East High School prides itself first and foremost on its students. The students at East are always aware that they are representatives East. This mutual respect is evident in all of the activities our students participate in – from sports to music to academics. The class of 2006 has always appreciated this special relationship and hopes that future classes will as well.

The class of 2006 has realized that, while we bring our own style to things, we still cherish the traditions of East High. Although we might wear our hair a little differently and dress a little more casually, we still try to uphold the legacy of being a Tartan. As we move out into the larger world, we take with us the values we found in the halls of our school.

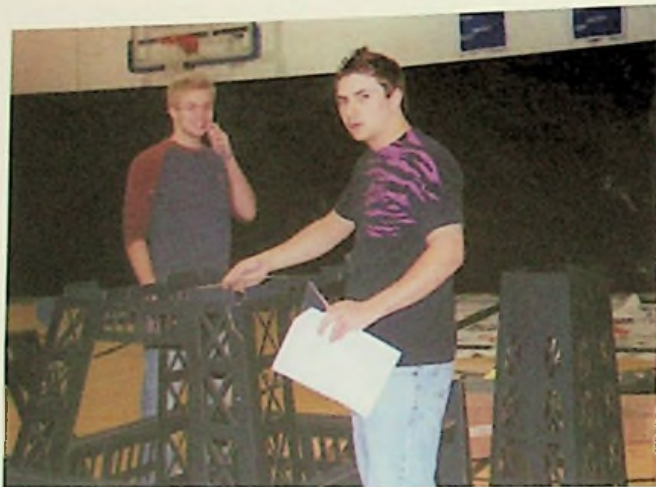

Top Left: A group of East students give their attention to the flag as they wait for the beginning of the pledge at the Veteran's Day assembly.

While waiting for the winner to be announced, Heather and the rest of the contestants join hands for support. Heather made a lot of great friendships during her River Days experience.

An Experience Worth a Lifetime

Heather stands proud during the professional part of the pageant. Heather had excellent poise throughout the pageant.

While Heather shows off her sportswear routine, she keeps her fans cheering. Heather was a guest on TRL for this segment.

Heather flashes her smile at the judges after finishing her speech. She was able to catch everyone's attention with her moving speech about her sister.

Not only was River Days 2005 a very big success, but it was also like the cherry on a sundae. Our candidate was Miss Heather Moore, and she is now our reigning Miss River Days Queen 2005. Heather is the first candidate to win since East became a community school and the first contestant from East to win in the past seven years. This year's River Days theme was "Broadway Musicals." Heather was given the musical Miss Saigon and received first place on handmade floats, as well as best overall float. Heather's efforts, along with the help of her parents and supporters, really paid off. Heather stayed busy all summer long preparing herself for the night of the pageant. She was very proud to represent East High School, and that night she left her fans, school, and community feeling very proud. Heather says, "It was a night I will never forget, and a moment I look back on every day." East High feels the same way, Heather.

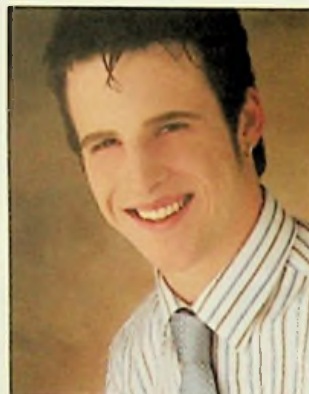

Heather and the other contestants try to take all the excitement, nerves, and pressure in before continuing with the rest of the pageant. Heather did a great job of keeping her cool through the entire night's performance.

After the winners were announced, Heather and her court joined for a ton of pictures. Heather definitely made her school and community proud that night.

A Class Worth Many Words

The Class of 2006 saw many changes occur during their school years. They started together, for the most part, at Harding Elementary, then moved on to Portsmouth East middle school. That lasted only a year before they became students at Sciotoville Community School. At last the class had a school that was as individual as they were.

The class has used the freedom that individuality gave them well. They have enjoyed being together, as well as cheering each other on in solo endeavors. They witnessed the inception of the ACE program, a victory at River Days, and other triumphs along the way. Through it all, they have realized that their time together is worth more than anything- it truly is worth 2006 words.

