston out-played the Red and Blue. The New Boston gridders came back primed to give P. H. S. players the battle of

BEECHER LESLIE

"Beech" playing his third year of varsity football, showed the fans what a good back looks like. Not only was he a sure tackler and line plunger but was also a faithful worker. He hails from the Junior class and has one more season to go.

ISAAC MORRIS

"Ikey" is another small man on the team. In spite of his height he had unusual skill in making himself a formidable foe on the field. He performed in a fashion that augurs well for two more seasons.

their lives and they did it. Coach Rankin's boys seemed to have been suffering stage fright in the early minutes of the game.

The wandering Rankinmen met the powerful Athens team on their field. The score at the first half was 8-6 in their favor, although the collegetown boys were outplayed in the first half. Perkins and company went wild during the second half, scoring 17 points.

JACK CUMMINS

Having played four years of football for Coach Rankin, Jack has gathered football knowledge to have the makings of a real captain. Not only was he the largest man on the team, he was also a great ground gainer. He was selected as full-back on the All-League second team. It will be very hard indeed to fill his place next year.

RAYMOND HALL

After four years of playing with the Rankinmen, "Jack" proved himself a valuable center. He puts up a hard fight and never loses sight of his man. Since Jack is in the Senior ranks, he will be greatly missed next year.

PLAYING their first home game, the red-clad warriors sunk Waverly to a tune of 49-0. The second team played almost the entire game.

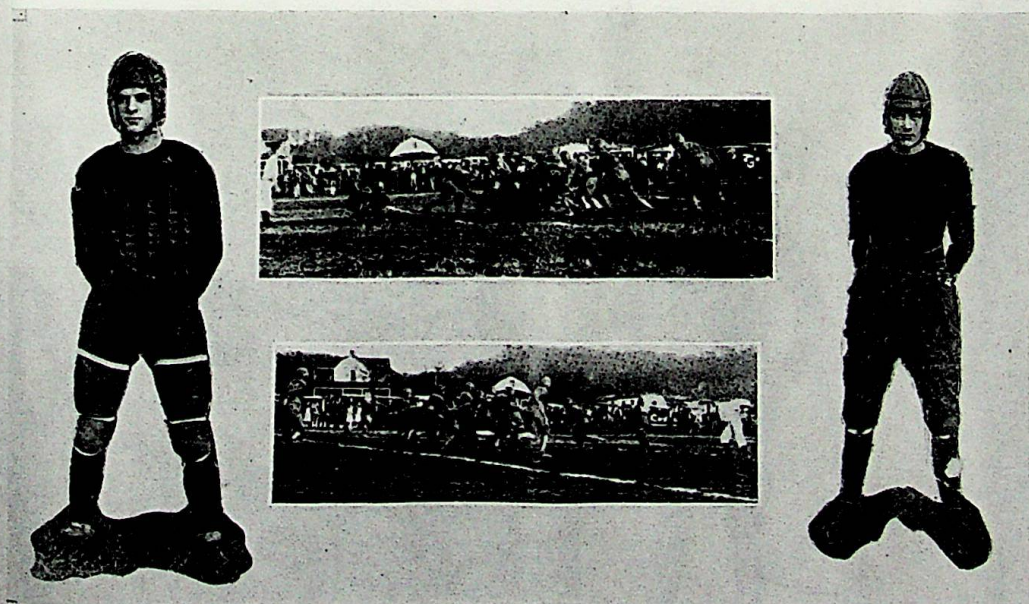

What a heart breaker! Outkicking, outfighting and making more yardage, but still Glenwood lost to Gallipolis 7-0. The game ended with the ball on Gallipolis' one-yard line.

FIELDS BENDER

Fields has been with Glenwood for three years. He had tough luck with his leg but in spite of this his opponents were worried by the fight and ability he showed. As half and sometimes as quarter, he was a wonderful ground gainer. He will not be with us next year being in the graduation class at Wheelersburg.

