THE TIGER SILHOUETTE 1971

Glenwood High School

New Boston, Ohio

ABOUT THE ENDSHEETS:

The snowscene is an original watercolor entitled "Father and Son."

The smaller dog is the father and, of course, the larger one is the son. Both dogs were mine and I loved them both.

The scene is local (Pine Creek area). I feel that since I have been the adviser of "The Tiger Silhouette" since 1952 that some of you might enjoy an original painting of this area and also that some of you, in the years to come, might find a bit of nostalgia in a passing American scene.

Sincerely,

I. D. Washington

Autumn to winter, winter into spring,

Spring into summer, summer into fall, -

So rolls the changing year, and so we change;

Motion so swift, we know not that we move.

Dianah Mulock Craik - THE IMMUTABLE

Dedication

Mr. I. D. Washington has long been a part of the New Boston School System. A graduate of Glenwood High School, he holds two degrees - a Bachelor of Fine Arts from Miami University and a Bachelor of Science in Education from Ohio State University. After completing his college education, he returned to his Alma Mater to begin his teaching career. At the end of next year, he plans to retire.

Mr. Washington's wife, the former Mabel Rolfe, and their daughter, Teri, are both graduates of Glenwood. Mr. and Mrs. Washington have one grandson, Michael.

From 1952 through 1971 Mr. Washington served in the capacity of yearbook adviser, a position which requires a great deal of time and responsibility. There are many students who will always remember him as an outstanding teacher of art and English. It has been said that "a teacher affects eternity; he can never tell where his influence stops." To our teacher, adviser, and friend, Mr. I. D. Washington, we dedicate THE 1971 TIGER SILHOUETTE.

Class History

It all began September 9, 1967. We 68 freshmen were ready to begin our high school careers. To lead the class, we chose Phyllis Slone, President; Patty Grant, Vice President; Barb Reinhardt, Secretary; Vickie Holsinger, Treasurer; and Bill Newberry, Reporter. We chose as our Homecoming Attendant the lovely Debbie Justice. We were under the supervision of Mr. Bond, Mr. Rowland, and Mr. Simpson.

Decreasing in size, we 58 sophomores entered school on September 3, 1968. Playing the leading roles were Diana Day, President; Bev Sparks, Vice President; Barb Reinhardt, Secretary; Vickie Holsinger, Treasurer; and Rusty Milliron, Reporter. Maria Pellegrinon was chosen as our Homecoming Attendant. Our sponsors remained the same.

Entering the junior class were 53 fun-loving students on September 2, 1969. We chose to represent us Pam Thompson, President; Debbie Justice, Vice President; Bev Sparks, Secretary; Vickie Holsinger, Treasurer; and Dave Fitch, Reporter. Our Homecoming Attendant was the pretty Lily McKenzie. In November our class rings arrived and we strolled the halls with the biggest heads ever, for we were the most envied by the lower classmen. For Christmas, Bill Newberry was chosen as Yule King and Jane Clevenger was runner-up for Yule Queen. One of the highlights of our junior year was the class play, "Get Witch Quick," directed by Miss Karen Triggs, and presented on March 13, 1970. It was a great success. We chose as our Yearbook King and Queen Candidates the perfect pair, Dave Fitch and Jerri Fraley. We honored the senior class with a great prom entitled "Shower of Stars" held on May 22, 1970, at the Elks' City Club. We were now under the management of Mr. Bond and Mr. Groh.

We had an unfortunate summer after the death of one of our dear classmates, Rick Eldridge. We never dreamed it could happen to one of us.

After the tragedy we 53 seniors made our final performance through the halls of Glenwood High School. To take us through this final year, we chose Debbie Justice, President; Pam Thompson, Vice President; Barb Reinhardt, Secretary; Vickie Holsinger, Treasurer; and Jane Clevenger, Reporter. We were still advised by Mr. Bond and Mr. Groh. Vickie Holsinger reigned as Homecoming Queen and Debbie Justice was featured as Senior Attendant. Our class play, "Room For One More," was also a great success. It was presented on December 10, 1970, and was directed by Mrs. Cleo P. Rittenhouse. Our Christmas King and Queen were Dave Fitch and Jerri Fraley. Chosen as Yearbook King and Queen were none other than Mutt and Jeff, alias Bob Horsley and Gail Baker. On April 22, 24 loaded seniors, rather 24 seniors loaded the bus that was bound for Washington, D. C. and Gettysburg, Pennsylvania. We were very thankful to have Mr. Cullum and Mr. Groh accompany us. On May 14, 1971, we were honored by the juniors with a great Prom entitled "Moonlight and Roses." It was held at the American Legion Hall. Our Baccalaureate was held on May 23, 1971, and Commencement on May 26, 1971. Kathy Pottenger holds the honor as Valedictorian and Marilyn Sutton as Salutatorian. And now, what was once a dream has become a reality. We are leaving the halls of Glenwood High School. But maybe it is a good thing because Mr. Pellegrinon and Mr. Cullum couldn't stand to lose any more hair!

Class Prophecy

I was awakened this morning by a phone call informing me that I had won a tour of the world. I left at once for Cincinnati, where I planned to spend the day with Pam Thompson, official scorekeeper of the Reds. The only transportation was the New Boston Cab Co., operated by Wanda Potts, who had taken over Dewey's business. Wanda stopped at the 76 station, where Dale Montgomery and Ken Collier were employed as grease monkeys. Next stop was Shorty and Dee's Bar, owned by Vickie Holsinger; Pam Martin was the chief bouncer.