Junior classes often find themselves in awkward situations -- they are not quite the class of 2006, but they are also above everyone else. This can lead to some confusion. Luckily, the class of 2007 thrives on confusion. They enjoy making sense out of puzzles. This is what helps them get along with each other. Each member of the class is so different, it is hard for others to see how they can be so close. To them, it is not a secret or a puzzle. They just fit together. Even though their hectic schedules and varied interests sometimes make it difficult, this class finds a way to stay together and to get along. They hope that this is the legacy they will leave when they finally do become the senior class.

Sophomores: The Class of 2008

As the class of 2008 moves up the power rankings, they are learning to just be themselves. They are gaining new responsibilities, as well as new rewards. This year they will begin to start on sports teams, take solos in Madrigals and band, and take a larger role in the school. They are realizing that they do not have to change to suit other people -- that they, by themselves, are a class worth cheering.

Freshmen -- Class of 2009

Each freshman class feels differently. Some feel glad to have escaped junior high alive, others feel regret to have been demoted to the youngest. But many freshmen classes feel relieved to finally be in high school. They experience excitement, nervousness, and fear all at once, but it makes for a great sensation. For by being the youngest, the class once again has a chance to start over. They can make the right decisions this time and recreate themselves in they want. It's the year worth 2009 chances.

The Lady Tartan volleyball team had another year mixed success. The girls played hard under coach Sindee Williams, but things never quite came together at the same time. However, the younger girls on the team learned a lot and will take the things they learned from seniors Katie Peters, Sonya Mantel, Heather Moore, Stephanie Raynard, and Bridget Bear with them as they move on to the rest of their high school careers.

Top: The girls gather around Coach Williams during a break in the game. The entire team was always very supportive of each other. That support paid off on the court.

A Picture Is Worth Many Yards

Right: Senior Brent Downing moves in for a tackle as junior Paul Burchett moves in to help. One of the strong points of this year's team was the players' willingness and ability to help one another on difficult plays.

This year's football team had a rebuilding year. After losing several players to graduation, the team followed seniors Kevin Scott, Dustin Morrison, Brent Downing, Arthur Henderson, J.R. Little, Eric Sparks, Brandon Williams, Shane Craig, Alex Shope, and Jimmy Mills to a winning record. Coach Mike McCafferty was pleased with the performance of his players. Arthur Henderson continued to have a stand-out career at running back, earning interest from several colleges throughout Ohio. The younger players learned a lot from the graduating seniors, and things look great for another good season next year.

Football Homecoming '05

The 2005 football homecoming was held at Allard Park during halftime of the Notre Dame Game. Senior Danielle Daniels escorted by brother Danny and senior Zac Harris, was crowned queen. Senior attendant was Bridget Bear, escorted by Kaleb Wright. Hannah Shope, escorted by brother Alex, was the junior attendant. Alysia Adkins represented the sophomore class and was escorted by Scottie Hicks. Megan Miers was elected freshman attendant and was escorted by Keith McCreary. The queen and her court looked beautiful. A dance was held in the school gym after the game.

The cheerleaders end their cheer with a build to show off their muscular talents. They weren't afraid of anything!

Swimming '06

This year's swim team continued to improve. Several new competitors joined the team this year and were ready to compete. Under the instruction of coaches Jon Peters and Ted Bear, the group gained strength during their exciting meets. The team was highly competitive this year in several categories, which bodes well for the future. With more students participating every year, this sport will no doubt continue to grow at East.