ELMON CAUDILL

Elmon is the spike of the team. This was his second year out, but he will not be with us next season since he completes High School in three years. Elmon put up the same spirit that the rest of the boys did. We would all like to see him in action again.

THE line plunging of Jack Cummins and was too great for Pomeroy, who was defeated, 6-0. It was a game to decide who was to fill the cellar of the League. This game shoved Wellston, Logan, and Pomeroy below Glenwood.

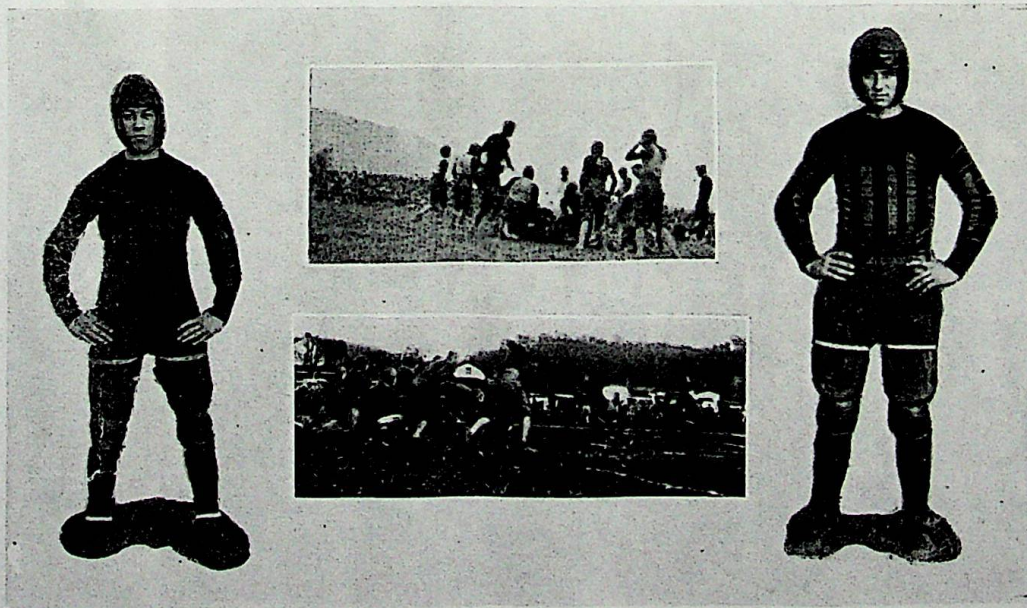

Packing their togs and playing their seventh game on a foreign field, the Glenwood caravan was defeated by the League winners, 7-0. On a rain-soaked field the heavier Jackson team had much the advantage.

HERMAN KRUEGER

"Baldie" was the smallest and one of the fastest men on the team. He was always in good form and was a consistent worker. In all games he was a fast runner and made a fine showing. We are lucky that he is a sophomore who will be with Glenwood for two more years.

FRANKLIN ALDRIDGE

Frank was some line battler. As quarter-back he possesses that rare ability of solving plays and putting them under way. Having learned enough about football to give the best men a few pointers, he made things hot for the opposition. Frank is a two-letter man and his absence will be sorely felt next year.

THE SEASON

ONLY two letter men returned from the team which made such a splendid record the year before. The veterans' places were filled very efficiently by Sophomores. By hard and tense work the Rankin-coached crew won 15 out of 21 games in a most difficult schedule.

After two weeks of intense practice, Glenwood opened the basketball season with a 24-5 win over Beaver.

The following night the well-balanced McDermott team out-scored the Little Red-Machine, 21-13. The Rankinmen showed promise of developing into a winner.

Last year's team was sunk 62-42 on New Year's eve. The former stars played a brilliant game but a lack of training showed up.

In the Ironton game both teams played a defensive game. Glenwood came out on the short end of a 5-16 score, having failed to find the basket.

In the poorest-played game of the year Glenwood lost to Wellston, 11-19. Wellston played a poor game and Glenwood a much worse.