At the Queen City, I heard that Terry Wadkins and Larry Stevens were playing football with the Bengals. Bill Newberry had dropped out of pre-med at Anderson to take up secretarial work -- Jane Clevenger was more his "type." At the airport I found Sharon Adkins standing on a stool taking in loot -- ticket money that is. Boarding the jet, I was welcomed by two lovely stewardesses, Connie Cline and Judy Combs. Judy said that Linda Howell, after excessively bleaching her hair, was starring in a new T.V. series, "The Bald Ones." Taking my seat, I saw Debbie Sizemore, star of the new movie, "I Told You So."

Soon I arrived in Cuba, where Kathy Pottenger was president of the world-wide "I Declare Club." I also found Joe Stanley selling Cadillacs. In Brazil, Nancy Cooper was working on a farm, picking up pap-paws.

I headed for London, where Debbie Williamson was head of Merle Norman Cosmetics. Deb said that Lana Mathis and Debbie Justice were now manufacturing little Carrs. In France, Randy Peirce was now the U.S. delegate to the Paris Peace Talks. Marilyn Sutton, the All-American Girl, was representing the U.S. in the Miss Universe Pageant in Rome. Bill Wright had joined his brothers, Orville and Wilbur, in Germany and had just invented the first "Flying Thunderbird." In Poland I found Kevin Lodwick, who had become a full-time Pollock. Debbie Justice was chief waitress at Cox's Imperial House in Sweden. In Transylvania, Jerry Gill was selling his greaseless hair tonic "Gill-Cream" ... a little dab will do ya! Gail Baker and Bob Horsley were raising their own tribe of pygmies in Africa. John Keeney and Steve Williams, former Black Panther and SDS leaders, were living in Algeria; they had settled down to a quiet life of making flame-proof American flags. John told me that Don Rice was commander of South Vietnamese Troops in Montreal. Nannie Slone was leader of the Ku Klux Klan, Ethiopia Branch. Pam Ferguson was a missionary in Mozambique.

Jim Stidham and Butch Weaver were in the sweater manufacturing business in Afghanistan. Butch was the chief weaver. Jim said Danny Murray had never left Gettysburg, but he didn't tell me why. Next I set out for Siberia, a really cool place, where I discovered Susan Groh, a veterinarian who treated stool pigeons. In Shanghai, Maria Pellegrinon was scheduling trains on the N and W. Maria said that Patty Grant and Lily McKenzie owned a chain of luxury motels called the "Lily Patties." Then I headed for Okinawa. There, employed at the zoo, were Bev Sparks and Barb Reinhardt. Near the peacock cage was a sign: "When the peacocks are away, Bev stays!" Barb was in charge of feeding the Bears.

Loren Hardin owned a chain of Moore's Stores in East Pakistan. Rusty Milliron and Bob Stanley had written a book, How to Be Absent More Than Thirty Days and Still Graduate. In Australia, Diana Hurt and Carolyn Harr had discovered a new disease, Censor. It only Hurts for a little while, the rest of the time it Harrs. In New Guinea, Jerri Fraley and Dave Fitch were agricultural advisers, specializing in chrysanthemums. When the plane landed for refueling in Hawaii, I discovered that Diana Day and Randy Dunn had married and written a song, "When Day is Dunn." As the plane departed, never to return, I looked back at the horizon and saw Kris Phillips sitting in the beautiful sunset.

In Memoriam

"I'll Be There"

The typical junior is proud of his standing as an upperclassman. Three-fourths of his high school career is past. He will never forget the experiences he has lived through, especially the thrill of receiving his long-awaited class ring. But he still looks ahead to his goal of being a senior, and he realizes soon "I'll Be There."

"Long, Winding Road"

The sophomore has already passed one milestone in his high school career. He finds that he has more responsibility now. Yet he still faces many additional hours of study before he reaches the summit of his years in school. He wonders if the "Long, Winding Road" will ever end.

At left: Sophomore Brenda Williams cheers our Number 1 Tigers on to another victory.

"Where Do I Begin?"

The freshman year is a first in many ways. Each student must choose his own academic courses. He also has the opportunity of joining many high school clubs. Confronted by these important decisions, the freshman wonders, "Where Do I Begin?"

"There isn't a Mrs. Bill Archer here!"

"Leaping Lazarus!"

"I won't have a woman interfering in my way of life!"

"Bill, Did you pinch me?"

When Bill Archer receives word he has won $10,000 prize money from Women's Life Magazine, he must find a wife in order to collect. Finally, he wins Nola Starr, who is the editor of Women's Life.

"Grace wants a man who will meet her half way."

"Danny, if you don't help me do some work, you can get another date for the dance Saturday!"

"Come on Bill, a conversation is the quickest way to get acquainted."

"New Boston's Young Tigers S.O.C. Champs"

... that was the newspaper headline when our Tigers cinched the title. But winning the S.O.C. crown was not the only honor received by the squad. New Boston Council passed a resolution congratulating the team members for their outstanding performances. In addition, every member of the starting five received Southern Ohio Conference recognition. Ed Thompson, John Whisman, and Mike Dunham were named to the All-S.O.C. team. Joe McKelvey and Junior Williams received Honorable Mention. New Boston also swept the two highest Conference honors as Ed Thompson was named S.O.C. Player of the Year and Honorary Captain of the squad, while Coach Steve Jenkins was elected S.O.C. Coach of the Year.

The team will miss John Whisman next year, but all students of Glenwood, as well as all Portsmouth area residents, will be expecting great things of the Tigers in the future. The words of the cheer we yelled so often in 1970-71 still apply: "We're proud of our team!" TIGERS ARE NUMBER ONE!!!