A Night Worth a Thousand Smiles

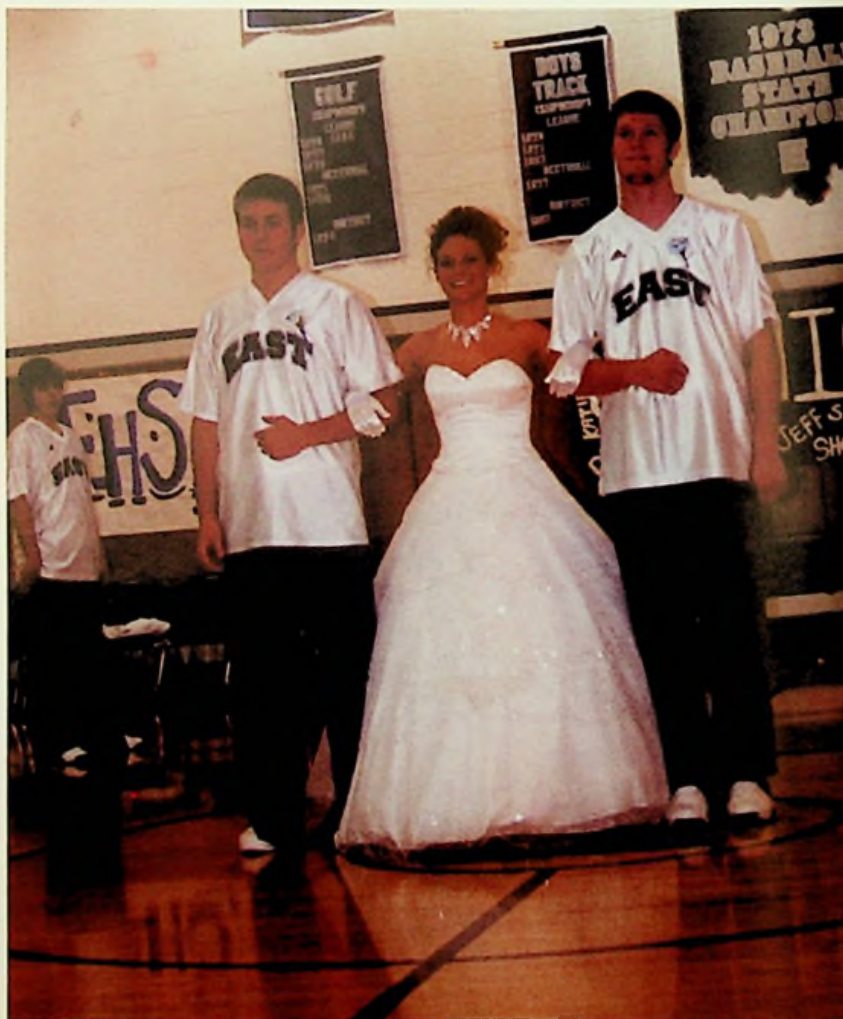

Senior Katie Peters was crowned this year's basketball homecoming queen. Katie was escorted by Shane Craig and Alex Shope. Senior attendant was Stephanie Raynard, escorted by Kevin Scott. Lacey Price represented the junior class and was escorted by Nathan Williams. Alex Peters was chosen to represent the sophomores, and she was escorted by Jeffrey Swick. Freshman attendant Samantha Henson was escorted by Adam Jones. Shayla Rosenogle and Dustin Pack served as flowergirl and crownbearer.

Running 2006 Steps

The East High Track squad fought hard all season, and they all improved throughout the year. They were led by Senior Captain Kevin Scott, and Shane Craig. Their leadership proved to be helpful to the younger members of the team.

The entire team ran, hurdled, and jumped to the best of their abilities. They all beat their own expectations, and improved on their personal best throughout the year. Overall it was a great year for the East High Track team.

Worth All of the Hard Work

The 2006 East High School Lady Tartans softball team:

The 2006 Lady Tartans softball team did a great job of coming together as a team and working hard to improve. Under first year coach Adam Bailey, the girls adjusted to a new, more aggressive style of softball. They looked to their seniors for leadership. Bridget Bear, Katie Peters, Sonya Mantel, and Tomorrow Norman were happy to be there for them.

Although their record wasn't exactly undefeated, the team made great progress together. The girls were willing to try new methods to improve their swings, as well as new forms for their slides. They spent the year proving that a little desire and a lot of hard work can result in great improvement.

Junior Kerissa Bennett awaits a warm-up throw from her pitcher. Kerissa was a hard-working member of the East softball team and was always ready with a quick throw to first.

Sophomore Niki Ramey awaits a pitch. Niki was always a hitting threat when she stepped to the plate.

Sophomore Alex Peters and seniors Bridget Bear and Sonya Mantel enjoy one of their last softball games together. These girls were valuable assets to the team because of their talent and personalities.