The following night the Scarlet Hurricane handed the Roberts crew from Jackson a 27-23 surprise. A great victory over an ancient rival.

The next Friday our neighboring school, Sciotoville, came down with a good record, expecting to teach us a few of the finer points of the game but they were disappointed by a score of 29-16.

Playing out-of-form after exerting themselves to the limit the night before at Jackson, the New Boston basketeers invaded Logan and won a thriller by the closest margin possible, 22-21.

Aid won a hard fight and a closely contested game on the local court when they emerged with the long end of a 29-23 score. The game proved to be a thriller from beginning to end.

The Rankin-coached outfit annihilated Waverly, 40-16.

The Catlettsburg Colonels were swamped under an avalanche of tallies. When the battle subsided, Glenwood was leading 32-19, the game being one of the best on Glenwood's floor.

RAYMOND HALL

Throughout his three years of play at Glenwood, "Speedy" proved to be a great team-player and a wonderful man on the defense. As captain he deserved the honor of leading his team-mates through a very successful season, earning his fame by his work as guard. He will be missed next season.

JOHN SIZEMORE

By his hard, earnest work and his capability, "Lanky" earned a position on the varsity. As center he was usually successful in outjumping his opponents. His playing drew much favorable comment from the bleachers. We hope he carries the same spirit of fight on to college.

CLYDE BOOTH

Though handicapped by a bad knee, "Shiner" kept up the standards of a snappy player. He is noted for his great pivoting ability, and for his splendid co-operation with the rest of the team. Everyone will agree that we lose a mighty fine fellow in Clyde.

By playing a wonderful defensive game, the scrappy Rankinmen revenged a bitter defeat handed to them the year before by the rangy Mr. Sterling quintet, with a score of 12-10.

The fast Nelsonville champions next met the Scarlet-Gray warriors, leaving them on a short end of a 29-17 score. The Coal-Miners had the best team that Glenwood played against all year. This game was later forfeited to Glenwood, as Nelsonville played an ineligible man.

Showing dazzling speed and displaying an offense they could not fathom the Scarlet-Clad warriors outsmarted Jackson, 29-21.

Getting off to an early lead, the scrappy Scarlet Boys' submerged in their second game of the season, avenged the earlier defeat by the McDermott Stonemen, 34 to 24.

CHARLES BUCKLEY

"Buck" did quite well on the basketball team besides taking part in many other school activities. He has worked faithfully for the past two years to put Glenwood in the top rank. He is the fellow with the athletic figure and neat appearance. We hope, Buck, that you do as well next year as you have this season.

VIRGIL STURGELL

"Tarzan" filled the place of Wintersole, who quit school at mid-term. He played a wonderful game as guard and did the job mighty well. As a defensive player, he prevented the opposing team from scoring many times. Virgil has one more year.

FOSTER ELLIOTT

"Fos" found his place on the squad as manager and there he stuck. He has plodded around faithfully with the team and his spirit has helped a great deal in making the season a success. The result of his work is clearly visible by looking at the Red and Gray warriors, and Glenwood is proud to have him another year.

Gallipolis Hi, running true to form, defeated a shot-weary Glenwood team, 24-16. Just an off night. The Rankin lads played a bang-up game but could not find the basket.

Wakefield, the pride of Pike county, was overwhelmed in an overtime game, 23-19. The game was well-played from start to finish and had the local fans on their toes throughout the entire contest.

Traveling to Athens to take part in the South Eastern Basket-Ball tournament, the Steel-Town boys easily outscored Haydenville, champions of Hocking county, 33-16.

In the second elimination the Bloomingsburg champions were nosed out in an overtime game, 21-20.

The third game proved o be too much for the scrappy sons of Glenwood and they fell before the Perry county champions, 26-16.

JOSEPH HENSLEY

"Joe," another recruit from the Sophomore ranks, played his first year of varsity basketball in collegiate style. As a forward his good work was indispensable and he played nearly the entire season.

SEVERINO PELLEGRINON

By his splendid passing and shooting, "Gritty" won a position as forward on the team. He worked like a flash, showing wonderful form for a Sophomore. We are glad we can rely on him for two more years.

ISAAC MORRIS

"Ikey" has shown up as a promising athlete who will deveop into a good player with a little more practice. He fights hard, always responds willingly and delivers his best at all times.

THE SILHOUETTE STAFF

It is very seldom that one person retains the position of editor-in-chief of the Silhouette for an entire year, but this year it has happened and the person was no other than Edgar Jones, of the junior class.

Jones has had a very efficient and experienced staff under him this year, and this, no doubt, was a great aid to him.

The members of the Silhouette staff of 1927-8 are: Edgar Jones, editor-in-chief; Charles Barbee, feature editor; Carol Finney, exchange editor; Thelma Killen, reporter; Charles Buckley, cartoonist; George Kelso, cartoonist; Ruth Roberts, reporter; Elmon Caudill, reporter; Virginia York, reporter; Charlotte Schloss, reporter; Dorothy Henry, chief typist; Thelma Killen, assistant typist; Marcella Sims, assistant typist; Donovan Sloan, chief printer; Joe Abraham, assistant printer; Charles Woten, assistant printer; Charles Buckley, stencil designer; Charles Barbee, stencil designer; Edward Wintersole, stencil designer; John Oliver, advertising manager; and Leo Jones, circulation manager.

Those from the seventh grade taking journalism as a try-out course are: Freida Helfenbein, Paul Jones, Dorothy Sutton, Lee Oscar Fitch, Harold Cullum, Norman Rockwell and Joseph Conway.

GYPSY ROVER

Glenwood High School enjoyed its first musical comedy, "The Gypsy Rover," May 9th and 10th. It was pronounced a complete success, and helped to put Glenwood among the first class high schools.

Mrs. F. B. Winter directed the production and Mr. Henri Schnabl the orchestra. Miss Anna Levine presided at the piano.

The personnel of the cast was as follows: Rob, "The Gypsy Rover," Charles Barbee; Constance, Eloise Clark; Meg, Susie Pellegrinon; Zara, Daisy Wallace; Marto, Clifford Curry; Sinfo, Paul Jones; Lord Craven, Robert King; Sir George Martendale, Harlan Poole; Nina, Helen Chase; Captain Jerome, Edward Winter-sole; Sir Toby Lyon, Foster Elliott; McCorkle, Virgil Sturgell; Lackey, Alexander Wallace.

Fourteen gypsy children added greatly to the cast as did the society girls. A chorus of forty voices with orchestral accompaniment furnished a splendid background for the play.

MR. JOHN CONLEY

JOHN CONLEY was born in 1869 on the Conley farm at Rush-town, Ohio. He came to this community in 1891 when it was that time to this and has always been an honest business man and a respected citizen.

A LITTLE MESSAGE FROM
SOUTHERN BROTHERS

Dear Friend:

For four years you have been looking forward to receiving your high school diploma.

Graduation from high school marks an important point in the career of young men and women. It is really a turning point, for at this time important decisions are made affecting after life.

You now have what we call a general education—you know something of the orthodox 'ologies' and 'osophys', but your hands have not been trained nor your mind prepared to do the things that business requires—and you will be in business, no matter what vocation you may follow.

We want you to understand that, while our school is necessarily limited in its field, it does a few things in a superior way—in other words, we are specialists devoting all of our time, our energies, and our material resources to the teaching of a few things in a super-excellent manner.

We are adequately prepared to give you the advantage of skillful, practical, complete training for the duties of business life, which you must in the very nature of things, assume very soon.

We shall be happy to tell you more about our school. We know that a brief time spent with us will mean much to you all through the coming years. We know that your stay with us will be pleasant as well as profitable. You will have the opportunity to be associated with a fine group of young people—as fine a group as can be found in any college or university—and you will be under the direction of competent, earnest, sympathetic teachers, who will make your highest good their constant concern.

Yours very cordially,
S. C. SOUTHERN, President.