Coach Amanda Cook and junior Anetta Adkins show their sense of humor in the dugout. They were always there to pick up the morale of the team.

Freshman Courtney Born and junior Brooke Staggs flash their pearly whites from the dugout.

Coach Bailey gathers the team together for a pep talk before the game. Mr. Bailey tried his best to motivate the girls for each game.

Breant Downing, Nathan Williams, and Kevin Scott stand and smile for the picture takers. They were happy to be out of class.

Hannah Shope stands to hear her accomplishments as she is inducted. She worked very hard to join her brother in the Society.

Brigitte Ramsey lights the middle candle during the induction ceremony. She practiced many times to ensure she did not mess up.

Students Worth Honoring

The new inductees raise their hand as they are sworn in. This has been a tradition for many years of the National Honor Society.

President Katie Peters reads off the accomplishments of an inductee.

Snuffy Smith stops for a pause during his speech. He was a terrific quest speaker.

Brittany Gullion stands as she gets inducted. Despite her facial expression she was ecstatic.

Brooke waits patiently to join the stage with the other honor society members. This was a goal of hers.

Awards Ceremony

The Valedictorians and the Salutatorian show off their medals. Brigitte Ramsey, Sherrie Morrison, Katie Peters, and Kevin Scott.

Kevin Scott, Alex Shope, Sherrie Morrison, Katie Peters, and Kara Vaught show their diploma with honors.

Kerissa Bennett is the Hugh O'Brian Youth Leadership Seminar Representative.

Tiffany Davis receives the Exemplary Attendance Award.

John Hurley is going to Buckeye Boys State.

Bridget Bear passes down the Junior Cup to Lacey Price.

Brigitte Ramsey is the recipient of the Chris Dunham Award.

Madrigals -- Stepping to Words

The Madrigals

The Madrigals show their moves as they "strut" their way across the stage. East is very proud of the success of the Madrigals.

Emily Bear, Sherrie Morrison, and Katie Peters performing during "Stray Cat Strut."

Under the direction of Mrs. Rhonda Mays, the Madrigals are an auditioned group of singers/dancers, 2 managers, and 3 instrumentalists. Mr. Scott Brehm assists Mrs. Mays with the instrumentalists.

Along with performing numerous times for the community, they also competed in 5 different competitions throughout the year. This year they "stepped" onto the stage with a show chosen by Mrs. Mays and their choreographer, David Legg. Their show included the songs, "Steppin' Out", "One Step," "Stray Cat Strut", "Stand", and a "Walk This Way" medley.

The guys look classy as they patiently wait for their turn to sing during the ballad.

Marching a Thousand Steps: Band 2005-2006

The East High Marching Regiment again had a terrific year under band director Scott Brehm. The students had a great competition season, placing in several different events. The Annual Blue and White Competition enjoyed a new look at Valley High School, the new venue for the festival. Through hard work and dedication, the band once again made East High proud.

A Night Worth a Thousand Dances -- Prom '06

Prom 2006 had a theme of "Here's to the Night" and decorations centered on Paris and the Eiffel Tower. Seniors Heather Moore and Arthur Henderson (right) were named our prom queen and king by the teachers in attendance. They, like the rest of the guests at the dance, had a great time dancing beneath the twinkling lights of a Parisian spring night (even if it was really just our beloved gym dressed up a bit!). The juniors and seniors had a great time and were appreciative of the hard work and dedication shown by the junior members of the prom committee. It was a night to remember.

Below: Seniors Zack Harris and Alex Shope model the latest in male formalwear. These two were dressed to kill!

Above: Tiea Wilkinson, Curtis Hall, and Anetta Adkins enjoy a moment together. Their table had a blast!

Graduation '06

East High School's graduation ceremony upheld our proud tradition of dignified and solemn events that put the focus on our graduates. This year, as always, graduation day belonged to our seniors. It was a day for laughter, tears, hope, and, for some, a little regret. Valedictorians Brigitte Ramsey, Sherrie Morrison, and Katie Peters joined Salutatorian Kevin Scott in delivering words of friendship and inspiration to their classmates. As family members and friends looked on fondly, the class of 2006 joined the many classes that came before it in taking up the torch of becoming a source of pride for East.

Class of 2006

Far Left: Valedictorian Sherrie Morrison prepares to take the stage. Sherrie's speech reminded people of the importance of challenging their minds.

Left: Salutatorian Kevin Scott delivers his address. Kevin's confident personality came through in his speech.

Left: Amy Worthington gives her congratulations to Co-Valedictorians Brigitte Ramsey and Katie Peters. This tight-knit class really supported each other.

Far Left: Valedictorian Brigitte Ramsey heads for the stage as her parents watch from the background. They were so proud!

Left: Valedictorian Katie Peters eyes the stage nervously as she approaches. She had nothing to worry about -- her speech was great!

Right: An excited group of senior girls discuss the ceremony that is about to take place. All of the seniors felt a little nervous before graduation.

Right: Jeffrey Swick, Brandon Williams, Britni McCann, Kevin Scott, and Shane Keaton prove that they are a dangerous group, even in their graduation gowns and wearing flowers!

Right: Jimmy Odle lends Tiera Wilkinson a hand with her graduation cap. Those things were difficult to keep attached to your head!

Above Left: Shane Craig tips his hat at family members as her prepares to line up for the ceremony.

Jeffrey it's hard to believe this day is already here, it seems like just yesterday you were that little boy we were putting on the head start bus. Words can not express how proud we are of you. Despite the many sorrows life has recently brought your way, you found the strength to keep pushing forward & achieve success in all areas of your young life. Your kind heart and level head are only a few of the things that make you such an exceptional young man. Love, Mom, Dad, Jennifer, Grandpa George, Mamaw Lynda & Grandma & Grandpa Country.

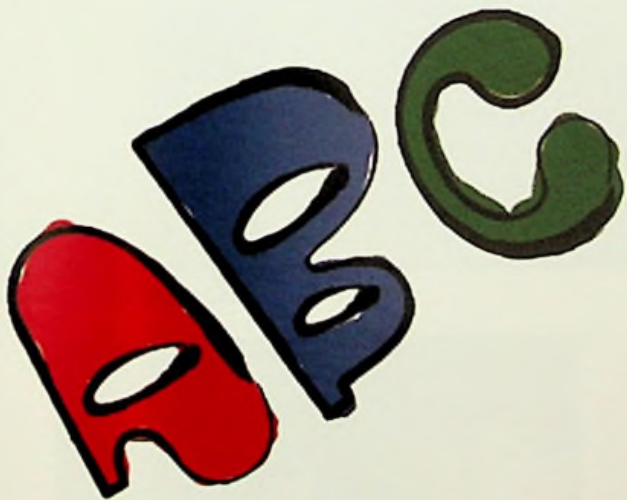

Having you was the best thing, we have ever done. Watching you grow was our greatest joy. You have always been our shining star. Good Luck at The Ohio State University.

Family Night

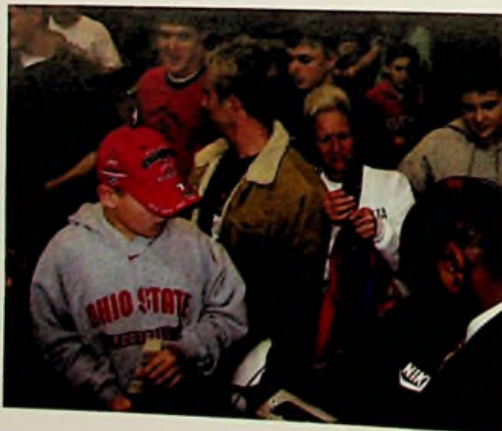

Family Night 2006 was a great success with guest speaker Archie Griffin. Mr. Griffin, graduate of The Ohio State University, is the only two time winner of the Heismann Trophy. He spent a lot of time taking pictures and signing autographs for faculty and students.

The night also included a raffle with the grand prize of a 20" flat screen television won by Mrs. Amy Morrison. Many other prizes were given out as well.

Family night was a great opportunity for parents to get involved with their children and their school.

2006 Votes Cast

Tartan Idol Winner
Kaleb Wright

In the second season of Tartan Idol, students performed in front of three judges to test their vocal talents in hopes of becoming the next Tartan Idol. Tartan Idol is a production of Mr.ENZ's 7th period media class. The contest lasted 6 weeks and the students were narrowed down from 20 contestants to 3 finalists. Heartthrob Kaleb Wright won the crowd over with his amazing voice and country charm to claim his spot as Tartan Idol 2006. The media class would like to thank all the judges, Mrs. Mays, Mr. Brehm, and Mr. Allen, and all of the 2006 contestants for making this year's Tartan Idol such an entertaining experience.

Chelsey Phillips sings as a finalist on Tartan Idol.

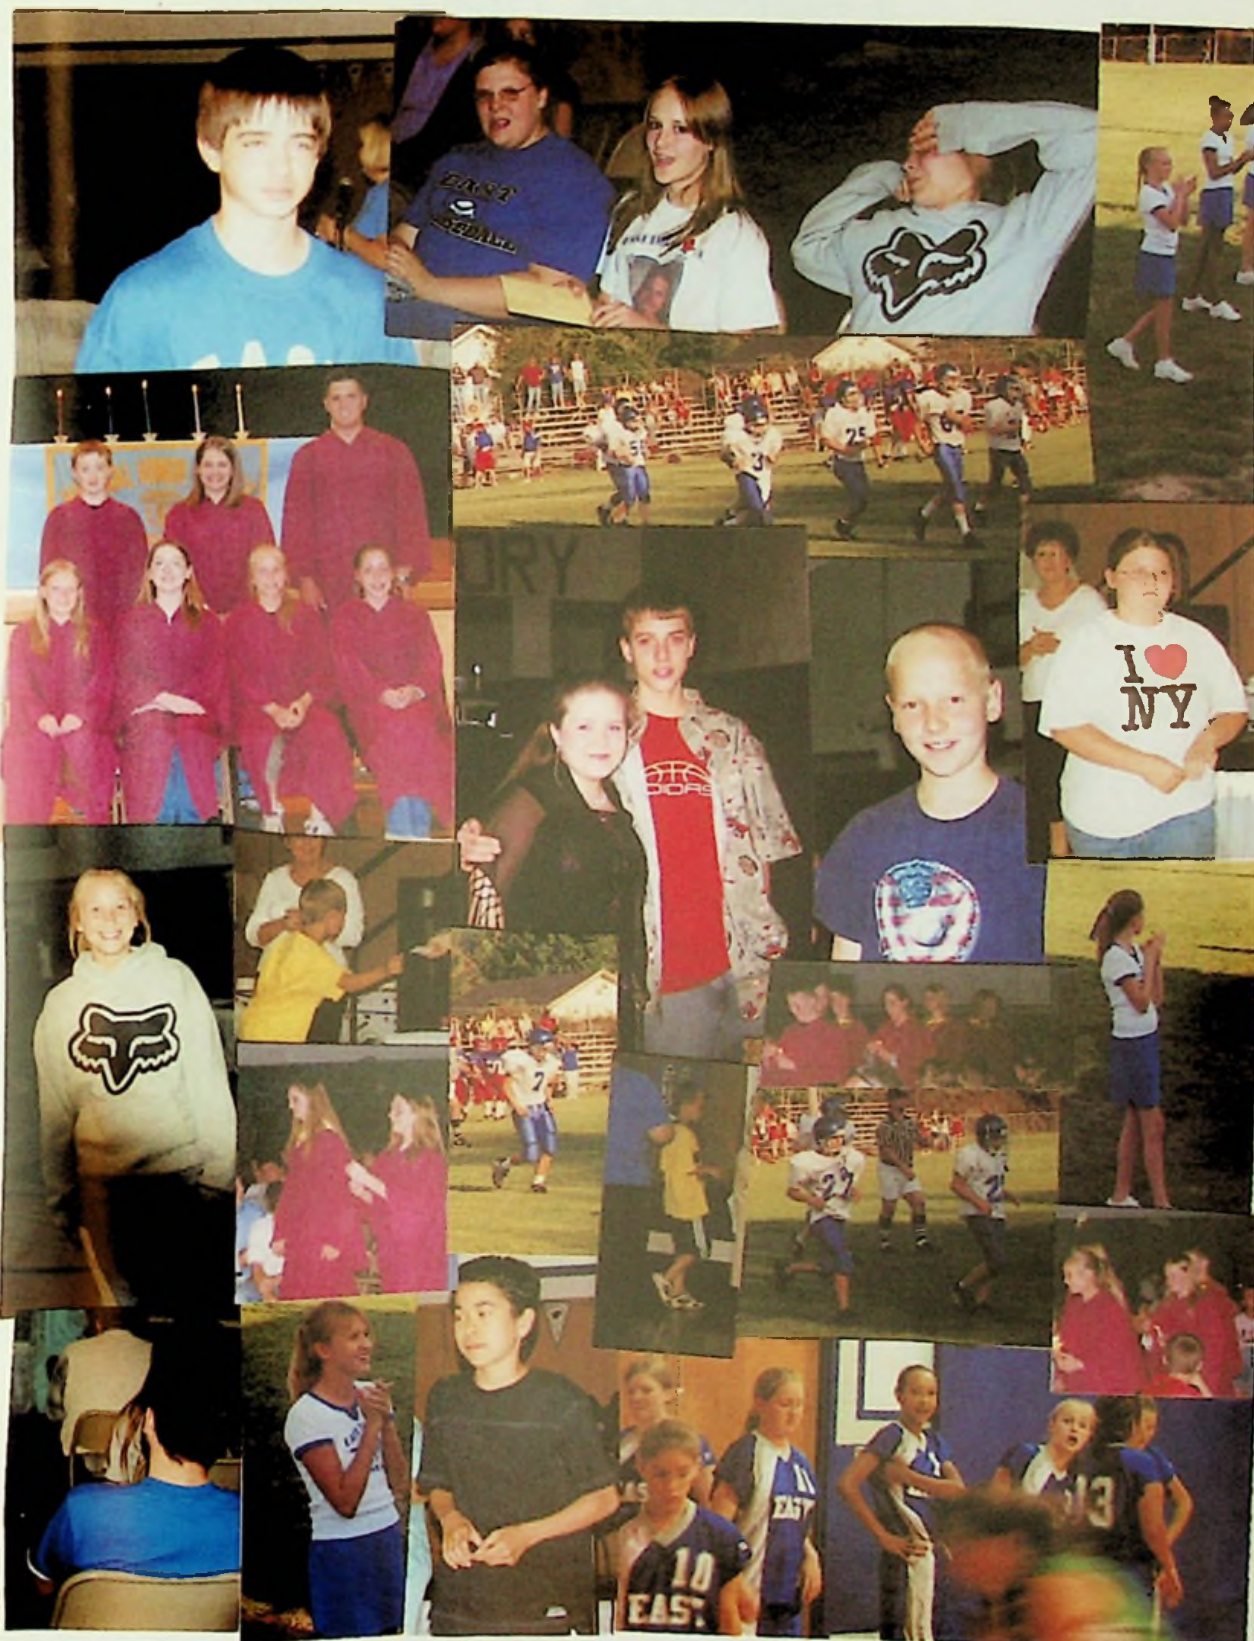

Host Sherrie Morrison stands with all 3 contestants as she reads the results

Finalist Hannah Shope performs "This One's for the Girls" as she is joined on stage by Danielle and Danny Daniels.

Good Luck
Class of 2006!!!

The 2006 Tartan "Spirit" Yearbook, printed by Taylor Publishing Company, issued 165 copies and sold for $34.00. The book measures 7 and 3/4 by 10 and 1/2 and contains 120 pages. The headlines, body copies, and captions were mostly written in Typewriter font.

The 2006 yearbook staff would like to thank Alan Swank, our sales representative, for his assistance and most of all patience in the production of the yearbook. We thank the faculty and staff for such a memorable year. Most of all we would like to thank Mrs. Jennifer Jones, our advisor, for such a successful yearbook. It may have taken longer than expected but the important thing is that it was finished thanks to certain people putting forth extra time and effort.
